WORK OF CHARITY IN THIS COUNTY

More Than Nine Hundred Families Receiving Aid in Stokes—500,000 North Carolinians Provided with the Necessaries of Life.

Many people will doubtless be surprised to know that more than 500 Stokes county families are receiving aid from the Red Cross and R. C. C. charitable organizations.

These figures are released by Dr. Fred W. Morrison, director of the Governor's office of Relief, Raleigh. A total of 122,281 families in various counties in the state were given help in the month of December. It is estimated by Dr. Morrison that 143,323 families will require aid in January, and 152,272 in February. In December $1,028,926 was spent, of this amount 50 per cent. was received from Federal agencies, while about 50 per cent. came from the Red Cross or local relief organizations. Dr. Morrison points out that not all families who have been aided were completely dependent upon charity. In many instances they have been given only Red Cross flour, and only clothing for children entering school.

In comparison with the aid which Stokes is receiving, some other counties are listed below, as follows:

Surry.	1,300 families.
Yadkin.	203 families.
Durham.	2,194 families.
Forsyth.	2,981 families.
Guilford.	3,082 families.
Rockingham.	1,826 families.
Wake.	5,586 families.
Cumberland.	4,094 families.
Mecklenburg.	6,035 families.

MARRIED IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Mr. Robert Chetway and Miss Alice Broadkin were married at noon Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Broadkin, Rev. M. L. Gassaway officiating.

The groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft-hearted old fool who takes up his bad checks instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs.

The bride is a skinny, fast little idiot who has been kissed and handled by every boy in town since she was twelve years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, sucks cigarettes in secret, and drinks man corn liquor when she is out joy-riding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook, sew or keep house.

The house was newly plastered for the wedding and the exterior newly painted, thus appropriately carrying out the decorative scheme, for the groom was newly plastered, also and the bride newly painted.

The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. His pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number eight patent leather shoes matched his state in tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle grease polish of his hair. In addition to his fag he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a dun for

Philathea Class Meets With Miss Meadows

King, Jan. 25.—The Philathea class of the King Moravian church held the January meeting with Miss Maxine Meadows.

After a very interesting program, a short business session was held, during which time new officers were elected.

During the social hour interesting games and contests were engaged in. Mrs. John McGee, Miss Estelle Alley and Miss Dorothy Meadows were awarded prizes for their skill in the solutions.

Tempting refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostesses.

King, Jan. 25.—Oliver Thomas, of High Point, spent Sunday with relatives here.

James Rierson has leased the Standard Service Station at the corner of Depot and Main streets. He opened up for business Monday.

Lester O. Pulliam, of Durham, spent the week-end with relatives and friends.

The wheat crop in this section is looking very promising at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Love, of Winston-Salem, were visitors here Sunday.

The King high school played Germantown a double header basketball game in the King Gymnasium Friday evening. The King boys defeated Germantown 29 to 22. While the King girls lost to Germantown, score being 32 and 25.

S. G. Slate, of Winston-Salem, spent Sunday here the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Slate, in Pilot View.

Prof. Carl M. Felts was given a hearing Saturday before Justice of the Peace Hubert Westmoreland, at Pinnacle on a warrant sworn out by Ernest Barr charging him with assault on Barr's son. The case was dismissed at Barr's cost. This litigation grew out of a whipping administered by the professor for violation of his rules.

C. O. Boyles, Jr., who holds a position with Brown & Williamson Tobacco Co. at Winston-Salem, spent Sunday with his family here.

The stork brought a new baby girl to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wagoner Friday.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mrs. Joe Gibson, who has been seriously sick at her home three miles north of town for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Macencup, of Tobaccoville, were among the visitors here Saturday.

Decided improvement is noted in the condition of G. G. Boles, aged confederate veteran, who has been very sick at his home near here for the past several days.

E. W. Carroll, prominent planter of the Neatman section, was here on business Monday.

Miss Fannie Goff, who has been spending a few days with relatives here, has returned to her home at Winston-Salem.

Frank R. Stone, county auditor, has returned after an absence of several days' sickness with flu at his home at Ashbury.

Deputy Sheriff Moses Carroll was here Saturday from Germantown.

the ring and his usual look of imbecility.

The bride wore some sort of white thing that left most of her legs sticking out at one end and her bony upper end sticking out at the other.

The young people will make their home with the bride's parents—which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies and then she will fake in washing.

Postscript: This may be the last issue of The Tribune, but my life ambition has been to write up one wedding and tell the unvarnished truth. Now that it is done, death can have no sting.—Bob Quillen in the Fountain Inn (S. C.) Tribune.

TWO BLOCKADERS AND TWO STILL

CAPTURED BY DEPUTY SHERIFFS SMITH, RAY AND WALL TUESDAY—ONE MAN IN JAIL, TWO BARRELS BEER DESTROYED.

Deputy Sheriffs Bert Smith, Carl Ray and Mack Wall made two respective hauls Tuesday, nabbing two colored men in the act, and cutting down two barrels of beer. Two copper stills were brought in, while one man was committed to jail.

Deputy Bert Smith, enroute to Walnut Cove Tuesday, was flagged down by a man on the highway between Masten Mabe's and Cleve M. Bryde's. The officer was informed of a still in operation nearby. Securing the assistance of Deputy Carl Ray, Smith returned and found the outfit south of the highway a half mile or more from the spot where he was furnished with the information. Fire was in the furnace, but the operators were missing. Smith and Ray, after destroying two barrels of beer, secured the still.

Down in the Dry Hollow section, below Walnut Cove, the same day, Deputy Mack Wall found a still in full blast, and captured it with two colored men were at the still. One of the men, John Henry Brown, was brought to jail. The other man, whose name was not learned, arranged bond.

CONSOLIDATION NOT POPULAR NOW

Raleigh, Jan. 24.—One movement looking toward consolidation of counties as an economic measure met untimely death in the House. It provided for a commission, composed of the governor, the lieutenant governor and the chief justice of the supreme court, with two others named by the Governor, to study and make a report to the 1935 General Assembly on possible consolidations.

A movement two years ago to consolidate Forsyth and Stokes counties failed. Efforts to get counties together in the manner suggested have so far met with no success.

Governor Ehringhaus, in his inaugural address suggested legislation, which would provide "full opportunity for voluntary consolidation of counties through popular approval in every county affected," also for consolidating county and city or town and for consolidating particular functions. The bill killed in the House, however, was not his measure.

In 1931 two laws were enacted, one permitting joint operation of jails, the other of county homes, by two or more counties. Legislation will be sought to permit a similar provision for health work, which is now being conducted in Forsyth, Yadkin and Stokes counties without legislative sanction.

This sort of joint action is looked upon as a possible way of finally getting county consolidations, a union of functions of this nature and finally breaking down the opposition to wiping out county lines and losing identity. But, its going to be a task, even in this period of seeking to lower governmental costs.

DEATH OF MRS. LAURA DAVIS

THIS EXCELLENT LADY PASSED AWAY SATURDAY NIGHT. AT THE AGE OF 79—BURIAL AT DANBURY MONDAY.

Mrs. Laura Davis, aged 79, died at the home of her son, C. E. Davis, in Walnut Cove, Saturday night about 9 o'clock after a lingering illness. She was the widow of the late Thos. J. Davis, of Danbury, one of Stokes county's best citizens.

Mrs. Davis, had been practically an invalid for several years. Recently her condition had taken a decided turn for the worse, and a week ago she was reported to be at the point of death, but later she rallied and seemed better. However, on Saturday she again began to sink, and the end was known to be near. Saturday night about 9 o'clock, she breathed her last, peacefully and quietly.

Mrs. Davis was a fine type of that old revered Southern womanhood whose ideals are truth and virtue, kindness, modesty and sympathy.

She was a consecrated member of the M. E. Church for a great many years. The funeral and burial services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Pihol, of Winston-Salem.

She is survived by four sons and one daughter, as follows: C. E. and H. H. Davis, of Walnut Cove; G. C. Davis, of Winston-Salem; L. C. Davis, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. R. L. Ray, of Danbury.

Funeral services were conducted from the home in Walnut Cove at 2 P. M., after which the burial took place at the Danbury cemetery, attended by a large crowd of friends, besides the relatives.

Representative Everett After Reynolds Company

Raleigh, Jan. 24.—Representative Everett, of Durham, rose in the House today to take issue with S. Clay Williams, president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, in regard to his stand on taxation.

The Reynolds company has $300,000,000 worth of intangible property on which it now pays no taxes, Everett said.

Under his bill, levying tax on a basis of the market value of capital stock instead of the amount of money used in operating a business, that intangible property would bear its fair share of taxes, he declared.

Williams had appeared before the finance committee Monday and opposed Everett's bill.

Byron Flynt Arrested.

Byron Flynt, of Beaver Island township, was arrested last week charged with violation of the prohibition law.

New School Driveway.

A convenient new driveway has been surveyed and is being built around the Danbury High School.

W. E. Collins, of Francisco, was Tuesday. Mr. Collins reports quite a good deal of sickness, mostly flu, in the Francisco section.

Scatter Grain Straw Over Tobacco Bed

A thin coating of grain straw scattered over the tobacco plant bed at the rate of about 25 or 30 pounds to each 100 square yards of bed will hold moisture, keep the plants warmer, prevent frost injury.

"This practice of using a light covering of straw over the tobacco plant beds is an old, well established custom among good tobacco growers in the northern part of Guilford County and the folks there have found it much superior to the other method of preparing beds with poles or plank and covering," says E. Y. Floyd, extension tobacco specialist at State College, who recommends the plan to other growers of the State.

In using this plan, the beds should be fertilized, prepared and sowed as they are now. Just as soon as the beds have been packed, add the light covering of straw, broadcasted thinly and uniformly. Never leave too much straw at one place. Then the canvass is placed over the straw and pegged to the ground with small pegs placed at an angle about two feet apart around the edge of the bed.

In addition to keeping the plants warmer and holding moisture, Mr. Floyd says the flea bugs are not so bad where this method is used. With this thin covering of straw in place, no poles or planks are needed about the bed. Then too, Floyd says, the plants are much earlier and more uniform in stand. If the weather is dry, the straw should not be removed except for "grassing" the beds. Then put the straw back in place. In wet weather, after the plants get big enough to cover the ground, it might be an advantage to take off the straw.

Mr. Floyd has never seen any frost injury with this type of bed. It is inexpensive and has been effective. When other growers were suffering from attacks of blue mold, the upper Guilford folks had plenty of strong plants.

Mrs. O. W. Marshall and Mrs. N. E. Pepper will jointly entertain the Fine Arts Club Tuesday.

Terry Brown was here Wednesday from Hardbank.

Bob Finchum was in town Wednesday from Route 1.

N. E. Wall visited Winston-Salem Wednesday.

Ed Smith, of Lawsonville, was in town Monday.

Bud Tilley, of Pinnacle, was here Monday.

Paris Pepper is on the sick list this week, with an attack of flu.

W. W. George, of Francisco, was in town Monday.

MORE RED CROSS FLOUR ARRIVES

ADDITIONAL FEEDSTUFF FOR THE HUNGRY READY FOR DISTRIBUTION.

Another car load of Red Cross flour arrived Tuesday and is being distributed through Red Cross channels in the county.

Prof. Carson, who is superintendent of Stokes schools and ex-officio supervisor of Federal and Red Cross relief in the county, advises that since last summer 4,800 sacks of flour have been furnished by these agencies to relieve the needy in Stokes County.

Prof. Carson's charitable activities as head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's relief work in addition to his educational duties is keeping him busy these days. He informs the Reporter that about 20 projects in aid of unemployment are in process in the county now, including work on school grounds, church yards and cemeteries, and that the weekly payroll for this work amounts to about $500.00.
