Hon. E. M. Spivey, of Winston-Salem, addressed the people of King on the very important subject of prohibition Saturday night. It was a masterly and convincing array of facts touching the horrible results of strong drink. He was most happily introduced by a few pertinent remarks by Dr. Ernest M. Griffin.

Mrs. Emmitt Hall, who was hit by a car being driven by Joel Y. Southern, in front of her home on Main street last Monday, is getting on as well as could be expected. She sustained a bad laceration on the scalp and severe bruises.

HOW YOU MAY VOTE ON NOV 7

Raleigh, Oct. 22. — Nearly 3,000,000 ballots are being prepared for use in North Carolina's election on the 21st amendment November 7 but the state board of elections estimate less than 1,000,000 of them will be used. There can be no absentee votes.

The indications from all sources are that less than 500,000 persons will avail themselves of an opportunity to express their opinion on prohibition and as each may cast a convention and a delegate ballot there will be something like 1,000,000 marked tickets to be counted.

In 1932 there were 710,218 votes cast in the governor's vote, counting both Republican and Democratic votes, and the law requires that two blank ballots be available for every voter. There, nearly 1,500,000 state ballots on the convention question are being sent to the counties and an equal number of delegate ballots are being prepared by the county boards.

Though absentee voting is allowed at regular general elections of the state, the repeal law specifically sets forth that there shall be no absentee voting in the "general" election on the 21st amendment.

"No vote shall be cast or counted except such votes as are cast by electors who represent themselves in person and cast their ballots at the polling place, in the precinct of which they are electors," the law stipulates. "Any person who is physically unable to enter a voting booth, or to mark his ballot, may be assisted in entering such booth and in marking his ballot, by the election official upon whom he may call for assistance."

Otherwise, in general, the regulations governing the voting and qualifications of the voters are the same as in any general election.

The 1933 general assembly, in strengthening the general election laws of the state, set up special regulations to govern the registration of persons who remove from one precinct of a city, town or township to another precinct in the same division which is causing some questions to come to the state elections board.

In order to register in the new precinct a voter must present himself to the registrar of his old precinct and get a certificate of removal and present it to the registrar of the precinct into which he has moved. This does not apply to removals from one county to another.

Mrs. H. H. Leake discussed rugs according to size and design for the home. Mrs. O. L. Rains gave interesting hints as to curtains and draperies. Mrs. C. R. Carroll also talked helpfully concerning tables and lamps to be used to help beautify the home.

Spice cake, pickles and cider, carrying out the color scheme of green and white was served, using mints as favors.

Mrs. S. W. Pulliam, Johnny McGee, Paul White, and P. H. Newsom acting as hostesses.

"With kind regards, I am

"Sincerely yours,

"J. C. B. EHRLINGHAUS."

The above letter has been received in response to the following editorial which appeared in the Reporter of October 11.

HATS OFF TO EHRLINGHAUS.

That man Ehringhaus at Raleigh is beginning to show the stuff he is made out of. For awhile after the election, the Governor was handicapped by illness. But we hope he has recovered his health. We know he has recovered his stamina. He is getting into high gear in this tobacco matter. He is holding Washington's feet to the fire. Last week he sent a red-headed telegram to Washington reminding the agricultural authorities that North Carolina was loyal in its support of the government in all its activities, and that North Carolina was expecting Washington to keep faith with the tobacco growers.

Here's hats off to Ehringhaus. He is going to make one of our great Governors.

300,000 AMERICANS WILL GET JOBS

IF THE REPUBLIC OF RUSSIA IS RECOGNIZED BY UNCLE SAM — IT MEANS BIG TRADE AND BUSINESS FOR AMERICA.

Cleveland, Oct. 21. — Kenneth Donaldson's pencil today pictured no less than 300,000 American workmen back on industrial pay rolls within a few months incident to Washington's projected recognition of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

That pencil wielded by a professor at the Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, at the express request of the state department, sketched an impressive outline of the business that the U. S. S. R. probably would do with the United States, once the two nations have effected a rapprochement.

It wrote, for instance, the figure $350,000,000 annually as the sum covering American exports to Russia.

It singled out and set down figures running into many millions for items such as locomotives which the United States can hope to sell to the Nation which has been without recognition from so many world powers since the 1917 revolution.

It argued that, granted America must accept Russian raw materials in part payment for finished products sold there, no Russian "dumping" need figure in the picture on either American or European markets as the Soviets pour a billion dollars into world trade channels.

The professor-engineer made his report to Washington. Today he elaborated on that report of newsmen. Russian needs, he explained, run from hand tools and cotton cloth to locomotives and heavy machinery, and those needs can be filled without long-term financing.

"It is perfectly feasible," he said, "to export to Russia in the neighborhood of $350,000,000 worth of goods annually provided Russia is allowed to pay for them in raw materials such as ores, furs, jewelry, lumber, pulpwood and a relatively small amount of a large number of articles."

HILARY SOUTHERN GETS EIGHT YEARS

NEGRO KILLS WIFE AT OLDTOWN

RALEIGH SATTERFIELD, WHEATER ACCIDENTALLY OR NOT, FIRES SHOTGUN THAT SNAPS OUT LIFE OF WOMAN — ARRESTED AND PUT UNDER BOND OF $1,000 — JESS COOK AND JAMES MOORE BONDED FOR $300 EACH.

Raleigh Satterfield Saturday night October 7, fired a gun, killing his wife, at their home in Oldtown, a settlement in the lower part of Stokes, on the land of Ralph Child.

Satterfield had a hearing here Sunday, Oct. 8, before Justice P. C. Campbell, who allowed the defendant to give bond of $1,000, the circumstances being confused.

Jess Cook, white, and James Moore, col., who were also involved in the same affair, gave bonds of $300 each, and were released.

At the trial it appeared that Cook went to Satterfield's house in the night demanding supper. In a dispute that followed Satterfield ordered Cook out of the house. A gun was fired by Satterfield aimed at Cook, but the load took effect in Satterfield's wife, her death resulting shortly afterwards. Moore, who stayed with the Satterfields, was implicated also.

Sheriff J. J. Taylor and deputies arrested Satterfield, Cook and Moore shortly afterwards, and they were given a preliminary hearing by Justice Campbell on Sunday following.

A Stokes County Industry Of Note

Thomas Tilley, Jr., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tilley of Lawsonville Route, in Peter's Creek township.

He is a genius in the manufacture of coffins, caskets, high class furniture, tables, smoking stands, bric-a-brac, etc.

A representative of the Reporter visited this place the other day and was amazed. Here is a factory and workmanship that will do credit to any city. Young Tilley uses gas for power, and he has modern machinery installed in a large 2-story building. Here caskets of oak, walnut and yellow poplar are made and finished, at prices which would astonish the average person.

The Reporter is frank to say that it had no idea any such establishment existed in Stokes county.

Miss Laura Ellington of Sandy Ridge visited Danbury Tuesday. Miss Laura, who is the daughter of the late Dr. J. H. Ellington, of revered memory in Stokes county, is registrar of East Sandy Ridge precinct. She is a lady of very graceful personality and of fine business qualities.
