GLADE VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL

HISTORY OF A WORTHY NORTH CAROLINA EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION—LOOKING TO FUTURE WITH CONFIDENCE AND HOPE.

The Glade Valley High School holds a unique place in the educational system of Western North Carolina. Established in Jan., 1910 as the first high school in this county, it held out to many of the boys in this section an opportunity for a higher education that would have been otherwise denied them.

Thoughtful and influential citizens who know something of the service that this school has rendered to Alleghany and surrounding counties appreciate this service.

Glade Valley has been called a preparatory school as it makes a special effort to prepare its students for college. So far as the faculty knows, only one of its students has ever failed to make good in college.

One of the most practical things taught at Glade Valley is the course in Domestic Art, otherwise known as the sewing class. Here the girls familiarize themselves with the different materials used in dressmaking. They study the materials from which these goods are made; the methods used in their manufacture; their wearing qualities—whether washable or not. Later in the course, dressmaking is taught, and these girls learn to make their own dresses—a valuable attainment for later life.

Another subject that is taught at this school, highly valued by many students and of inestimable value to all, is the course in Bible.

A two-year standard course is taught beginning with biographical studies of the great men of Bible times—Moses, Joshua, Joseph, David, Saul, Jonathan, and other important characters in the history of the Old Testament. Valuable reference works by eminent Bible scholars are available for research work of the students.

The course for tenth and 11th grades is from the life of Christ and the history of the early Christian Church.

A library of over two thousand volumes is maintained with additional books added each year. Six sets of encyclopaedias and over a hundred reference works on history comprise a part of this

FOX CHASE DECEMBER 23

QUAKER GAP HUNTERS STAGE SPECTACULAR AND MUSICAL RACE, ENDING NEAR COUNTY HOME, NINETEEN HOUNDS BEING "IN AT THE DEATH"—THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE LORDLY FOX HOUND AND THE UN-ARISTOCRATIC RABBIT DOG.

A pre-Christmas race between a gray fox and 19 hounds furnished a goodly area of Stokes county with a spectacular and musical treat on Saturday and Sunday before Christmas, to-wit December 23 and 24.

The fox was caught near the county home Sunday morning. The race had begun on Saturday evening, 9 P. M.

The hunters were Bill Simmons, Sam Lawrence, Dolf Hill and W. E. Collins, all of Westfield and Francisco, Quaker Gap township.

"In at the death" were the dogs of Hill, Collins and Simmons.

A fox race is a most inspiring event to those who love the hunt.

To hear the pack open in full cry, the resonant voice of each hound distinctly heard by its master, to listen to the enthusiastic shouts of the hunters urging on old "Lead," "Drum," "Rock," and other canines, affords a kick of major proportions, we are told.

A fox hound is superior to all other curs, being of a sort of aristocratic strain as compared with other dogs.

A fox hound who will allow himself to be deflected from the noble quarry afoot to chase after a rabbit, is immediately separated from the pack and punished by its master, as such diversion is considered degrading, and unbecoming the prestige and dignity of a fox hound.

Also a hound who will tarry in the course of a hot race to scratch its fleas, or perform other necessary incidents of dog comfort, is once isolated by its irate owner who uses a stick or heavy sourwood brush to convince his canine that time is the essence of a fox race, and there must be no dilly-dallying.

W. E. Collins owns two hounds which he considers more valuable than many people's cows or mules, and it would take good money of respectable dimensions to induce him to part with either of them.

The air is intensely cold, being the breath from snowdrifts north. At many cities in the north heavy snow drifts are reported.

N. C. FAMILIES ON AID ROLLS

TEN THOUSAND LESS IN NOVEMBER THAN OCTOBER—OVER HALF MILLION DOLLARS SPENT IN NOVEMBER.

Raleigh, Dec. 20 — Although the total number of North Carolina families receiving aid from public relief funds during November was increased over October from 52,262 to 65,641, the number of families on relief at the end of November, when the Civil Works Administration became operative was nearly 10,000 less than at the end of October. Figures made public today by Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, Administrator, show that there were 51,131 families receiving relief at the end of October and 43,138 receiving relief at the end of November.

The number of relief cases naturally increases during this period of the year. However, since the C. W. A. projects were begun throughout the State, hundreds of families are being taken off relief rolls each week. Indications are that the number of families on direct relief will continue to decrease throughout the Winter months, during which thousands of men are being given employment on C. W. A. jobs.

The total amount of money spent in North Carolina for direct and work relief during November was $611,362.83.

More Nurses At County Home

Two nurses are engaged to look regularly after the needs of the county home inmates. These ladies are on the payrolls of the R. F. C. or the C. W. A.—if you are able to distinguish the distinction.

Christmas Mementos.

The Fine Arts Club of Danbury—which keeps its charitable eyes open—donated a Christmas stocking filled with oranges, nuts, candy, and a gift to each of the inmates of the County Home.

E. O. Creakman of Walnut Cove visited Danbury Thursday.

DEATH OF MRS. ESTELLE SPAUGH

SHE WAS A LOVABLE CHARACTER, DAUGHTER OF REV. D. A. BINKLEY—END CAME AT HOME IN MISSISSIPPI—AGED 35—INTERMENT AT LEWISVILLE, FORSYTH COUNTY.

Mrs. Estelle Spough, 35, died at her home in Tupelo, Mississippi, the night of December 24.

Mrs. Spough had been in declining health for a year or two. Recently her condition had taken a turn for the worse, and her death was not unexpected.

This was a splendid woman, and a most lovable character. She was loved by all with whom she came in contact. As little Estelle Binkley she was known well here, where she spent her childhood, being a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Binkley who spent several years at Danbury on this M. E. church charge. Mrs. Spough was a sister of Mrs. Judge J. D. Humphreys of Danbury. She is survived by her husband, one child, and a number of brothers and sisters as well as her mother, Mrs. Rev. D. A. Binkley, of Lewisville, Forsyth County, where the interment was, and which was attended by a number of Danbury friends and relatives.

Christmas Fires.

Conflagrations reported during the holidays in the county are as follows:

Raleigh Hall, of Sandy Ridge, residence burned December 9. Practically everything destroyed. Loss $140.00.

William McKinley Vernon, of Sandy Ridge, lost his home and contents by fire December 27. Loss estimated at $200.00.

MRS. DOYLE ONE BUSY WOMAN

DIRECTOR OF RELIEF IN STOKES HAS HER HANDS FULL OF THE INTRICACIES OF HER OFFICE—MORE HELP ADDED THIS WEEK—CENTRAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED—DOCTORS IN MEETING TODAY.

New and additional help is being added to the Danbury C. W. A. office this week, in the persons of Miss Sara Williamson of Pine Hall, Miss Martha Powell of Walnut Cove.

Last night the advisory board met at Walnut Cove and named a central committee as follows:

J. A. Joyce, of Sandy Ridge. J. R. Forrest, of Francisco. Sheriff J. J. Taylor of Danbury. Miss Laura Ellington of Sandy Ridge.

E. F. Stone of Pinnacle. Hobart Browder, of Germanton. R. T. Spencer, of Lawsonville. Thomas Preston, of Pine Hall. C. E. Davis, of Walnut Cove.

This committee will assist the Director in passing on applications for relief.

Today at 4:30 the doctors of the county meet in executive session with Director of Relief Mrs. Doyle.

The physicians are called into consultation with reference to medical relief under the auspices of the C. W. A.

Mrs. Minnie Glidewell Doyle, who is Director of Federal relief in Stokes county, is one busy woman. Mrs. Doyle is a daughter of the late Rev. C. W. Glidewell of Rockingham county, and this explains her capacity for hard work and administrative ability. Her father was a man of very strong convictions in the matter of public duty and patriotism. Long a head of the movements for relief of the farmers, Mr. Glidewell was well known and highly respected for his unselfish efforts toward organizations in the interest of the farmers.

Mr. Glidewell's personality is reflected in his energetic and talented daughter whom Mrs. O'Berry, state manager of the C.W.A., has entrusted with the great federal organization's activities in the county.

Those of us who have always thought that women ought to function only in the minor affairs of life, are prone to be disillusioned when we behold Mrs. Perkins at Washington, Mrs. O'Berry at Raleigh, Miss Austin at Greensboro and Mrs. Doyle at Danbury.

Mrs. Doyle's office is now a scene of the busiest activity, with keeping track of the various work projects in the county now employing hundreds of heads with consultations, checking up reports, making out payrolls, filing records and data, correspondence with the State and federal administrations of relief, and all that sort of thing. When it is casually noted that the office is now paying out more than $ 3,800.00 per week for relief in Stokes, some idea of the importance of the work may be guessed at.
