SAWING THE PROPS FROM UNDER HIM!

DEATH OF MRS. MATTIE SUE PAT

SHE WAS A DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. L. D. HOLE, AND A SPLENDID YOUNG WOMAN — HAD BEEN A BRIDE BUT A FEW MONTHS.

Mrs. Mattie Sue Pat died at her home in High Point Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock, after a short illness.

Mrs. Pat was formerly Miss Mattie Sue Hole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hole, of Danbury Route 1, Peter's Creek township. She was married only last May to DeWitt Pat, of High Point, in which city she had since made her home, and where she was buried Tuesday, March 6.

Surviving are her husband, Mr. Pat; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hole; and eleven brothers and sisters as follows: Mrs. Roy Nelson, of Mt. Airy; Mrs. Gillis Coleman, of Stuart, Va.; Mrs. Everett Fulton, of Walnut Cove; Miss Della Hole, of Danbury; David Lela Hole, of Danbury; David Hole, of Baltimore, Md.; Dillard Hole, of Hartman; Cary Hole, of Lawsonville; Walter Lee Hole, of Danbury; Roy Leonard Hole, of Danbury; Willie Hole, of Danbury.

The deceased was an excellent young woman, the joy of her husband's home and a favorite with a large circle of acquaintances.

Catawba county cotton growers expect to get between $80,000 and $85,000 this year from their rental and parity payments.

Fine Arts Club Entertained At Bethania

Miss Nannie L. Pepper, of Bethania, Forsyth county, who has recently become a member of the Danbury Fine Arts Club, last week entertained the club at her attractive residence in Bethania. The occasion was also the regular bi-weekly meeting of the club, at which a program of unusual interest was carried out.

The hostess served seasonable and delicious refreshments to the Danbury ladies, and the evening was highly enjoyed.

Tobacco Campaign Sign-Up Closes

E. Y. Floyd reports that the flue-cured tobacco sign-up ended successfully with around 60,000 growers having pledged themselves to reduce their production 20 per cent. They are to get around $11,000,000 in rental, equalization, and benefit payments. The office staff in Raleigh is still busy checking over the contracts before they can be forwarded to Washington for acceptance by the Secretary of Agriculture.

M. E. Church.

Rev. J. B. Needham, pastor of the M. E. church, will preach Sunday at Davis Chapel, 11 A. M., and at Danbury M. E. church Sunday night, 7:30.

Elmer Campbell, of Martinsville, Va., is spending a short while here with relatives.

CORPS OF MEN AND WOMEN WORKERS AT THE COURT HOUSE CREATING NEW RECORDS FOR THE CLERK'S OFFICE.

The antiquated system of records in the Clerk's office at the court house, whereby wills, judgments, etc., have been preserved since the county was first established, is to be replaced by the modern Colt's Family System which is used in the most progressive counties of this and other States.

The thanks for this great improvement to the county's permanent record system are largely due to Mrs. Minnie G. Doyle, administrator of the CWA, who made the work a legitimate county project and secured its approval at State and federal headquarters, which are financing the project.

The cost to the county will be only the price of the books to be used, which are now being bound by a publishing concern.

The labor is being paid by the CWA, which is giving employment to the following personnel: Mrs. Jessie P. Christian, supervisor; Mrs. Robah Browder, of Germantown; Miss Grace Woodruff, of Walnut Cove; Miss Alta Easter, of Walnut Cove; Miss Margaret Turner, of Walnut Cove; Thos. S. Petree, of Danbury; R. M. Hunt, of Pinnacle.

Rufus P. Mabe, constable of Peter's Creek township, was a visitor here this week.

Measles and bad weather have just about knocked the schools.

Old King winter showed his hand in a big way last week, in a way we won't forget soon, when we look at our trees. But it was beautiful if it was destructive. On my way to school I saw a sight that rivaled a Christmas tree. It was a maple full of red birds and encrusted with ice. The red gave a pink tint to the ice. I notice Uncle Sam's estimate of the damage to wood is $100,000. We should do like our foreign neighbors—use our waste wood. Small twigs are bunched and saved for fuel in foreign lands, while we pile and burn our wood which we don't need on new ground and plant beds. "Wilful waste makes wilful want."
