

HOT POLITICS OUT OF RALEIGH

CONGRESSMAN DAUGHTON
MAKING CAMPAIGN
SPEECHES OUT OF HIS OWN
DISTRICT, WHAT DOES IT
MEAN — MAN GARDNER'S STORY.

EXPANDING — Raleigh politicians see in Congressman R. L. Daughton's plan to go out of the district his own district to make campaign speeches the full-time occupation of his district to occupy the old leather chair in the southeast office of the State Capital after Governor Earle has vacated it. Mr. Daughton has made a habit of campaigning outside his own playing field in the past. Some of the dispers-out think he wants to become personally acquainted with more of the natives in preparation for his primary campaign in 1936.

JUICY PLUM — The grapevine reports here that Barber Towler, of Raleigh, has notified Chas. H. Robertson that he will resign his post with the Internal Revenue Department, of which Mr. Robertson is head man in North Carolina. Towler was one of the many employees of the office who were forced to move from Raleigh to Greensboro when the Fourth District's new Congressman Harold D. Cooley was unable to prevent removal of the office to national committee man C. L. Shuping's home town. Mr. Towler's resignation will leave a $3,000 a year job open for some promising Democrat.

TIT-FOR-TAT — The General Assembly has been annexing $1,000,000 each year from taxes paid by people who use automobiles and trucks for general State expenditures. Now along comes Uncle Sam and says if you direct your highway funds we will penalize the utility power in your general bill money. North Carolina is to get about $4,000,000 per year in federal aid money during the next biennium and if the diversion is continued the State will lose a million bucks through penalties each year. Which means a loss of $2,000,000 in highway construction that can be obtained if the one million iron rich taken from motorists are used on roads and your Uncle Sammy comes across with the full allocation for this State.

BIG LOSS — The estimated value of exhibits lost when the east wing of the main building of the State Fairgrounds burned is not a drop in the bucket to what they were really worth. The display of mounted game and birds loaned for the fair by C. N. Mause, Mount Mitchell forest warden, was the result of four-year's hard work and it will take that long to collect others to replace those lost. In the first, there specimens of insects and other life in North Carolina cannot be easily replaced although they have the great monetary value.

Serve Asparagus

YOU get out your menu pad and write: Lamb chops; creamed parsley potatoes (they're a little dressier than plain boiled ones)—You sigh. Just an ordinary dinner again. But wait a second. Write down asparagus. Enter asparagus and the whole menu is ritzed up at once. Here are some good asparagus recipes—equally good as dinner or lunch-cook dishes. Paste them in your cook book for handy reference.

Hot Asparagus

Asparagus au Gratin: Heat one can of asparagus tips and drain them. Arrange in a buttered casserole alternately with layers of sliced hard-boiled egg (four eggs). Make a cheese sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, the asparagus juice and milk enough to make two cups liquid, a quarter of a cup grated cheese, half a teaspoon salt and an eighth of a teaspoon pepper. Pour over the asparagus and cover with crumbs. Brown in a hot oven—400 degrees for ten or fifteen minutes. This serves six.

Cold Asparagus

Cold Asparagus Salad: Strain the contents of one 1/2 can asparagus tips and drain them in a colander. Wash in cold water. Toss with one can of pineapples that are cut in thin pieces. Add a third of a cup of sugar, a quarter of a cup of vinegar, and a dash of salt. Mix with your hands and serve at once. This serves six.

Hot Asparagus and Potato Salad: Boil one tablespoon gelatin in a quarter of a cup cold water. Add enough water to the juice from one can of asparagus tips to make one cup. Add one bay leaf, one piece of celery tops, and half for three minutes. Strain over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add one and a half green peppers, finely sliced, one boiled carrot, cut in small pieces and a quarter of a teaspoon salt. Arrange the asparagus tips, tip end down, around the edge of a fluted mould. Pour in the gelatin mixture and chill. Serve unmodified, or lettuce garnished with mayonnaise and strips of pineapple. This serves six.
