ARE WE

IN THE RED?

SOME say yes, some say no—economically speaking. Fashion promoters unanimously agree it's a season of reds. Walk down the avenue and see how many red coats you can count.

Why not make your table fashionably red, and incidentally brighten up the red cheeks in your family, by serving lots of tomatoes this winter?

Gay and Good

Stewed Tomatoes and Mushrooms: Drain the liquor from one 4-ounce can of mushrooms and sauté the mushrooms gently in one tablespoon butter for three minutes. Add the contents of one No. 2 can of tomatoes, salt and paprika to taste, one bay leaf and one slice of onion. Stew gently for ten minutes. Remove the bay leaf and onion and serve with a triangle of toast on top of each serving. This serves six persons.

Scalloped Tomatoes and Pecans: Mix the contents of one No. 2 can of tomatoes with three-fourths teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar and a few grains of pepper. Then put alternate layers of tomatoes, chopped pecans (using one-half cup of nuts in all) and grated cheese into a buttered baking dish. Cover the top with crumbs and bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for twenty-five minutes. This serves six persons.

Tomato Consommé: Mix the contents of one No. 2 can of tomato juice with two 10½-ounce cans of consommé. Bring to boiling. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat one-third cup of heavy cream. Pour the first mixture into the hot cream and serve at once, with croutons if desired. This serves six persons.*

Vary Your Pies

APPLE PIE, apricot pie,ERRY pies, chocolate pie, cherry pie, lemon pie, peach pie, pumpkin pie, rhubarb pie! Oh, isn't there a new pie particularly appropriate for the summer months which will vary from all these good old standbys? Yes, there is. Pineapple pie.

Pineapple grows in a land where it is perpetual summer and looms large in the tropical diet which is eaten there. No need to tell you that it's delicious, but what we can tell you is the way to make a fine pineapple pie. So, here goes:

With Another Tropical Fruit

Pineapple Banana Meringue Pie: Mix one-half cup sugar and one-fourth cup cornstarch, add syrup pressed from the contents of a No. 2 can crushed Hawaiian pineapple, and cook until clear and thick, stirring constantly. Add one tablespoon butter. Then add two slightly beaten egg yolks, cook again in double boiler until thick, and cool. Add the drained pineapple and two-thirds cup banana pulp, and pour into baked pie shell. Cover with meringue made by beating two egg whites and then beating in one-third cup confectioner's sugar. Bake in oven—300 degrees—until a golden brown, about fifteen minutes. Makes one large pie.*
