STOKES DROUTH AID COMMITTEE

BODY OF LEADING CITIZENS NAMED TO AID IN RESETTLEMENT WORK IN THIS COUNTY — FARMERS TO BE ASSISTED BY GOVERNMENT LOANS.

Due to the extreme drouth conditions experienced by the farmers during the past summer, the Resettlement Administration is preparing to give aid to farm families who suffered disastrous loss of crops due to the drouth. The Rockingham-Stokes County Unit of the Resettlement Administration is being operated by J. E. Cheves, County Supervisor; Miss Lucy Booe, Home Supervisor; and Mrs. Mary W. Scurry, Secretary. With this limited personnel it is possible for all investigations to be made by the employees of the Resettlement Administration and, due to that fact, investigations and recommendations of a local committee are being used as a basis for rendering this aid wherever it is possible to secure the cooperation and help of such committee upon whom the Resettlement Administration can depend to give reliable and unbiased recommendations. Such committees are being set up in the two counties and some have already begun functioning.

Other committees will be set up as the needs of a community become apparent. The interest shown by these better citizens, who compose the committee, has so far been extremely gratifying. Committees formed to date in Stokes county consist of Mr. J. E. Mitchell, Germanton, N. C., Rt. 1; Mr. Norman Slate, Walnut Cove, N. C., Rt. 1; "Little John" Neal, Walnut Cove, N. C., Rt. 1; Mr. W. G. Tuttle, Walnut Cove, N. C.; Mr. E. W. Carroll, Germanton, N. C.; Mr. George Barr, King, N. C.; Mr. L. R. Pulliam, King, N. C.; Mr. E. F. Stone, Pinnacle, N. C.; Mr. R. C. White, King, N. C.; Mr. W. A. Palmer, King, N. C.; Mr. F. G. Smith, King, N. C., Rt. 2; and Mr. P. O. Frye, Pinnacle, N. C., RFD.

In addition to money being supplied such people, in the form of small grants, the Resettlement Administration is now looking forward to being able to offer loans to farmers which is to be used to purchase all necessary equipment and subsistence needs with which to make a crop next year; however, those people qualifying for such loans must be a good moral risk and give as security for such loans, any unencumbered chattels which he might possess and a first lien on the crops to be produced.

Many of our local hunters spent Thanksgiving in the fields hunting rabbits, with poor to medium success.

Violators of The Game Laws

County Game Protector Omer H. Martin during the last few days has indicted the following persons for violating the game laws:

Marshall Warren and Frank Grier, of Winston-Salem, charged with hunting in Stokes without permit. Arrested by Deputy Sheriff Burrough, tried before Justice Barr, of King. Fined, $7.50 each, which includes cost.

L. H. Petree, of Winston-Salem. Charged with hunting without license. Tried before Justice Stedman Garner, of King and fined $8.25, including cost. Arrested by Burroughs, deputy sheriff.

Robert James and Eugene Tuttle, of King. Charged with hunting out of season. Tried before Justice Stedman Garner, of King and fined $7.37 each, including cost. Arrest by Burroughs of King.

NEW BANK FOR DANBURY

REPORTED LEADING CITIZENS OF COUNTY, AS WELL AS OUTSIDE CAPITAL, INTERESTED IN FINANCIAL INSTITUTION FOR COUNTY SEAT.

It is reported here this week that Danbury, which has been without banking facilities for six years, may have a financial institution soon.

The report indicates that not only local citizens, and citizens from the county at large, but outside capital will be enlisted in the enterprise.

Danbury is one of the very few county seats in the State that have no bank. Walnut Cove is the nearest point for banking facilities.

The Reporter's informant states that the project will develop by the first of the new year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCannless, of Winston-Salem, spent Thanksgiving here.

MRS. C. F. MILLS DIES IN CREEK

WAS PROBABLY A VICTIM OF HEART FAILURE — SHERIFF TAYLOR SUMMONED FOR INVESTIGATION — NO INQUEST WAS HELD.

Lying face downward in a small creek near the home, Mrs. C. F. Mills, aged about 69, wife of "Boss" Mills, was found dead about 5 P. M. Friday, in the Westfield community.

Mrs. Mills being missed from the home, Mr. Mills went in search and found her at the branch where she had gone to water the cow as usual. She was dead when found.

Sheriff John Taylor was summoned to make an investigation, but after considering the circumstances it was decided that no inquest was necessary as all indications pointed to the fact that Mrs. Mills died from an attack of heart weakness, falling into the creek and drowning.

The affair caused a distinct shock to the community where Mrs. Mills was held in the highest regard.

She is survived by her husband, C. F. Mills, of Westfield, and one child, Mrs. J. D. Hill, of Trinity, Randolph county, N. C. Before her marriage, Mrs. Mills was Miss Lockey Joyce, a daughter of Wm. Joyce.

Francisco News

Everyone is looking forward to the holidays. In fact happiness seems to prevail except with the turkeys which seem to be getting rather fussy with their gobbling.

There has been 93 new books added to the Francisco high school library besides two very useful Atlases and some maps. We hope to be able to add more books at an early date.

Francisco basket ball team played their first game on the 17th. They put up a brave fight, but lost to Reynolds. We hope to have better luck when our team plays a triple header on the 24th.

Pounding

Pastor of the M. E. Church here, Rev. Mr. Houck, with his family, was liberally "pounded" Tuesday night by members of the church and friends. A large supply of good things to eat, and many other useful articles, were presented the minister and his family, who expressed their pleasure of the shower in unstinted terms.

Big Rabbit Slaughter

Judge Campbell, of the Danbury court of justice, took his gun and dogs and spent most of Wednesday hunting. At the close of the day he returned with 000,001 rabbits, and it was not a good day for rabbits, either.

BIG BUILDING BOOM AT KING

RING OF THE SAW AND HAMMER HEARD ON EVERY SIDE — E. P. NEWSUM AND S. W. PULLIAM BOTH BETTER — OTHER NEWS OF KING.

King, Nov. 25. — One of the male patients who underwent a tonsil operation here last week inquired of the nurse on duty when he was coming out from under the anesthetic as to whether it was a girl or a boy, the nurse asked him which he wanted it to be, he made a rambling answer and fell asleep again.

Work is well underway on a new home for Spencer Tuttle at the intersection of Main and Broad Streets. E. C. Slate of King, is the contractor.

E. P. Newsum, King correspondent, who suffered a heart attack November 2nd and who has been confined to his home since is able to be out some again. This accounts for no news letters appearing in the Reporter recently.

Dr. Isaac A. Booe, dentist, who has offices in the Stone building, has installed an up-to-date x-ray machine.

Miss Ethel Kirby, of Winston-Salem, spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mrs. Roy Fulk, aged 38, died at their home here Sunday morning following an attack of pneumonia. The deceased is survived by the husband and six small children. Funeral service was conducted at Rock House Church Monday afternoon at two o'clock and burial followed in the church cemetery.

O. O. Grabs is having a new tenement house erected in east King.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Wall, of Greensboro, have returned to their home after visiting relatives here.

Work on the new home of Norman White on Spruce street, is nearing completion.

Work on the new home of Grover Pulliam on Broad street is well underway. The ring of the saw and hammer is heard in all directions in King again. This town has the biggest building boom on it has ever experienced.

John W. Burwell, planter of the Quaker Gap section, was here on business Saturday.

D. C. Taylor, Spanish-American War veteran, of Gap, who suffered the loss of one foot by amputation about two weeks since is reported to be getting along nicely.

O. T. Fowler, contractor of Winston-Salem, is erecting for O. O. Grabs a new garage and show rooms on Main street. The new building will be modern throughout. This new building when completed will be occupied by the Beasley Chevrolet Company.

How Much Tobacco Has Been Marketed?

Some say one-half, some say two-thirds—one guess is good as another.

There is yet a lot of unsold tobacco in the country, some of it good, some sorry.

Christmas will about clean it up.

Carlos Flinchum, of Piedmont Springs, was in town today.

Miss Arbelja Carroll has returned to her home at Germanton after spending two weeks in Winston-Salem.

TOBACCO FARMERS LEND YOUR EARS

MEETING AT DANBURY LOOKING TO LEGISLATION TO HELP PRICES — AT DANBURY, DECEMBER 3 — TERRACING IS YOURS NOW, IF YOU WANT IT.

To The Farmers—

Important Tobacco Meeting: There will be a tobacco meeting at Danbury, Thursday, December 3, at 2:00 P. M. Mr. E. F. Arnold, Secretary of N. C. Farm Bureau, will make a talk, stressing the importance of the farmers' organizing so that they may be able to secure legislation that will help the tobacco situation next year.

Every tobacco farmer in Stokes county should come and hear what Mr. Arnold has to say. Come and bring your neighbors.

Terracing Work

The terracing outfit has been busy for the past few weeks terracing land for the farmers of Beaver Island township, but they have just about caught up with all of the work that was lined up. We will appreciate it very much if any of the farmers in the eastern part of the County, who would like to have terracing done before Christmas, would let us know about it.

Winston-Salem Tobacco Market

Winston-Salem, Nov. 21. — The Winston-Salem Tobacco Market yesterday closed one of the most satisfactory weeks of the present selling season. The Market sold about four million pounds at an average of approximately $25.00 per hundred.

There was a marked advance on all grades, and the low grades showed steadiness that has not been apparent until this time. The medium to good grades showed satisfactory advances, and the quality to select types were in stronger demand at higher prices than have been paid at any time during the present season.

It is the opinion of Local Market Operators that tobacco, grade for grade considered, are much higher on the Winston-Salem Market.

Yours truly,
J. H. BOOTH,
Sales Supervisor.

Big Price For Stokes Tobacco

A son of Alex Rogers, of Lawsonville, sold 634 pounds of tobacco this week for $302.00.

The warehouse and market at which young Rogers made this superb sale, not being among the Reporter's advertisers, we do not disclose.
