Blue Mold Damages Tobacco

Disease Prevalent at Dillard, King And Other Points In The County.

Blue mold is injuring tobacco plants at a number of points in the county, according to reports reaching this office.

Messes. Flynn and Roberts, farmers of the Dillard section of Beaver Island township, were in Danbury Tuesday. They stated that the disease was quite prevalent around Dillard, and that it had already caused considerable damage.

Blue mold is also reported from King and various other neighborhoods of Stokes. It is supposed to be caused by the unusually cool weather of the spring.

SCHOOL YOUTH STORMS DANBURY

TH GRADE DAY BRINGS STUDENTS FROM ALL THE SCHOOLS OF THE COUNTY — DIPLOMAS AWARDED TO 350 BY SUPERINTENDENT CARSON.

Superintendent of Schools J. C. Carson presented diplomas to more than 350 students here Wednesday, when Seventh Grade day brought a perfect storm of pupils from all the schools of the county.

Interesting and appropriate exercises were held at the Danbury school where the gathering of students and teachers centered.

Jack, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Fowler of Walnut Cove, made the highest rating of 10.8. He delivered the valedictory address. The second highest rating was made by Helen Frances Colley, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Colley of the Walnut Cove school.

Third was Nancy Jane Hellsabeck, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Hellsabeck of Walnut Cove.

There was a declamation contest in which King boys and Sandy Ridge girls won.

It was a notable day in the school annals of the county, and many spectators viewed with pride the fine gathering of students.

Stokes Boys C. M. T. C. Quota Unfilled

With the enrollment campaign of the 1937 Citizen's Military Training Camp now entering its third week, the Stokes county quota to attend the camp remains unfilled according to information received from Fort Bragg.

Young men of this community who are interested in attending the camp must make application as early as possible in order to receive consideration, it was stated, as vacancies remaining in the local quotas, will be filled by alternates from other counties.

The camp is to be held at Fort Bragg from August 3rd to September 1st. All necessary expenses are borne by the Government, and no future obligations of any kind are imposed.

The purpose of this camp is to promote good citizenship among young men between 17 and 29 years of age; by thirty days military training combined with a generous amount of recreation and sport.

Mr. W. A. Neal, Walnut Cove, N. C., is County Chairman of the committee which is assisting young men to qualify for camp and Dr. C. J. Hellsabeck, Walnut Cove, N. C., has volunteered to give the required physical examination and typhoid inoculations free of charge.

Young men interested should communicate with the above named County Representative or write to the C. M. T. C. Officer, Fort Bragg, N. C., at once.

SEARS ADVISES ABOUT BLUE MOLD

ALSO GIVES INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO FIGHT TOBACCO INSECTS AND GARDEN PESTS.

From all reports the blue mold, which is one of the worst enemies of young tobacco plants, has not damaged very many plant beds in this county. In the Eastern and Central part of the state it has appeared on the majority of the plant beds and in many cases has practically destroyed all plants. There is no known spray that will prevent blue mold 100 per cent and at present the recommended practice is to keep the plants growing by the use of nitrate of soda, or some other fertilizer, and to remove the plant bed covers so that the sun may shine directly on the plants as much as possible. If the plant bed is moist, the conditions are more favorable for the growth of blue mold.

Control of Tobacco Insects

Within a few more weeks, tobacco farmers will be faced with the problem of fighting insects that are injurious to the tobacco crop. We have a bulletin which is Extension Circular No. 174 titled "Control of Tobacco Insects" which contains the latest recommendations on the control of tobacco insects such as Flea Bugs, Bud Worms, Horn Worms, Cut Worms, and other insects which injure tobacco. If those who are interested in obtaining this bulletin will drop me a letter requesting it, I will be glad to mail them a copy as long as our supply lasts.

Control of Vegetable Pests in the Garden.

For the control of insect pests the first essential is good equipment. For the home gardener, the piece of equipment of most general use is a compressed air sprayer of 2 or 3 gallons capacity. A hand duster is also desirable. The second essential is a supply of spray and dust materials. The home gardener is not usually equipped with scales for weighing small amounts and must therefore seek some means of measuring the materials. An 8-ounce glass measuring cup is quite useful for this purpose. It is graduated in thirds and quarters and is suitable for measuring most materials. The following control measures are suggested for some of the principal pests: Bean Beetle—Spray with magnesium arsenate at the rate of one ounce (1-3 cup) to 3 gallons of water or dust with a commercial prepared powder containing .75 per cent of Rotenone. Begin dusting when the beetles become numerous and when the egg clusters are first observed. Direct the spray or dust to under side of leaves. Flea Beetles on Potatoes, Egg Plants, Tomatoes, and the striped Cucumber Beetle on Cantaloupes,

W. M. Fulp Makes Outstanding Record In Insurance Field

Officials of the Security Life and Trust Company of Winston-Salem are sending congratulations to W. M. Fulp, the company's Stokes county agent and representative, for his distinctive record in selling insurance the past month.

Mr. Fulp wrote more applications for insurance than any other agent of the company with the exception of two.

The Security Life and Trust Company during the year 1936 gained more insurance in force than any other company doing business in the State.

It is a cause for pleasure among Mr. Fulp's friends that he bore such an outstanding part in this remarkable insurance record, when it is remembered that there are 78 life insurance companies operating in the State.

GREAT PATRICK COUNTY PROJECT

$3,000,000 HYDRO - ELECTRIC ENTERPRISE GOING FORWARD—CITY OF DANVILLE REACHES UP TO THE MOUNTAINS FOR POWER AND LIGHT—T. J. GEORGE ON SUPREME COURT REORGANIZATION AND FEDERAL EXPENDITURES.

Hon. Thos. J. George of Stuart, Va., accompanied by Mrs. George and by their son Garland motored over to Winston-Salem Wednesday, stopping over at Danbury a short while enroute.

Mr. George, who is a former Stokes boy, a son of the late Rev. D. W. George of Francisco, is one of the outstanding citizens of Patrick County, Virginia, having been at the forefront of the development in roads, schools and industries that has lately made that section of Virginia famous and prosperous. Mr. George has represented Patrick county Democrats four terms in the Virginia House of Delegates, which corresponds to our legislature. He is a leading business man of Stuart.

Mr. George was rather undecided when questioned as to his attitude on the proposed reorganization of the Supreme Court as advocated by President Roosevelt. Both of the Virginia senators, Glass and Byrd, are opposed to the change, as is North Carolina's Senior Senator, J. W. Bailey.

But Mr. George is unequivocally in favor of a consistent and steady reduction of the expenses of government, and he believes that a policy of gradual retrenchment should now be adopted, as the country has largely recovered from the depression. It is time, he thinks, to begin taking in sail.

Mr. George says the big hydro-electric development on upper Dan river, in Patrick County, is steadily going forward. This is a $3,000,000 project in which the city of Danville, assisted by the federal WPA is building a power dam at the Pinnacles of the Dan which will furnish power and lights to the city, which is at a distance of about 30 miles.

Stuart is filled with government engineers, contractors, architects, and all that array of personnel which may be expected to accompany such a huge enterprise as the Pinnacle development.

Those who have visited the Pinnacles describe it as a place of remarkable natural beauty. The Dan curves in the gorge of a tremendously high mountain, weaving a place of natural power and development which the wide-awake Virginians have seized for utility purposes.

As soon as the new roads they build are completed, Stokes people will find it much to their interest to visit it. It is about 15 or 20 miles beyond Stuart.
