MISS NICHOLSON RESIGNS POSITION

HEALTH NURSE REFUSES TO BE TRANSFERRED BY HEALTH DIRECTOR HEGE, AND RETURNS TO HER HOME IN YADKIN COUNTY—HEGE BEFORE THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS—COMMISSIONERS RETAIN THE TRI-COUNTY PLAN AND HEGE.

Miss Katherine Nicholson, who has served Stokes for several years with fidelity and efficiency, has resigned her position and returned to her home in Yadkin county because of the disapproval of her work by Dr. Hege, health director for Forsyth, Stokes and Yadkin.

Dr. Hege's charge against Miss Nicholson was "insubordination."

Asked by the board of commissioners to tell what he meant by "insubordination", he said she refused to obey his orders, would not co-operate with him in his plans, and that she practiced medicine instead of nursing. He told the board that Miss Nicholson's work was very unsatisfactory to the State department of health, and that therefore he would not tolerate her any longer.

Here a surprise was sprung by the introduction of evidence contrary to the statements of Dr. Hege.

Senator Sparger was asked to testify. He had been requested by the commissioners to see the State authorities at Raleigh in regard to the complaints of Dr. Hege.

Sparger was entirely disinterested, and is of unimpeachable veracity.

Sparger stated that Dr. Cooper, in charge at Raleigh told him the services of the Stokes nurses had been satisfactory to the State department, with the exception of the pre-natal work, and that he did not blame the nurses for this, that it was instituted wrong.

As Dr. Hege himself had instituted the pre-natal program, it could necessarily only follow that the only unsatisfactory work to the State was that of Hege himself. This established clearly a case for Miss Nicholson.

But Hege had stated Miss Nicholson was practicing medicine instead of nursing. It appears this charge covered the nurse's vaccination of three or four people, after Hege had forbidden her to vaccinate any more, and that she had dressed the wounds or sores of two or three people, when his express orders were not to practice medicine.

It developed that the vaccination was done by Miss Nicholson on the approval or instructions of the supervising nurse, and that the dressing of wounds was when no physician was available, and the work was an act of mercy and kindness to sufferers.

On cross-examination Dr. Hege stated that a sanitary officer in his budget drew a salary of

The clinic will be continued the week of July 19-22 at the same points and same hours.

D. F. Carca-Sanchez of the Mexican health department was a visitor in Stokes Monday, observing the clinic.

Board of Education Meets and Considers Budget—Hears Delegation From Francisco School.

The board of education met Monday to consider the budget prepared by Supt. of Schools J. C. Carson. The budget was approved and turned over to the board of county commissioners for its approval.

A delegation from Francisco school appeared before the board represented by Attorney N. O. Petree. The matter was taken under advisement by the board.

Those who attended the dance at Patrick Springs, Va., Saturday night were: Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor, H. M. Joyce, Jr., Paul Martin, Berke Priddy and Hazel Petree.

Recent rains in Union county have worked wonders with the young crops. Cotton and corn are growing luxuriantly, farmers report.

$900.00 a year, and that he did not know when such officer had shown his face in Stokes county.

He was asked if "Ford Brendall" was his relative and replied that he was not. It is stated to be a fact that the sanitary officer is a brother-in-law of Hege. Ford Brendall is the assistant of the sanitary officer.

Evidence was presented to the commissioners proving the high character of Miss Nicholson, her faithful and efficient service to the people, and that the people of Stokes county were entirely satisfied with her work, and that the same was satisfactory to the commissioners.

On the basis of this showing Dr. Hege was asked if he would not reconsider his action as to the removal of transfer of the nurses.

He stated positively that he or Miss Nicholson would have to go.

After several days consideration, the board decided to retain the services of Dr. Hege in his tri-county program.

In the meantime Miss Nicholson had submitted her resignation, and declined to be transferred to work by Hege in Forsyth county.

DEATH OF SENATOR JOE ROBINSON

END CAME SUDDENLY FROM A HEART ATTACK—PASSING OF A GREAT FRIEND OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Washington, July 14.—Joseph T. Robinson, indomitable leader of the Senate's Democrats, died on the fighting line today and left to his colleagues a political situation troubled and portentous.

Stunned with the grief of a personal loss, his associates could give little thought to the future, but they foresaw difficulties pile upon difficulties through the loss of his energetic, driving leadership.

The battle over the Roosevelt court reorganization bill and the already arising struggle over the reorganization of the executive branches of the government, were vitally affected. For every administration proposal, Robinson was a tower of strength.

Fight To Go On

Some senators quickly predicted that the court bill would be abandoned but Senator Pittman (D), Nevada, declared after a visit to the White House.

"I can see no change in the court situation except that we have an armistice, which will last probably until next week."

Later a group of the bill's supporters met informally and agreed to go ahead with the fight for the measure.

Those at the conference included Senators Barkley of Kentucky, Milton of Indiana, Senwellenbach of Washington, Black of Alabama, and Pepper of Florida.

Robinson's death left the field clear for aspirants for appointment to the Supreme Court vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Justice Van Devanter. It was common talk in Washington that President Roosevelt had intended to give the post to Robinson.

Senator Robinson died unexpectedly of a heart attack sometime last night at the age of 64. A horrified maid found his body sprawled on the bathroom floor in the Robinson apartment near the Capitol early this morning. Mrs. Robinson was at their home in Little Rock, Ark.

News Spreads Quickly.

Word spread quickly. Colleagues, both Republican and Democratic, gathered in grave little groups in the Senate office building and in the corridors of the Capitol, their statements interspersed with bursts of speculation as to the consequences for the party and the nation.

Meanwhile, his close friends were talking with Mrs. Robinson overcome, in Little Rock. It was hours before she covered sufficient composure to reach a decision on their suggested funeral plans. Finally, they made an announcement.

A state funeral will be held in the Senate chamber on Friday, a

Washington, July 11.—Agricultural adjustment administration lawyers began today the task of drafting a recommended tobacco control bill at the request of tobacco state leaders in the House.

The informal and unofficial tobacco state steering committee, named several weeks ago to survey the question of tobacco legislation, met with J. E. Huston, assistant AAA administrator, and other AAA representatives yesterday.

Representative Thomas G. Burch of Martinsville, Va., said the committee decided to proceed with preparation of a bill and asked the AAA to prepare a plan as quickly as possible for the committee.

Burch said he insisted, and other members agreed with him, that any proposed bill should carry provisions for holding referenda before any control plans go into effect, and that special consideration should be given to provisions to protect the small tobacco grower.

There are at present about 1800 farmers co-operating in the "compliance," and this, under the supervision and management of T. H. Sears, acting county agent, is 225 increase over last year.

J. F. Brown of Alabama county, who has been acting as county agent for Alexander county, is to arrive here to assume the county farm agency. He will reside here with his family.

Since the death of Mr. Kirby, T. H. Sears has acted as county agent, and so efficient and satisfactory have his services been that he was recently approved by the board of Stokes county commissioners as farm agent for Stokes.

But the State office at Raleigh had made other arrangements, which resulted in the appointment of Mr. Brown.

Mr. Sears will remain here in his usual capacity as assistant agent, and this is a matter of gratification to his friends here and to the public in general who are acquainted with his fine services.

It is a pleasure to their friends to know that Miss Laura Ellington, Mr. Mack Caudle and Miss Fulp, indispensable assistants to the county agent, will continue their valuable services in the office.
