STOKES VOTES DRY

LIQUOR STORES LOSE IN STOKES

COUNTY VOTES DRY BY SIX HUNDRED FORTY MAJORITY—YADKIN TOWNSHIP REPUDIATES "CONTROL" BY 877 MAJORITY — DANBURY BANNER WET PRECINCT — BROWN MOUNTAIN OASTS SMALLEST WET VOTE — BOARD OF CANVASSERS AT DANBURY TODAY.

After a campaign of rather mild intensity, Stokes voters came out Tuesday with a heavy vote, defeating liquor stores by a majority of 640.

The board of canvassers met in Danbury today to officially tabulate the ballots.

Yadkin township furnished the overwhelming bulk of the dry votes, registering 877 majority against liquor stores. Yadkin is composed of four precincts, as follows: King, Pinnacle, Mount Olive, Mizpah.

The official figures showed Danbury to be the wettest precinct of the county, proportionately, giving a majority of 110 for "control" out of a total of 155 votes cast.

East Walnut Cove gave the biggest wet vote, where 325 ballots were cast for "control."

King turned up the largest dry vote, furnishing 442 ballots against control.

Brown Mountain precinct, Quaker Gap township, cast the smallest wet vote, 10 being counted for liquor stores.

The smallest dry vote was at Freeman, Sauratown township, where 28 votes were registered against liquor stores.

The total vote in Tuesday's election was 4,832. Only 5 to 6 thousand ballots are usually cast in a regular political election.

COURT NEXT WEEK MIXED TERM

CRIMINAL DOCKET TO OCCUPY FIRST OF WEEK AND MAY CONTINUE MOST OF WEEK — MANY LIQUOR CASES, MOST OF THEM TRIVIAL.

The August term of Stokes Superior Court which convenes next Monday, is a mixed term for the trial of both criminal and civil cases, but as there are a large number of criminal actions on the docket, and as they will be heard first, it is expected these will occupy most of the week's term.

There are 84 cases on the criminal docket, most of them being for violation of the liquor laws. The majority of them are trivial, but quite a large number are for drunk driving.

After the criminal docket is cleared, the civil cases may come up for trial.

The judge is his Honor, F. Donald Phillips, and the solicitor is Allan Gwyn.

Rev. Fred Day's Meeting At the Baptist Church

Evangelist Fred N. Day of Winston-Salem is conducting a series of revival services at the Baptist church here. Meetings are held every night and will continue this week through next Sunday. Considerable interest is being shown, and good congregations are attending.

This meeting marks the 520th revival held by this noted evangelist, which record doubtless cannot be equalled in the State. Mr. Day is the founder and builder of the Baptist church here. He is very highly regarded in Danbury by everybody. He is an able and earnest preacher.

Lawrence Family To Have Reunion In Stokes County This Year.

The members of the Lawrence family are planning to hold their annual family reunion this year at the home of John Lawrence, near the Francisco high school in Stokes county, on Sunday, September 5.

A lunch, served picnic style, will be served to what is expected to be a record crowd. It will be the third annual Lawrence reunion, and invitations have been issued to all the known members of the family. Some 75 were present last year, and represented cities as far distant as Pontiac, Michigan. Others came from Washington, D. C., Richmond, Roanoke and Lynchburg, Va., to mention only a few.

A valuable mule belonging to S. P. Christian died Monday.

STOKES COUNTY FARM TOUR

OUR FARMERS TO BE GIVEN OPPORTUNITY TO STUDY AND OBSERVE GOOD FARMING — PHOTOGRAPHS ARRIVE — WINTER LEGUMES RIVE — WINTER LEGUMES.

Farmers in Stokes county will have the opportunity to study and observe good farming practices throughout Stokes county and a part of Rockingham county on a Farm Tour to be held Thursday, August 26. No better opportunity to observe and study good farming is offered than through a farm tour.

A part of the tour will be devoted to visiting several farms in the Soil Conservation Project Area just across the line in Rockingham county. This part of the tour has been arranged through the courtesy of the officials in charge of the project.

These men will accompany the farmers through that part of the tour and point out the interesting demonstrations. The CCC Camp officials at Madison have kindly agreed to furnish lunch for the group at a nominal charge of 25c. per person. However, it is very necessary that we know by the time the tour starts Thursday morning just how many plan to secure lunch at the camp. For those who do not plan to eat at the camp, we suggest that they bring a picnic lunch with them.

It is requested that all farmers planning to attend the tour meet at the bank at Walnut Cove promptly at 8:30 A. M. Thursday, August 26. The tour will begin from this point in Walnut Cove. The following is a tentative schedule of the tour including various stops to be made:

Stop No. 1, time, 8:30, place, leave Bank, Walnut Cove arrive B. B. Walker's farm. Growing corn or certification tenants interested in growing good corn. 9:10 leave B. B. Walker's farm.

Stop No. 2, time, 9:30, start in S. C. S. Demonstration Area near Eaton church, Rockingham county.

Stop No. 3, time 12:30, CCC Camp for dinner. 1:30 leave camp.

Stop No. 4, time 1:45, arrive C. S. Martin's farm. Terracing, Terrace outlets, meadow strips, Contour tillage.

2:30 leave C. S. Martin's farm.

Stop No. 5, time 2:40 arrive J. A. Joyce's farm. Terracing, permanent pasture, CCC work, Contour tillage with tobacco.

3:30 leave J. A. Joyce's farm.

Stop No. 6, time 3:25, arrive Sam Priddy's farm. Crop rotations, alfalfa.

4:00 leave Sam Priddy's farm.

Stop No. 7, time 4:20 arrive W. S. Hart's farm. Permanent pasture, alfalfa, crop rotation, trench silo, safety hull pen. Disperse.

Farmers are urged to plan now to attend the tour. It offers an opportunity to see a number of up-to-date farming practices in use.

Compliance.

Approximately 60 enlarged photographs for use in compliance work have been received this week. These photographs cover approximately two-fifths of the county on the eastern side. With these enlargements on hand it will be possible to begin compliance work in this part of the county within the next few days.

Further pictures on other sections of the county are expected in the near future. Farmers will be notified in advance of the day the supervisor will be at their farm to check compliance.

Winter Legumes.

Now is the time for farmers in Stokes county to sow winter legumes. Some farmers of the most popular and best of winter legumes for North Carolina are Crimson Clover, Vetch and Austrian Winter Peas. Of these three Crimson Clover and Vetch are widely used.

Our most valuable plant food is nitrogen. The air is full of nitrogen and by planting legumes you can gather your share of this valuable plant food. The rate at which Vetch and Crimson Clover will build up soil is almost unbelievable. Winter legumes are excellent for following corn after the last cultivation where it is not planned to sow small grain.

In preparing land for Vetch or Crimson Clover it is only necessary to stir the soil very lightly immediately before or following seeding. This makes it very easy to seed this crop in the corn middles. The seed should be inoculated if the crop has not been grown on the land recently. This is very important and can be done by securing dirt from Crimson Clover and Vetch fields or by purchasing the inoculating culture.

The Agricultural Conservation Program encourages the farmer to seed legumes. $1.50 per acre can be earned as a soil building practice where they are seeded and the entire acreage counts sol conserving, even though seeded with a soil depleting crop. An additional payment of $1.00 per acre can be earned the following spring if the legume crop is turned under. The rate of seeding for Vetch is 15 to 25 pounds per acre and for Crimson Clover, 12 to 18 pounds per acre.

Farmers can secure further information along this line by calling at the office of the county agent in Danbury.

FINEST CROP SINCE YEAR '13

TOBACCO REMINDS OF OLD TIMES — STOKES FARMERS HARVESTING REAL QUALITY—PRICES DOWN SOUTH MAKING HAPPY ANTICIPATIONS.

Stokes county farmers are curing the best crop of tobacco since 1913, when there was a sweet and heavy crop which averaged 17 cents.

That was in the old pre-war days, when 17 cents following the usual average of 8 to 10 cents, meant great prosperity to the tobacco growers.

Old-timers say this crop reminds them of old times when the plant matured, when there was good fertilizer of "German potash," and when the people, who had not then plunged so heavily in debt, realized money to pay their bills and to "put in the bank."

Thirty days ago it looked blue for the farmers. There was a bad stand, and many fields showed the effect of disease.

But recently there have been copious rains, and these showers have metamorphosed the situation. In a tour over a large part of the county recently a representative of the Reporter saw many fields of magnificent leaf, fully developed and ready to ripen into golden beauty.

Prices down south are very heartening to the farmers of Stokes who generally are expecting fine averages and an abundant prosperity.

In a few sections of the county recently hail has wrought considerable damage, notably in the Reynolds school section of Quaker Gap, around Westfield and Collinstown. Other hailstorms visited Sauratown township.

Otherwise generally in the county the crop is very promising, and entirely calculated to assure the growers that good prices are awaiting them when the markets of this belt open the last days of September.

Lawsonville News.

Lawsonville, Aug. 16. — The farmers of this section are very busy priming tobacco at present.

Zack and Lenard Campbell visited Danbury Saturday. They attended the baseball game of the Sheriffs of Stokes and Forsyth counties.

Fred Smith, one of Stokes county's champion milkers, went to milk his cow last morning and was gone all day. His wife became worried and went to look for him and found his milk pail hanging on a pine tree, and returning home she found he was back with only a quart of milk and says: "You know that d—n cow has gone dry."

HUNTING SEASON SOON TO OPEN

COUNTY GAME PROTECTOR C. H. MARTIN SAYS LAW MUST BE STRICTLY OBSERVED IN ITS REGULATIONS — SQUIBBLES COME FIRST.

Beginning September 15, one month from last Sunday, squirrels may be shot in Stokes county up until Dec. 15. The limit is 10 a day, with no season limit.

This advice is given out by C. H. Martin, county game protector, who has the regulations now in hand fresh from the game authorities at Raleigh.

Mr. Martin also furnishes the Reporter with the regulations touching other game in Stokes county, as follows:

Coons and possums may be killed from Oct. 1 to February 1, with no bag limit.

Quail and rabbits may be slaughtered from November 20 to Feb. 15. The limit on quail is 10 a day, but no bag limit for rabbits.

There is no open season for fox squirrels.

The above regulations, for those who are provided with hunting license, must be strictly observed, the game protector stated.

Corbett Priddy Goes Into Training To Fight Morefield

Corbett Priddy, who is the accredited heavyweight champion of Stokes county, was in Danbury Tuesday and stated that he expected to go into training next Monday to fight Bob Morefield on October 30.

Priddy defeated Roy Wilson at Walnut Cove in a fistie battle in October, 1935.

He says he will easily beat Bob, but that he deems it wise to thoroughly prepare himself by a stiff course of practice such as running, jumping, swimming, punching the bag and catching the ball.

Priddy's weight is 194, while Morefield tips the scales at 190.

Priddy says the place for the fight has not yet been definitely arranged, but that it will be Danbury or Walnut Cove.

Fulp Reunion Sunday, Aug. 29

The Fulp reunion will be held Sunday, August 29 at the home of Uncle Sanders R. Fulp, near King. All neighbors and friends are invited to come and bring lunch.

Notice To Fox Hunters

You must have license after July 31 to hunt in Stokes.
