Tobacco Growers Invited To Christmas Party

Winston-Salem, Dec. 7.—An open invitation to all tobacco growers who patronize the Winston-Salem leaf market to come and bring their families to the annual Christmas Party on December 22 was issued today by Chairman Graydon O. Pleasants.

The party is sponsored by the Joint Tobacco Market Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, and Winston Warehouse Association as an expression of goodwill to those who sell their tobacco in the city.

This year's festivities will be held in Taylor's Warehouse, 916 Patterson avenue. The party will begin at 10 A. M., when Santa Claus starts distributing bags of candy, fruit and toys to the children. Preparations are being made to take care of five thousand boys and girls, but parents are urged to have the children on hand when the distribution of bags begins so that no child will be overlooked.

Other features of the big party will be brief talks by several leading Winston-Salem citizens, music and various attractions on the improvised stage, and square dance and big apple dance contests. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners in both groups.

"We have made better arrangements than ever before for this year's Christmas Party," said Chairman Pleasants. "We want every tobacco grower who sells in Winston-Salem to come, bring his whole family, and join in the fun. Something interesting is being planned for everyone."

Chairman Pleasants called special attention to the many valuable prizes which were distributed in the contests last year, and said there would be a similar supply of gifts this year.

New Recovery Program

New York, Dec. 7.—Creation of 3,000,000 new jobs, investment of $25,000,000,000 of capital in expansion of industry and a new recovery program over the next two to 10 years were proposed to the nation's manufacturers today by Lamont du Pont, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and company.

Addressing the National Association of Manufacturers, meeting here in annual convention, du Pont said such a program was "staggering in its size and complexity" but "neither hopeless nor impossible." To achieve it, he declared, government must give industry "a reasonable amount of certainty upon which it can count in planning current and future operations."

Earlier the 600 executives of American business had heard William B. Warner, president of the association, plead for teamwork between labor and capital, management and government and appeal to the latter for evidence of a "changed attitude toward business."

Robert P. Keithly, extension specialist with the Agricultural Extension Division of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at Blacksburg, Va., has been appointed assistant agricultural agent of the Norfolk and Western Railway, succeeding J. Big Farmers Fertilizer Plant Opens At Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 7.—One of the largest farm-owned fertilizer plants in the world was formally opened near here today with more than 1,000 farmers and farm leaders from North Carolina and Virginia present.

M. G. Mann, general manager of the Farmers Cooperative Exchange of Raleigh, N. C., told the assembled farmers that the opening of the new plant which is owned jointly by the patrons of the Farmers Cooperative Exchange and the Southern States Cooperative, "signifies the bringing together of the farm cooperatives as well as the farmers."

"This new plant is farmer-owned and farmer-controlled," said Mr. Mann, "and it is dedicated to the purpose of supplying quality plant food on a cost basis to its farmer-owners." Mr. Mann said that it was impossible to estimate in dollars and cents the saving that will accrue to farmers through the operation of this cooperative fertilizer plant.

"It will serve as a regulator of both margins of profit and quality," Mr. Mann said, "and its influence should be very, very constructive, in helping farmers to get more for their fertilizer dollars."

"Cooperation is not just a catch-phrase with cooperative, but something to practice as well as preach," declared W. W. Eagles, of Macclosfield, N. C., president of the Farmers Cooperative Exchange. Mr. Eagles, in addition to being president of the FCX, is a director of the Southern State Cooperative, and spoke on "effective cooperation between cooperatives."

The new fertilizer plant is located at Portlock and has an annual capacity of 75,000 tons. On it appears this inscription: "Farmers have paid for many fertilizer plants. This is one they really own."

He adds that the weather up there is so cold now as to seriously impede operations.
