

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Scott and Mrs. Doris Beck visited the Twin City Saturday.

Rev. J. A. Joyce, chairman of the board of County Commissioners, failed to file for re-election. Mr. Joyce states that he will not be a candidate for any office.

Alex Flinchum of Peter's Creek township spent a while in town Tuesday.

W. W. Smith of Lawsonville was here Tuesday.

R. J. Scott, S. P. Christian and N. E. Wall spent Monday at Dobson, attending Surry court.

The boards of county commissioners and education will be in regular monthly sessions here next Monday.

Usually it takes May 10 to make the leaves grown. Now they are almost grown due to the early spring.

Ralph Chilton was here Monday from Madison.

Deputy Sheriffs Mack Wall of Beaver Island and Cleve Lawson of Peter's Creek were in town Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Ray of Walnut Cove spent a short while here Monday.

R. R. King, assisted by A. H. Joyce and T. L. Booth, is engaged in land surveying in the Walnut Cove community.

Fred A. Krikman, candidate for the State Senate, Stokes and Surry district, was here this week in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Krikman has quite a number of friends at Danbury and throughout the county.

Miss Kate Nicholson, pleasantly remembered here where she formerly held a position with the county public health department, visited friends in Danbury last week. Miss Nicholson is now engaged at the Baptist hospital in Winston-Salem.

Lefford Mabe of Peter's Creek township was here on business Wednesday.

Mrs. E. M. Macon with party of friends from Sandy Ridge stopped over in Danbury Wednesday on their way to Winston-Salem shopping.

Visiting Danbury last week were Mrs. Lefford Mabe and Mrs. Homie Mabe. These are fine ladies—both of them—from the beautiful Buck Island hills, where the tobacco ripens like gold in the yellow sunlight, and then in the fall exchanges itself for the gold of the realm.

Cary L. Carroll, chairman, of Mt. View; J. G. Fulton of Walnut Cove and S. P. Christian of Danbury—constituting the Stokes County board of elections—were in session here Tuesday, receiving the last entries for the primary of June 4.

Fine Arts Club.

On Tuesday evening, April 26, the Fine Arts Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Frank Martin at her home at Stedman Lake.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. L. Smith, with the reading of the Club Collect followed by the secretary's and treasurer's reports. Fifteen members were present and Mrs. J. Fred Gerner, Jr., was welcomed into the club as a new member.

During a short business session plans were made to write letters to the Senators and Representatives to ask for their support in passing the bill for Library Service in Rural Communities.

Two interesting reports were given on the following books: "Across Spoon River" by Edgar Lee Masters, read by Mrs. A. G. Sisk, and "Isle of Bali" by Miguel Covarrubles, read by Mrs. J. J. Taylor.

A flower contest was enjoyed by the members with Mrs. W. E. Joyce and Mrs. R. R. King and Mrs. Thurman Martin winning the prizes.

The hostess then served novel refreshments assisted by Mrs. Thurman Martin.

Danbury School's Closing Exercises Friday Night, May, 6

The Danbury Grammar School is giving its closing exercise at the school auditorium, Friday night, May 6. The program begins at eight o'clock. All parents and friends of the school are invited to be present, but are asked to not expect too much of the children as the blocking of two of our busses off the road for almost a week has hindered the pupils from practice.

It is the wish of the entire faculty to express our best wishes and most sincere appreciation to all the patrons for their co-operation and support of the school during the past year. We feel that it has been the most successful year we have had under the present administration.
