Sweeping Changes Proposed in System of Relief Despite Objections From Harrington

Washington, June 13.—A House subcommittee heard the WPA described by its administrator today as a "notable success," then proceeded to write the final draft of a bill which members said would make sweeping changes in the relief system he had praised.

After Colonel F. C. Harrington, WPA head, had read a 39-page statement branding many of the charges made against the relief agency as "unfair" and "obviously untrue", the subcommittee adjourned without questioning Harrington at any length. It prepared to present to the full House appropriations committee tomorrow legislation which, informed members said, would include the following proposals:

1. Abolition of Harrington's post and substitution of a three-member board to run the WPA.

2. Establishment of a differential in wages favoring relief clients with dependent over those without.

3. Ear-marking of $125,000,000 of relief funds for a public works program to be handled by the PWA. In this connection, President Roosevelt told reporters at his press conference today he hoped relief money would not be ear-marked for PWA, adding that this would mean taking care of fewer persons on relief rolls.

4. Reduction of about $50,000,000 from the $123,000,000 sought by President Roosevelt to finance the national youth administration for the coming fiscal year.

5. Elimination from relief rolls of persons lacking bona fide relief status and limitation of the time which others can remain on the rolls.

6. Curtailment of the WPA's power to undertake such work as the federal theatre and writers projects.

Committee members said there would be no substantial reduction in the $1,477,000,000 which the President recommended for the WPA but they indicated the agency would be expected to make that sum last for the full fiscal year. Congress has been called upon in the past to supplement annual relief appropriations when the latter fell short of needs for the entire fiscal year.

BIG FAT-LEAN GAME SATURDAY

IT WAS A GREAT DAY FOR BUCK WALL — FATS SQUEEZED LEANS TOO BAD.

Let it never be said that Buck Wall did not have his day. To begin with there is no doubt but that at least 257 of the fans at last Sunday's double-header came solely to see the softies play.

Both sides were in top form, the fatties being led by John Taylor, William Marshall, Paul Fulton and Tom Preston; while the leanies boasted such old-timers and notorious figures as Mac Caudle, Ed Taylor, Leak Lovin and Dr. DeHart.

Below will be found the box score which gives all of the details exclusive of the hits, errors, etc. There is no doubt but that Taylor led the hitting for the Fats while Lovin led for the Leans. The spectacular fielding of Marshall, Powell and Caudle will never be forgotten, especially Marshall.

The Leans loudly and emphatically claim a victory. The Fats are quiet on that point. The rules, the score books, and all of the authorities point to the fact that in the last half of the last inning with the fats leading by a score of 13 to 7, then the Fats refused to give the leans their last man, and having succeeded in betting out only two men, walked off of the field without getting the last man out thereby forfeiting the game to the Leans by a score of 9 to 0.

As to the umpiring, it could not have been worse. One has only to glance at P. C. Campbell to ascertain where his sympathies would lie. May he be more just and open-minded on the bench than he is on the ball field. Of course Buck Wall was excited by it all. We do not believe that he would intentionally make an erroneous decision on any ball ground. Judging by some of his decisions we would say that Buck weighs about 215 pounds and that not all of it is muscle.

Of course the writer played for the Fats, but he believes that he can play a better game on paper than on the diamond.

Sunday School Rally And Outdoor Picnic June 18th

A Sunday School rally and outdoor picnic will be held Sunday morning, June 18th, at Knell Hurst Episcopal Chapel near Madison. Plans are made for entertaining visitors from Reidsville, Leakaville-Spray, and Winston-Salem.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, the newly erected building will be consecrated in a ceremony conducted by Bishop A. Penick of Raleigh, assisted by Mayodan parish rector, Rev. H. A. Cox. Music by Mayodan church choir directed by Professor E. F. Duncan, will be rendered.

The present chapel of St. Martins-in-the-Woods, as Knell Hurst is the outgrowth of religious work inaugurated by Mrs. Chas. R. Wall, who began teaching Sunday School in the servant's quarters back of her residence in 1898.

Next a log chapel was built in the grove in 1900. Successive ministers who have served there have been Rev. C. P. Wilcox, Rev. Mr. Berkeley, Rev. Edgar Van Edwards, Rev. Whitney Hale, Rev. Walter Ramseur, and Rev. C. de Mazyck. The last two rectors are now deceased.

In time the chapel was abandoned because of needed repairs. But people of the community have been insistent that the religious work be revived. Accordingly several months ago, actual construction of another building was begun. The new chapel is a log structure in rustic design. Local people have contributed their labor and material generously to supplement the general church fund for carrying the work to completion which has been under the direction of Rev. H. A. Cox and Messrs. C. R. Wall and Abner Knight.

After the dedication, Knell Hurst community will enjoy regular Sunday School and other religious services.

NEW STATE CAMP FOR CONVICTS

NOW COMPLETED — BUILDINGS MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT.

Final inspection has been given the new State highway prison camp at Meadows.

Entirely finished, except for leveling the grounds and some of the finishing touches, the Stokes county camp is a model of modern prison construction, similar to the other five new camps that have been and are being built in the eighth highway division.

The camp was built at a cost of approximately $40,000 through a PWA project sponsored by the state highway commission and will house around 100 short-term negro convicts.

A fireproof brick, concrete and steel barracks building with modern toilets, showers and sinks inside the cell blocks; a long dining hall with a kitchen and store-rooms; a laundry; guards' quarters and auxiliary buildings complete the prison camp proper.

Outside the enclosure commanded by machine-gun towers and a ring of searchlights are the garages and shops for highway trucks' equipment and material.

The improvement in the prisoners' quarters is the most noticeable deviation from the old-fashioned methods of prison construction.

The old water bucket and dipper is gone; in its place, sinks with side of each of the two long cell running water. Opening off one block is a lavatory with modern fixtures and showers - sanitary facilities for the inmates never before seen in a Stokes county road camp.

The prison camp has been completed by the builders, and the highway department, with its convicts, is putting the grounds in shape. The camp will be ready for use in a few weeks.

Granite from the quarry at Sandy Ridge is being spread on the parking area and around the shops to give an all-weather surface.
