DANBURY REPORTER'S STRAW VOTE SHOWS TREND OF STOKES' CHOICE

Not All the Ballots Yet In, But Remaining Few Will Not Materially Change Figures—Primary Result Is Anticipated Approximately

The Danbury Reporter's straw vote to show the choice of Stokes county Democrats for Governor of North Carolina, and the favorite of Stokes county Republicans for President of the United States, indicates that Allen J. Maxwell of Raleigh is far in the lead for Governor, and that Thomas J. Dewey is undoubtedly the favorite of Stokes Republicans for President.

Not all the cards which were mailed to cross sections of voters of the two parties are yet in, but the remaining ballots are not expected to change the showing materially.

Today the result from the vote cast shows as follows:

FOR DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR

Maxwell	39 percent
Horton	27.1 percent
Broughton	22.6 percent
Grady	4.5 percent
Gravelly	4.5 percent
Cooper	1.5 percent

FOR REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT

Dewey	40 percent
Vandenberg	8 percent
Taft	4 percent
Hoover	2 percent
No choice	2 percent

The plan of the straw vote used was that ballots were mailed to a dozen representatives of each party in each township. Their responses cannot be claimed as an accurate result in the primary, as changes may affect the standings of the respective candidates, but the percentage totals will almost certainly approximate the primary figures.

LIFE BEGINS AT 'FORTY

Congratulations and the best of good wishes to that galaxy of beauties and huskies who finished in the high schools of Stokes county last week-end.

Life for them begins in this good year of Nineteen Hundred Forty.

They hesitate tiptoed on the threshold of a charming world and a wonderful age.

How thrilling and happy must their sensations be if they realize that the world is theirs and all that's in it. Prima facie, they are possessed of the things it takes to reach the goal—brain, character, integrity, perseverance.

Civilization, life, destiny have not yet devised a prize that is not within the reach of ambition and WILL. Success like Mars at perihelion gleams above the horizon.

"Somebody said that it couldn't be done,

But he with a chuckle replied

That 'maybe it couldn't, but he would be one

Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.

So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin

On his face. If he worked he hid it.

He started to sing as he tackled the thing

That couldn't be done, and he did it."

Some of these fine girls and boys will perish on the rocks where the seeds fell and were devoured by the "birds of prey"—the things that impede, lead astray and destroy.

In some of them the germ of success will take root and blossom like the American Beauty rose.

This is the start. Never stop or look back. Remember the old saying, "Taste not the empty-rear spring unless you drink deep." A little learning may be a dangerous thing.

The most fascinating hunt in the world is the chase after knowledge, power, beauty of life, usefulness.

There is no primrose path. Be armed with truth, integrity, never-say-die enthusiasm, and above all a Christian heart and character.

You cannot fail to WIN.

THE MENACE OF THE MADDOG

CANINE ON RAMPAGE BITES PEOPLE, COWS, DOGS, ETC.—STATE CHEMIST GIVES VERDICT OF RABIES.

A good deal of uneasiness prevails in the Hartman and Danbury communities over the danger of maddogs.

Last Sunday a stray dog visited this section biting one person, several cows, many dogs, etc. Anderson Mabe, while standing in front of the cafe here, was attacked by the animal and was bitten twice, once in the forehead and once in the breast. Several other people narrowly missed being bitten. It bit several cows in the Hartman section, and possibly one or more cows here. It is not known how many dogs it fought with, but probably many, as Danbury is the home of many dogs. The canine was chased and killed near town, and its head was sent to the State chemist at Raleigh, who pronounced the beast infected with hydrophobia.

It is learned that Mabe, who was bitten, will take the Pasteur treatment at once.

Several dogs here have been killed as a precaution, and some others confined.
