MORE NEXT WEEK

WHEN WE ARE MUTE

God made flowers to speak for those who cannot express their love.

Somebody has written that "flowers are frozen music. The writer might have gone further and said—bars of congealed symphony dropped from above.

The floral tributes at the bier of a greatly loved Danbury woman last week were surpassingly beautiful and profuse.

They came from afar and near from friends whose hearts were hurt at the untimely passing of one so useful and so needed as Mrs. Kathleen Taylor.

The soft night descended on the grave and the flowers, and the dew was as of the tears of her family and friends.

SPEARS ALL TO THE GOOD

To the debonnaire dopest of the Madison Messenger—thank you for our bouquet in your last issue. It was of pure orchids. Its sweet odor permeated the room. Floating out through the window, it mingled with the magnolia and the mignonettes and was enfolded to the breast of the sunflower that dreams all day long in the garden.

We promise never to call you dam Yankee any more (as if we ever had). We appreciate the friendliness that inspired your words. We like you and enjoy your interesting paper. Especially the "Sparks." And we read with delight the rare and radiant "Wall Street" written by a columnist who has tasted the world in all its flippancies and follies, and found it not so bad after all. Now as his footsteps go dancing down the sunset trail he lets fall anon gems of homemade philosophy and horse sense. If he would only let up on the girls. Tell him, Spears, they are a delusion and a snare, and to get his head off them (too).

Remember the sad fate of Bob Reynolds.

NO, I DONT THINK YOU WOULD.

If you owned a beautiful home surrounded by inviting grounds and useful conveniences, and outside some highly productive acres that would produce a living; and if at your home was a fine family who missed you when you were gone and whom you missed when you were gone—would you be so crazy as to be a traveling salesman?

Well, John L. Christian of Pinnacle feels that way about it. He paid us a pleasant hello this week and among other things he said he had been on the road more than 40 years, off and on; that he was tired of it and thinking about quitting.

Now in our opinion that's a good idea that's come into the head of this thrifty Yadkin township citizen.

Another thing: John Christian is in the prime of life and in the possession of all his faculties but he ain't as young as he was the first time I ever saw him when in Winston he was flirting with a good looking young woman (who afterwards became Mrs. Christian.)

Let's stop taking life too seriously. Few of us will get out of it alive, anyhow.

WPA Bookmobile Will Arrive Sept. 15th

The WPA Bookmobile is expected in Stokes County about September 15th to give a second demonstration of a county-wide Library Service to the people. This is a free service and anyone may borrow books from it in the county. It is to be here three months and most probably six months. This will give everybody a chance to become familiar with such a service and realize its value.

The Bookmobile will have scheduled routes and stops, and these will be posted in advance so that the people will know where the nearest stop will be to them. It will make a stop in the designated place every two weeks during its stay here.

TOBACCO HIGH ON BORDER BELTS

PRICE AVERAGING 25—FARMERS WELL PLEASED — STOKES CROP ONE OF BEST IN STATE AND MAY AVERAGE 30

Tobacco is selling high on the border belt—about 7 cents higher average than last year. Wrappers are going at 42 to 46 at Timmonsville. The general average is around 25 cents. Farmers are reported well pleased.

A leading Winston-Salem tobacco man, who has looked over Stokes and other counties says our crop is one of best in the State and in his opinion will average more than 25 cents, possibly 30.

The markets of this belt open September 16.

Farmers are now in the midst of priming.

Death Of Mrs. Mary Joyce

Madison.—Mrs. Mary Lemma Shaffer Joyce, aged 42, wife of Lee Joyce of Sandy Ridge, died Sunday morning at a Leaksville hospital after a brief illness.

C.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shaffer of Sandy Ridge; six sisters, Mrs. Harden Joyce of Stoneville, Mrs. Neal Vernon, Mrs. Fred Amos and Mrs. Dave Joyce of Sandy Ridge, Miss Zelma Shaffer of Sandy Ridge, and Mrs. Paul Amos of Bassett, Va.; and one brother, Jesse Shaffer of Martinsville, Va.

John W. Pitzer Passes At Meadows

John William Pitzer, aged 86, prominent farmer of the Meadows community, Route 2, Walnut Cove, died at his home Sunday afternoon at 2:10 after a serious illness of a week.

He had been in declining health for five weeks.

A native of Danbury, he was born to Nancy Davis Pitzer and Lemeul Pitzer October 12, 1854. His parents passed away in his early childhood and he had lived on the present home place for 80 years, moving there to live with relatives.

He was a member of the Methodist Church.

His wife, Mrs. Merrill Kerner Pitzer, died August 22, 1937.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. A. L. Fletche of Raleigh, and Mrs. G. C. Davis of Winston-Salem; three sons, L. K. Pitzer of Portsmouth, Ohio, J. B. Pitzer of Detroit, Mich., and C. S. Pitzer, of Winston-Salem; 9 grandchildren, and one great grandchild; and a sister, Mrs. J. H. Fulton of Mt. Airy.

Funeral services were conduct-

THE BLITZ ROLLS THROUGH RUSSIA

ODESSA, BLACK SEA PORT, BEING ENCIROLED — RUSSIAN RESISTANCE STRONG, ARMY INTACT

The German war machine is now rolling through Russia's great grain fields. The Black Sea port of Odessa is encircled. The Russian army is still intact giving slowly and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

The British and Russian air forces are wreaking terrible destruction night and day on Berlin and other German cities.

Book Club Postponed Until Spt. 11th

The Wednesday Evening Book Club has been postponed until Sept. 11th.

Neal Reunion

The Neal Reunion will be held at E. O. Creakman's home the 4th Sunday in August 31st in Walnut Cove. Every body is invited.

Visiting Danbury recently were W. R. Stovall and son W. M., and daughter Miss Marie, of Lawsonville. Mr. Stovall came over to complete his settlement of the estate of the late John R. Hill. This matter before the Clerk of the court is now wound up in toto.

Forsyth county Register of Deeds, J. M. Lentz of Winston-Salem was a visitor in town Wednesday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lentz who visited Mrs. R. H. Moorefield.

Mrs. J. Frank Martin, who has been visiting in Pittsburgh for the past several months, returned to her home Sunday. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Seibert, Jr. and Mrs. Albert Seibert, Sr.

ed at his home at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. J. L. Love and Rev. C. W. Kirby. Burial was made in the Davis family plot near the home.

The Dalton farm near King can well boast of having some of the finest registered Jerseys in the state. Mr. Scales Dalton who cares for the cattle is justly proud of his animals. His foundation cows come from the famed Morrowcroft Farm owned by Cameron Morison.

The hed sire, Ixias Brompton Lad, goes back to the best breeding of Jersey Island. His great sire sold at auction for $6,000.00. Mr. Dalton stated that he was anxious to have his herd fit into the breed improvement program for Stokes county. Occasionally he has a male calf which he will gladly let out to farmers of the county.

Silage fed to dairy cows for winter milk production cannot be beat, declares the Stokes farmers who tried it last winter. Silage will not only cut your feed cost but aids in keeping your cows in good growing condition and in fine health.

It is suggested that corn which will not ear due to drought or other causes, be cut and put in a small inexpensive silo. The box and trench silo may be built quickly and without much cost. Last year 13 silos were built and filled in the county. This year more than a dozen new silos are being built. A. T. Seel, J. F. Joyce, W. C. White, I. G. Gentry, J. S. Barr, J. S. Lawson, Sam Mickey, R. C. White, Jasper J. Martin and others will build new silos.
