Fatal Burning Of Ralph Junior McGee At King Saturday

Ralph Junior McGee, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McGee of King, died Monday morning at a Winston-Salem hospital of burns suffered Saturday when his brother accidentally tossed flaming gasoline on him, setting his clothing afire.

Bill McGee, Ralph's brother, was pouring gasoline into the carburetor of his car while Ralph was standing nearby. Backfire set the gasoline afire and a bystander told Bill to throw the gasoline out. Without looking, Bill tossed the flaming contents of the can away and the blazing fluid struck his brother.

Severely burned, Ralph was taken to a Winston-Salem hospital. His condition never improved.

Ralph's sister, Betty Jo McGee, who was standing near him, was also burned, but not seriously.

Surviving are the parents; one brother, Bill McGee; two sisters, Norma and Betty Jo McGee, all of the home; and the grandparents.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Chestnut Grove Methodist Church. Rev. James H. Blackmore and Dr. Mitchell of Pinnacle conducted the services. Burial was in the church graveyard.

James Noell Sisk, Lawsonville.
Thomas William Jessup, Mount Airy.
Clarence Ellis Conrad, Jackson, Va.
James Ralph Wilson, Tobaccoville.

FARM MACHINERY RATIONING BOARD NAMED FOR STOKES

Temporary Program To Remain In Effect Until November 1; Classification Listed.

Announcement of the personnel of the Stokes County Rationing Committee to handle temporary rationing of new farm machinery until November 1, 1942, was made today by Jacob Fulton, chairman of the County USDA War Board.

Mr. Fulton, who is also chairman of the County AAA Committee, will serve as chairman of the rationing body, and other members named by the county USDA War Board are: B. B. Walker, Walnut Cove, N. C.; and H. P. Loftis, Walnut Cove, N. C. Alternate members are: H. G. Tuttle, Walnut Cove, N. C.; and S. A. Flinchum, Danbury, N. C.

Responsibility for administering the new farm machinery rationing program was delegated to the Agriculture Department by the OPA, he said. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard named Fred S. Wallace, chief of the AAA and special War Board Assistant, to handle the program nationally, and directed State USDA War Boards to be responsible for rationing on state levels. Secretary Wickard also provided for setting up the county rationing committees.

The order setting up the rationing program provided that the chairman of the County AAA Committee should be chairman of the rationing committee, and that two representative farmers should be selected by the County USDA War Board of serve as regular members. Naming of two alternates also was provided in the order.

Chairman, Jacob Fulton, said that no member of the committee may act on his own application to purchase new machinery, an application of a member of his immediate family or other near relative, or that of his landlord, tenant, or other business associate.

No member of the rationing committee may be a person engaged in the business of selling new machinery and equipment.

Under the program, Chairman Jacob Fulton said, one classification (Group A) includes items which are scarce and which are vitally needed in 1942 agricultural production, may be sold only upon approval of the county rationing committee. Equipment in this class includes: combines, corn pickers, disc harrows, feed grinders, fertilizer spreaders, grain drills, grain elevators, hay balers, lime spreaders, manure spreaders, milk coolers, milking machines, pickup balers, potato diggers, shredders, and tractors, including garden tractors.

A second classification (Group B), includes items somewhat less scarce which may be sold upon certification by the farmer to the dealer that it is required to meet current agricultural needs. This group includes most other types of farm machinery.

"A third classification (Group C), includes smaller items which may be sold without restriction, such as hoes, rakes, forks, scythes, shovels and all hand-operated and one and two-horse farm machinery and equipment not included in group A. Machinery and equipment listed under Group B automatically falls in Group C if hand operated or drawn by one or two horses and may be sold without restrictions"

Eligibility requirements for Group A purchases, he added, included inadequacy of present equipment and inability to meet farm production goals by repairing, or by purchasing or renting used machinery, or by custom or exchange work. A purchaser must turn in replaced equipment and agree to rent or let others use the new machinery on specified terms and conditions. The purchaser must present a satisfactory reason if changing from horses or mule power to motor power, or from hand labor to machinery.

He said there are no restrictions on sale or transfer of used farm machinery, equipment or repair parts. Additional information concerning eligibility of application for purchases of new farm equipment may be secured from the county rationing committee or your hardware dealer. Application may be had from any implement dealer of from Hazel F. Bowles, clerk at the County AAA Office.
