Judge Phillips and Solicitor Scott Summoned As Witnesses At Dobson Court

Judge Don Phillips and Solicitor Ralph Scott have been subpoenaed to serve as witnesses in Dobson court this week in the case of State vs. H. H. Lewellyn, judge of the Mount Airy Recorder's Court, who is charged with drunkenness and assault.

The subpoena for Judge Phillips has been served and returned.

Meanwhile, speculation as to whether the case would be tried Tuesday arose when Governor J. M. Broughton wrote Archie Carter, counsel for the private prosecution, that another judge was not available to preside over next week's term of Superior Court and that continuance of the case to the June term might be necessary. Carter had requested that another judge be assigned.

Lewellyn is charged with attacking Johnny McKnight, 19, in a hotel at Mount Airy Feb. 10. Lewellyn was tried before Magistrate W. D. Inman at Mount Airy, convicted and fined $25. He gave notice of appeal to Superior Court.

The private prosecution, it is understood, caused the subpoenas for Judge Phillips and Solicitor Scott to be issued, it was reported, because they were in the dining room of the hotel the night of the alleged assault on McKnight.

(Later—This case was not prosecuted by order of Judge Phillips who found the charge against the defendant frivolous, and that the defendant was acting in self defense.

W.-S.P.C.A TO CLOSE 30th FOR SEASON

The Danbury office of the Winston-Salem Production Credit Association will be closed for the season on Friday, April 30. Thereafter members and farmers interested in obtaining a loan should place their application with the home office located in the Trade Street Branch, Wachovia Bank building in Winston-Salem. This office is open the year around and farmers in Stokes and other counties are served by this office, A. P. Snow, secretary-treasurer announced today.

"Loans are made by the Production Credit Association for the purpose of buying feed, seed, fertilizer, and the purchase of livestock, machinery and equipment for carrying on specialized operations, such as, dairying and feeding beef cattle," Snow said. "Loans are made for any amount from $50 up for any sound production purpose, the amount depending on the farmer's needs and ability to repay from the op-

C. D. SLATE WORSE IN VA. HOSPITAL

Brooder House and Chicks In Holocaust—Other News Items Of King and Community

(By E. P. NEWSUM)

It's a good town in a good locality.

King, April 22.—Enoch Middleton has opened up a new store on the Perch road just west of town.

Relatives here have been notified of the change for worse in the condition of C. D. Slate, who is undergoing treatment in a Roanoke, Va., hospital for injuries incurred in an automobile accident.

Lewis McGee, who is stationed at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McGee.

The following patients underwent tonsil removal operations here Friday: Mrs. Marvin Watts of Dalton and Miss Ona Mae Tate of Rural Hall.

Addison Hooker, planter, who resides just west of town, had the misfortune to lose his brooder house and 150 small chicks by fire Sunday night. His woodhouse and a quantity of wood was also destroyed by the fire.

Carey Seasey, who holds a position at Hoffman, spent the week-end with his family on Pulliam street.

The recent cold snap seems to have killed all the fruit in this section.

Dr. and Mrs. Grady E. Stone spent the week-end with their son, Junior Stone, who is in the armed forces and who is located at Camp Davis near Wilmington. They were accompanied on the trip by their son, Richard.

W. D. Pruitt is confined to his home on south Depot street by illness.

Further improvement is noted in the condition of Mrs. Hester Love, who has been quite sick at her home on Pulliam street for some time.

Rev. Fred Garland To Conduct At King

Rev. Fred Garland of Roanoke, Va., will conduct a series of meetings beginning Thursday night at 7:45 in the Revival Tabernacle at King.

AN EDITORIAL SHUPING TRIES AGAIN

C. L. Shuping, Greensboro lawyer, is out again to stop Roosevelt.

Mr. Shuping, it will be recalled tried to stop Roosevelt in 1940, but failed.

At that time he had some powerful allies among whom was Governor Hoey, who tried to grease the rails. But the train rolled on.

He also had the help of some big politicians who like himself, possibly were alarmed less over the menace of a third term than the diverted control of North Carolina patronage, or the disappointment of personal political ambitions.

The big shots of business and finance were also in the fight to get the man in the White House who laughed loud, smoked Camel cigarettes and befriended the laborer and the farmer:

We might cite big cotton mill executives who learned to hate the New Deal because of its liberality to the weak and its restrictions on the super-privileged; and big bankers including the famous Gold Dust Twins, one in Wall Street and the other in Winston-Salem; also some big newspapers who printed editorials dictated by wealthy stockholders.

It all ended in victory for the masses just as this new 4-term fight will end.

But the people have a new reason now to want Roosevelt, and that is because they believe it will be dangerously unwise to swap horses while we are passing through the most tragic experience in our history.

Where shall we find a President with the judgment, the poise the courage, the world grasp, the experience, of Roosevelt?

There is no other man of his outstanding ability, and even Mr. Shuping does not say so.

He names no candidate. Possibly anybody will do for him, even a Republican, as he and his associates supported Mr. Willkie before.

ADVERTISEMENTS GIVE SILLY SUGGESTIONS

A nationally known shirt advertisement on the air advises: "Give your neck a break... wear shirts."

C. M. Jones has returned to his home at Walnut Cove after receiving treatment in a Winston-Salem hospital. Mr. Jones' many friends will be glad to know he is better.

Individuals Placed On Honor List Move to Save Travel, Manpower In 1943.

In an effort to reduce travel and use of manpower, farmers of Stokes county this year will report their own compliance with provisions of the 1943 AAA program, it was announced today by Jacob Fulton, chairman of the County AAA Committee.

"Under this plan, which may be called an honor system, we hope to save money, travel tires, gasoline and the time of persons who otherwise probably would be engaged in agricultural production," Chairman Fulton said. "This plan is being put into effect over the entire nation this year, and we in Stokes county certainly can meet up to standards of farmers in any other county."

Under this program, he said, each farmer will measure his acreage and will report it to his County AAA Office on forms to be provided by the office. Farmers also will report acreages of crops grown for soil-building purposes and for which there is a payment made under the AAA program. Marketing quotas will be in effect this year only on cotton and tobacco, Mr. Fulton said, but war crops, such as peanuts, soybeans for beans, and sweet potatoes for market must be measured and reported for the purpose of determining if goals were met. Commercial truck crops and Irish potatoes for market also must be reported for the purpose of determining incentive payments.

"The most likely procedure farmers will follow is to measure and determine acreage before crops are planted and then stay within the acreage set aside for this purpose", Mr. Fulton said. "In such cases, it is imperative that farmers retain their records for use in substantiating their reported acreage. The record of measurements should include a sketch of the fields measured and distances may be shown by chains, yards, or feet. When computed, however, the measurements must show the same total acreage as reported by the farmer."

In past years, measurements of individual farms have been made by community committees or others employed by the AAA. Committeemen this year will be expected to assist farmers in making their reports, will review all reports and will measure acreages on a certain percentage of farms in their communities. In cases where errors are plainly evident, the committeemen also will make special checks.
