

NEW "B", "C" GAS COUPONS TO BE IN USE SOON

(From Local Rationing Board)

After September 1, old "B" and "C" gas ration coupons will be worthless. Holders of these types of books are urged to mail or present in person at the office in Danbury the old "B" and "C" books and exchange for new books.

If mailed in, the owner should first fill up his tank in order to give the office time to prepare and mail back the new book.

The new book will contain exactly the number of coupons as are left in the old one and no more. This change is being made to close every gap leading to black market and the new coupons will be checked carefully at all service stations. Rigid requirements will be invoked after September 1 on all users and sellers of gasoline.

NO GAS ISSUED FOR HAULING TOBACCO TO FOREIGN MARKETS

(From Local Rationing Board)

The local rationing board has determined not to issue or permit the use of gasoline for marketing of tobacco from Stokes county except to the warehouses in the Old Belt. Farmers who use their cars to transport tobacco for sale into other belts will be denied further gas allocations. A close check will be kept on this phase of gas usage.

Stokes Woman Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Elizabeth Montgomery, widow of Stephen Lee Montgomery, one of Stokes county's oldest citizens, celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary Sunday at the home of one of her daughters, Mrs. W. W. Tuttle, in Walnut Cove.

Mrs. Montgomery's husband died in 1928. Since that time she has made her home most of the time with another daughter, Mrs. G. W. Bowman, at Germanton.

Mrs. Montgomery scorns the use of glasses, although she does not see nearly as well as she did a few years ago. She has never worn glasses at any time. She also has dispensed with dental work all her life.

All of Mrs. Montgomery's eight children are living: Mrs. Tuttle, at Walnut Cove; Mrs. Bowman, with whom she makes her home at Germanton; Mrs. Preston Bowman, Germanton; Mrs. Tom Campbell, Germanton; Joseph Montgomery, Germanton; Isaiah Montgomery, Germanton; Crawford Montgomery, Winston-Salem; Mrs. J. B. Chapman, Germanton.

There are also 46 grandchildren and 68 great-grandchildren.

On the Humorous Side

Hubby comes hiccupping home and meets someone on the steps: Hubby—Who are you? Wife—I am the devil. Hubby—Glad to meet you. I married your sister.

Chief Yeoman—What is wrong with this sentence, "The bull and the cow is in the field?"

Striker—It should be "The cow and the bull is in the field; ladies come first."

Sam—Where did you get that black eye?

Rastus—Dat widow we met las' night ain't no widow.

Rachel—I don't intend to get married until I am thirty.

Francis—I don't intend to be thirty until I am married.

Gob—What did you whisper to that donkey to make him stand?

Teamster—"Heil Hitler." Any Jackass will stand to that.

"I saw you the other day at the corner winking at the girls."

"I wasn't winking. That's a windy corner. Something got in my eye."

"She got in your car, too."

Friend—"I understand your wife came from a fine old family."

Bridegroom: "Came is hardly the word. She brought it with her."

Professor (to senior)—"Spell 'straight'."

Senior—"S-T-R-A-I-G-H-T."

Prof.—"Correct, and what does it mean?"

Senior—"Without Ginger Ale."

Diner—"Do you serve crabs here?"

Waiter—"We serve anyone; sit down!"

"Queer looking socks you have, one red and the other green."

"Yep, and I have another pair at home just like 'em."

"Papa", queried the son, "what is the person called who brings you in contact with the spirit world?"

"A bartender, my son," replied the father.

Teacher—"Johnnie, what is the latest American hit tune?"

Accountant's son—"Deep in the heart of taxes."

Visitor—"How many students are there in your class?"

Prof.—"About one in every five."

An asylum inmate sat with his fishing pole dangling over a flower bed. A visitor, filled with sympathy and wishing to be pleasant, asked, "How many have you caught?"

"You're the tenth today," was the answer.

TIRE SITUATION NO BETTER; QUOTA CUT

RATIONING BOARD URGES MOTORISTS TO RECAP OLD TIRES OR FORFEIT FUTURE APPLICATIONS

(From Local Rationing Board)

Applications for tires continue to pour into the local office.

Stocks of tires are low and quotas have been cut. Apparently many car owners are trying to get new tires when they have no immediate need for them, thereby depriving others who are in actual distress.

Many tires which are recappable are not being taken care of by owners and they are warned that if a tire is not recapped when recommended by an inspector that they are not eligible for any future tire allocation. Other tires are being abused by speed and when this is definitely shown no tires will be issued.

Hundreds of used cars with poor tires are being transported into the tobacco counties and being sold at fabulous prices. Purchasers are warned that new tires will not be provided for these cars except in unusual cases where the need for the car can be established.

Tire inspectors are expected to keep these facts in mind when filing applications.

Last Request Of A Soldier Boy

Mrs. Alma McHone, of Francisville, sends the Reporter the following for publication, it being "Last Request of Pvt. Sanders M. McHone," who is a son of Mrs. McHone:

"Tonight I am a tired, weary Soldier as the shells burst in the sky; There may be no tomorrow— This may be my good-bye.

But if on the field I fall, dear, And I number in the slain I'll meet you in Heaven, darling, In the land where angels sing.

Pray for me, my mother, While I am far away. I will be fighting for you darling, And the good old U. S. A.

The good old U. S. A., dear, The good old U. S. A. I will be fighting for you, darling, And the good old U. S. A.

The bugle now is sounding I hear the roaring guns. I soon will face the enemy, Japan, the Rising Sun.

We will sweep her from the ocean, We will clear her from the sky, We will not forget Pearl Harbor And our comrades there who died.

As you receive this letter On the front somewhere I'll be Fighting for God and country— Fighting for liberty.

Pray every night for the Allies, Ask God to help us win, Soon the war will end over there, Then peace, good will to men.

If on the field I fall, dear, This is my last request, Please bring me back to the U. S. A.

The home I love the best. Just place me on the hillside Where as a lad I roamed, Just let me lie in sleep there Till God shall claim His own."

PRICE CONTROL HALTS INFLATION

(From Local Rationing Board) The average man does not stop to think what price control has meant to the most of living.

Actual statistics show that retail prices of food controlled by ceilings rose only 4 percent from May, 1942 to May, 1943, whereas food items not yet under ceiling prices rose 74 percent. Consumers are urged to watch closely and keep posted on ceiling prices for all merchandise and report any overcharges. This is the only way to prevent an upward trend in living costs and to halt inflation.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh. Sam Abernethy's the Chief Rumor-Spiker in our town. If a stranger gets off something like—"I hear they've sunk the S. S. Bumblebee," Sam starts pinning him down. Did he really see it? Where's the evidence? Because Sam knows, like the rest of us, that nine-tenths of the "inside news" passed around by careless folk isn't rumor—it's lies planted by the Axis to destroy American morale. Take those rumors about drinking in our Army Camps. Actual, official facts from the government's own Office of War Information showed there wasn't a shred of truth in 'em. The boys enjoy a glass of beer occasionally—same as a lot of us do! And from where I sit, they're proving themselves the healthiest, best-disciplined bunch of fighting men in history, like the OWI report stated. That's good enough for me. Joe Marsh
