DURHAM, N. C.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 7, 1891.

THE GLOBE FOR 1891

Will be a winner from the start. Will be lively and saucy and all ways bright.

It is in favor of your taking the paper, but wants you to pay what you owe, first.

WAIT for our new paster and cutter.

The sad news comes to the effect that PLAIN JIM COOK is going to Brooklyn to jump off the Brooklyn bridge. This is sad to PLAIN JIM but gratifying information to many people.

The editor of the Oxford DAY will not recite JULIUS CAESAR in this town. JULIUS CAESAR will recite in Oxford. Just so COLONEL CAESAR gets a hearing is all THE GLOBE cares for, and this seems to settle it.

THE GLOBE goes its pace surely and not slowly. Men from over all the state are subscribing. They are sending words of congratulation and all agree, except the selfish few, that THE GLOBE is a hummer with horns.

The new pauper census discloses the fact that over 40 per cent of the inmates of American almshouses are foreigners. It is a telling comment upon the scandalous neglect of proper discrimination in admitting immigrants at our ports.

THE time is not far in the distance when people generally will see that free expression and free thought are the popular ideas. This thing of thinking that any three or four men control the affairs of a nation is not as popular as it once was.

THE latest biographer of Columbus finds so much difficulty in proving who he was, where he was born, where and when he landed, and how and when he lived and died, that the reader is left in some doubt as to whether the great CHRISTOPHER ever existed at all. History is indeed next door neighbor to fiction.

ANOTHER scandal in regard to the sale of Chinese certificates has been unearthed by COLLECTOR PHELPS, at San Francisco. He has discovered that recently Chinese merchants' certificates have been on sale in Shanghai at $300 each and that thirty of these bogus certificates have been presented here within ninety days. COLLECTOR PHELPS refused to recognize these merchants' certificates and the consulate protested. An order came from the secretary of the treasury instructing Mr. PHELPS to recognize them but he had replied in a long letter, giving the facts in the case. He demands an investigation of the methods used in the Shanghai consulate, as he thinks it is a deliberate attempt to evade the restriction.

CLEVELAND IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The theory among alleged politicians that CLEVELAND is not strong in North Carolina, is not a good one. CLEVELAND long ago demonstrated to this world that he was a leader and that he never followed. He is essentially the brainy man of the democratic party, at least so far as availability goes. He has opinions and in face of all opposition he expresses them. He does not wait for the rabble to tell him how to think. He thinks and the rabble votes for him. The wise men vote for him and he has both times received the popular vote in the United States. The fact that he is against the silver business is largely in his favor. He sees the idiocy of such things and it must be conceded that he is able enough to maintain dignity when he expresses a view on a national subject. In the great northwest, in the very face of the veto of the dependent pension bill, farmers and agriculturists came to him in scores because of his manhood concerning the robber tariff. The people of North Carolina will be for CLEVELAND because he is the one man who scorns to lick the boots or fawn upon alleged popular hobbies. CLEVELAND is strong with the masses in this state. He is weak with the politicians who seek to flatter and to fawn.

The signs of the times are ripe and they all indicate that CLEVELAND will be the democratic nominee and HARRISON will be the republican nominee. And it largely looks as though Mr. CLEVELAND will carry the whole country with him. There is no fat-frying record to clean up—his administration was clean and the most ardent admirers of the other side admit that Cleveland is brainy and bold. He will doubtless show the boys a trick or two.

HE STILL STRIKES.

DR. E. A. YATES, in a pleasant article on co-education of the sexes writes in the News and Observer the following:

But some will say that the modesty of women will be damaged by co-education. Well modesty in women is a beautiful and sweet flower. But there is such a thing as modesty gone to seed, in which case it is prudery and incompetence. Studying the same books and reciting in the same class with boys, and being a sweet and perfect lady all the time, is one thing, possible, and probable with our girls; and being a brazen bawler at public meetings, clamoring for that which she knows not of, is quite another thing. And the latter condition is more the outcome of a want of education, or of single or otherwise, than a result of it.

Now it occurs to us that since the good doctor has been so fully vindicated that he should be willing to let the misguided women bawl just about as long as they want to bawl. But then the doctor knows, and as he is opposed to female shrieks for freedom, and as he has ability to paddle his own canoe, why, the old man will keep out and read the doctor's stuff and hear the fair one's bawl for rights which the Good Book says they should not enjoy.

SOME OF THE BENEFITS.

Santo Domingo wants reciprocity in trade with this country now, and an arrangement with that end in view will shortly be promulgated. The treaty with Cuba and Porto Rico had no sooner become known to the Santo Domingo authorities than they began to want something of the same sort, and want it badly.

In pointing out some of the benefits that will come with reciprocity with that little republic, the Chicago Tribune says: During the last fiscal year this country sent to Santo Domingo $169,000 worth of iron and steel and their manufactures, $149,000 worth of wheat flour, $117,000 of wood and its manufactures, $66,000 of cotton goods, and $49,000 worth of lard. Several of these articles are made free on others the duties are lowered considerably. The consumption of them will be greatly increased and the cotton goods now purchased in England will be bought here. American farmers and manufacturers will be benefited by Mr. BLAINE'S latest diplomatic triumph. It is stated in one of the dispatches that a good deal of New England capital is invested in the island. This reciprocity agreement, with the increased trade which will follow, will lead to the investment of more of its capital there, and energetic Americans will follow their capital to see that it is being well handled. They will build narrow-gauge roads over the island. They will introduce improved machinery on the sugar plantations. They will begin handling tropical fruits. When a number of good business white men are once settled on the island its shipments to the United States will become tenfold what they are, and the consumption of American products will increase twenty fold.

It is time for a change in trade relations. As has been stated, the island imports two millions' worth of goods. It takes from the United States alone $926,000 worth. The agreement which has just been made will remedy that state of affairs. The sugar and other products of Santo Domingo will be paid for in articles of American production, and not as now half in gold, and it will not be long before the shipments from this country to the island will be twenty times what they are now. For a man whom the democratic papers persist in saying is at the point of death, Mr. BLAINE is doing some very good work for the industries of his country.

The fire traps have not been removed. The tinder here and there will one of these days furnish a fearful warning of what should be done.

ADVERTISING APHORISMS.

The following is going the rounds and it is within a small compass: Advertising, like the honey bee, should have its sting in the tail.

Ten one-cent impressions are more effective than one ten-cent impression.

It is the drop of water that wears the rock. Little irritations wear on the public.

"Early and often" should be the advertiser's motto.

Spasmodic advertising is the most costly. [What would you think of a man rowing a boat who turned around every few strokes to see how far he had gone?]

Boys, beggars, tramps and people who never buy anything are usually the ones who solicit free advertising matter.

Never go into advertising without a plan, and if you cannot make a plan yourself get some one who can to help you.

SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS, on being asked what he mixed his colors with, replied, "With brains, sir." Apply this to your advertising.

Do not depend on the printer. Printers are poor helpers to the advertiser, as mere carpenters are to the architect.

Neither depend upon the lithographer, nor upon any one whose interests are allied to one kind of work. To the printer or lithographer there is no advantage outside of printing or lithographing.

CLEAN UP.

There have been many reports of alleys where the putrid filth smells to heaven, and persons have visited this office and asked us to respectfully call attention of the health officer to these dry cess-pools—these places where filth has crystalized for years and years. The alley near the Western Union telegraph office should be scraped. It should be more than scraped. The officials must not wink at these places. They must have them cleansed. There is no reason why the filth of a dozen years should be wasted into the nostrils and the systems of those who are not responsible.

That alley is terrible. It is dangerous and as all men know the worst forms of fever find their birth in these rotten germs, the health officer should hustle that way.

If he comes within gun-shot of it he cannot plead ignorance to the fact that it is there.

Get a move on you, kind officers of the law. Let the city be scraped and cleansed—and thus aid in the health of this community.

LOOK HIM UP.

The Description of a Murderer Now at Large and Now Wanted.

The Raleigh Evening Visitor says: Major C. D. Heartt has shown us a photograph of John B. Royster, a negro charged with the murder of John P. Eppes, near the town of Suffolk, Va., on Wednesday, July 29, 1891. He is about 5 feet 10 inches high, weighs from 185 to 195 pounds, 35 to 40 years old, color black, thick lips, flat nose, small elongated eye, broad forehead, square shouldered, slow footed, usually looks downward when walking, has a swinging gait and wears a No. 10 to 12 shoe. He claims to be a preacher and is fond of talking of religion. He associates with the better class of his color. The sheriff of Nansemond county, Virginia, offers a reward of $200 for him.

WINSTON IS CHAMPION.

She Defeats Washington City for the Second Time.

WINSTON, Aug. 6.—The second game in the Winston-Washington ball contest was played this afternoon with a score of 10 to 8 in favor of Winston. Quarels and Kefer formed Winston's battery and to the end of the fourth innings Fitzsimons and Johnston for Washington. Here the score stood 10 to 4 for Winston. Washington saw her fate and placed Reath, an association pitcher of national reputation, in the box. The tables turned and Winston scored goose-eggs through the ninth while Washington brought in two on the sixth and eighth. It was an exciting game and was witnessed by a hundred of people.

Will He Wait for Us? [Webster's Weekly.]

Another week has been numbered with the eternity of the past and still time rolls on. How many more suns shall rise and set ere we shall hear from Colonel Fairbrother?

Hood's Sarsaparilla has a steadily increasing popularity, which can only be won by an article of real merit. Give it a trial.

ALL OF IT.

The Complete Programme as She is Now Writ and Fixed.

These facts recently appeared in THE GLOBE: "The editor of the Oxford Day will recite Julius Caesar in Stokes Hall next Saturday night. In the language of Eli Perkins, the cheerful and energetic liar, seats nearest the door will be reserved for the particular friends of the speaker. The Day man will also impersonate King Richard as many times as he feels like. Three times is about as far as Booth, a loathsome actor, ever gets."

But the Day editor proposes to give a respectable entertainment, and accordingly fixes this programme: "The editor of THE DURHAM GLOBE is too modest. He omits to mention the part he will take in the exercises. Colonel Fairbrother will essay Mark Anthony, and will borrow the audience's ears and forget to return them. He will also offer his famous 'chin whiskers for a mule' which will not be taken up. Colonel Fairbrother, however, may be taken up for disturbing the neighborhood with his deep, bass voice rolling in high tragedy."

Not the Right Word.

"No," said Bertha sadly, "pain doesn't express what I suffer at these times—it is simply 'anguish'." I know I ought to consult a physician, but I dread it so! I can't bring myself to do it. Then, too, 'female diseases' always seemed so indelicate to me. I can't bear to have any one know or speak of mine.

"Yes, dear," answered Edith, "but don't you know you can be cured without going to a physician? Send to any drugstore for a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and take it, and I warrant you'll feel better in a very few days."

The manufacturers warrant the medicine, too. They guarantee it to do exactly what it claims, viz: to cure leucorrhoea, painful irregularities, excessive flowing, proflapsus, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, and the innumerable other "female weakness." It so strengthens and builds up the uterine system, and nerves, that worn-out, run-down wives and mothers feel rejuvenated after taking it, and they are saved the painful embarrassment and expense of a surgical examination and a tedious, tiresome treatment.
