

SUMMARY.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Hale called up Mr. Morgan's resolution as to the fishery treaty and addressed the Senate on that subject; he opposed the treaty; the resolution was postponed to the 25th. The District of Columbia appropriation bill passed. The House continued the tariff debate. Gen. Sheridan appears better. The Emperor receives nourishment. A young lady in South Carolina killed by lightning. Kansas prohibitionists ask the Republicans to establish an anti-saloon plank. A monument that marks the spot where Stonewall Jackson fell was dedicated yesterday; five thousand people present. 43,600 four per cents accepted at the Treasury. The Comptroller declares a dividend of 20 per cent. in favor of the creditors of the National Bank of Raleigh. During post-office robbery at Albany, N. Y.

EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

TRINITY had a grand opening yesterday. Read the proceedings on the fourth page of to-day's PLANT.

TAMMANY braves don their war paint, unfurl the red bandana and cry: "Cleveland, Thurman and Victory!"

The Western Union Telegraph Company reports a surplus of $7,456,887.11. And this after deducting a quarterly dividend of $1,077,357.66.

From the Richmond Whig, of to-day, we learn that S. B. Rucker & Co., of Lynchburg, tobacco commission merchants, made an assignment. Liabilities, $80,000.

SUBSCRIBE liberally to the fund for Durham's grand Tobacco Exposition, County Fair and Railroad Jubilee. We are going to have a big time, but it will require the "wherewith" to accomplish the desired results. Plunk down the cash and move things right along.

WE LEARN from the Lynchburg Virginian that the striking employes of Messrs. Ford & Moorman, contractors on the Lynchburg and Durham railroad near Rustburg, resumed work yesterday, their difference with the contractors having been satisfactorily compromised.

A SPECIAL telegram to the New York Evening Post says that the Omaha Bee, the most influential Republican journal of Nebraska, in a leading editorial in its issue of last Monday announced that it would not under any conceivable circumstances support Chauncey M. Depew if he should be nominated by the Republican Convention for the Presidency.

It is the desire of the Craven County Gun Club to inaugurate a shooting tournament at Morehead during the present season, to continue a week or longer if sufficient interest is manifested. Special rates will be made with the railroads and hotels for those desiring to participate in the tournament. THE PLANT mentions this item of news to awaken the interest in this event on the part of the field sporting fraternity of our community.

The Tammany Democrats had a tremendous and intensely enthusiastic glorification and ratification meeting Tuesday night. The Academy of Music was literally full to overflowing and hundreds were forced to remain upon the outside. We can gather a faint conception of the magnitude of the occasion when we are told that the building was never more crowded, that the shouts of applause were never more terrific and that there were one hundred and eighty-four secretaries and three hundred and sixty vice-presidents. Red bandanas floated everywhere. Grand and stirring speeches were made by Governor Hill and Congressman Cochran. Hurrah for Tammany.

In his speech before the Tammany Democrats Tuesday night, Hon. Bourke Cockran, in speaking of the relations now existing between the North and the South gave utterance to the following patriotic words: "And I believe if an hour of danger confronted this country no swords would more quickly leap from their scabbards in defence of our flag than those which twenty-three years ago were ranged behind the banners of the Confederacy. And this reunion which makes a union perfect is the policy of the Democratic party."

It is now reported that Blaine is positively out of the race for the Presidential nomination. It is also stated that B. F. Jones, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has in his possession a letter, just received from Mr. Blaine, to be read upon the assembling of the Convention next Tuesday, which states in terms not to be mistaken Mr. Blaine's position in regard to the Presidency, and settles for good and all the question of his candidacy. The Pittsburg Leader says: "In neither of his previous epistles from Florence and Paris did Mr. Blaine state positively that he would not accept the nomination if tendered him. In the letter which Chairman Jones has, this declaration is most emphatically made. Under no circumstances, Mr. Blaine says, will he permit the use of his name at Chicago, nor would he accept were the Presidential nomination unanimously tendered him. He further goes on to indicate that John Sherman, of Ohio, is his preference, and advises the Convention to place him at the head of the Republican national ticket."

TOWN TALK.

Meeting of K. of P. lodge tonight.

An awning will protect the front of Jones & Lyon's store.

Tobacco is advancing rapidly in price. Strong demand for good tobacco.

Both the Banner and Parrish's warehouses had large breaks of tobacco to-day.

A little son of Mr. Calvin O'Briant, is dangerously ill. Not expected to get well.

The finest peaches we have seen this season were grown in Orange county, near Chapel Hill.

Mr. M. H. Jones, one of our clever jewelers, is a lover of the beautiful and grows many rare flowers.

Keeping the depot platform clear of idlers is an ocular evidence of "we mean business" by the police.

Mr. W. A. Slater, "Buck" by name, will build a large saw mill and cotton gin near Morrisville.

In the absence of Rev. Dr. Yates, prayer meeting at Trinity church was led by Mr. J. H. Southgate last night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Howerton, Mangum street, gave their little son Jeter a pleasant birthday party last night.

As told by the Register of Deeds, fewer chattel mortgages have been registered this year than for many years.

Mr. Clay, the Singer Sewing Machine Company's representative in Durham, now occupies the Sheriff's old office.

Two merchants, one a dealer in dry goods and the other in groceries, tell us that their trade is daily increasing. Good.

Thirteen fine chickens were stolen from Mr. Daisy Paschall in a night. He is not the only loser by the ravages of chicken thieves.

Mr. J. A. Holloway, of Fish Dam, sold 1,374 pounds of tobacco for $500.52 at Parrish's warehouse to-day. During the past season he has sold $2,700 worth of tobacco, and has more than 3,000 pounds of good tobacco in his barns. How is that for high?

A field day in Mayor's court. Two women and one man before his Honor, charged with drunk, disorderly and fighting. $17.20 for the town.

Messrs. Webb & Kramer, tobacco exporters, made a large English shipment to-day. This firm has more than $150,000 in tobacco across the waters.

It was a matter of discussion whether a signature on the register at Hotel Claiborn to-day, was that of Mr. Let-er-go-Gallagher, or somebody else.

Mr. H. E. Seeman will begin moving his printing office and bindery to the second and third stories of the Johnston-Angier building, to-morrow.

The commissary department of the Lynchburg and Durham Railroad is located at Bragtown, but the construction corps is operating between Eno and Deep rivers.

Cards are out for the marriage of our worthy Chief of Police, Mr. J. A. Woodall, to Miss Mattie F. Strayhorn, Wednesday, June 20th, 8:30 p. m., at the First Baptist church.

The closing exercises of the Durham School of Music will take place on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. The first entertainment will be public at Stokes Hall on Monday night and will consist of a piano recital, vocal music and an address by Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates. Programme later.

Mr. Q. E. Rawls is negotiating for the extension of his store room from Main to Parrish street—300 feet. If we have been correctly informed, this will be the longest single floor of any other store room in the State. Mr. Rawls says that the building will be ready for his fall stock of goods. He is to be congratulated.

Meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Club, at the Banner warehouse, to-morrow evening. Business of importance is to be transacted and a full attendance is desired. We can't wave bandanas and shout "hurrah!" all the time. There is work to be done. Let us get at it so that we may have occasion for a glorious time after the election. Remember the time and place of the meeting and be there.

When the old Hamilton tent, Main street, was torn down yesterday, rats, in great abundance, made it lively for the lookers-on. Twelve enormous rats were slain and a number of small rats. There were gray rats, brown rats, and rats of other combinations and colors, besides the ubiquitous mouse. The rats showed an inclination to go up breeches legs, and there was rapid hurrying to and fro.

The Durham, Oxford and Clarks-ville Railroad has about seventeen miles of track completed. The builders on the Oxford end division are in camp near Tar river, and a construction engine runs to the camp daily, but some time will elapse before the bridge over Tar river will be ready for the track. Seven miles and more of track has been laid on the Durham end division. Those in authority, say that the two divisions will be connected by the middle of July, and the entire road ready for the trains by August.

Exposition Meeting Postponed.

Owing to another engagement of Stokes Hall on Monday night, the meeting in behalf of the Durham Tobacco Exposition is hereby postponed till Tuesday night, at the same place. This will give ample time for committees to have their reports ready. By order of the President.

The Superior Court.

15. Trice vs. Ellis. Verdict for defendant. Motion for new trial. Motion overruled. Appeal.

84. Roberts vs. Ellis. Continued.

29. J. W. Wiggins, Jr., vs. W. A. Guthrie. This case occupied yesterday afternoon and all of to-day. The case being given to the jury as we go to press.

2. S. D. Hanauer, Kohn & Co. vs. M. Summerfield. Time allowed to file proceedings.

4. S. D. G. C. Farthing vs. Jos. H. Shields. Continued.

The court gave notice that immediately after the trial of Wiggins vs. Guthrie the motion for a new trial in the rape case would be heard.

Mr. F. B. Wyatt, representing a chewing gum house, of Lynchburg, was in town yesterday and to-day. W. J. Wyatt & Co. will handle his goods.

Mr. Luico M. Hill, of Richmond, interviewed our merchants to-day, as also did Mr. W. H. Tolliville, of Baltimore, and Ed. Smith, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. T. Willie Woodhouse was called to his home in Norfolk, by the serious illness of his mother. We regret that her condition has not improved.

Mrs. J. B. Ellington, of Reidsville, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. S. W. Chamberlain. Her husband accompanied her. They returned home yesterday.

Miss E. K. Parker, teacher of Art in Methodist Female Seminary, leaves for her home in the eastern part of the State, Monday. She will return in September.

Mr. C. L. Smith, a former Durhamite, arrived safely in Hamburg, Germany, the 11th. He crossed the ocean to learn of political economy as taught in the German universities.

Mr. W. J. Exum represented the class of 1885 at Trinity College yesterday. Mr. Exum was elected a vice-president of the Alumni Association. An honor most worthily bestowed.

Was Not Struck With Durham.

Bro. Kingsbury, the Nestor of the State press, has been to Chapel Hill. On his return home he viewed Durham from a passing railroad car. He says he was not impressed with our "good looks."

Bro. Kingsbury, Durham is a too cozy maiden to have her many attractions out on dress parade, to be seen from the rear platform of a railroad car, but we have them all the same. Take a week and come back to Durham. Go through the largest smoking tobacco factory in the world, the largest cigarette factory in the world, the largest guano factory in the Golden Belt section, the largest cotton factory in Central Carolina, the largest and most complete bag factory in the South, the largest and best equipped shuttle factory south of Mason and Dixon's line, the largest and best equipped and best furnished tobacco warehouses in the South, the handsomest banking houses, the finest residences, the prettiest women—in fact, we tire. We just close by cordially inviting Bro. Kingsbury to give us a week and we promise to show him the "best all round town" in the State.

Oh, How Beautiful!

Did you take our word for it and visit Miss Parker's Exhibition of Art at the Studio of the Methodist Female Seminary to-day? If you did we can speak your sentiments. If you failed to witness the many attractions which such a visit afforded, you will be poorly compensated in perusing this account, for we feel that it is simply impossible to do the occasion justice with a pen. Like the artist failing to catch the inspiration of the sun set and transfix it upon canvas, so we, poor reporter, confess our utter inability to impress our notes with the inspiration we caught on to at the studio this morning. We found many of our best and most cultivated citizens there, and one and all apparently enjoyed the handsome feast spread out before them. What a fine opportunity the ladies enjoyed of all talking at once, and you may rely upon it, they improved it. How it amused this reporter, standing alongside half dozen pretty women to hear them at the same time, exclaim: "Oh, how beautiful!" "Perfectly splendid!" "Ain't it nice?" "So lovely!" &c., &c. But the exhibit merited it all, and more. This reporter has for many years had a hankering after the best work done by the prettiest girls in school and put forth on commencement week as testimonials of the proficiency of the school in the Art Department, and prides himself somewhat as an authority, and takes the liberty to make this statement: I have a fine Van Severdonck painted in Brussels and recently imported into this country. We will agree to forfeit this painting to either the Greensboro Female College or to Peace Institute, if they can furnish a finer display in their Art Department than the pupils of Miss Parker show, everything considered. Where there was so much to commend it is almost cruel to endeavor to particularize. Mrs. E. J. Parrish and daughter, Miss Lilly; Miss Katie Cox, Miss Lilly Morris, Miss Moring, Miss Ellison, Miss Cozart, Miss Walker, Miss Lora Lyon, Miss Rose Budd, Miss Lizzie Morehead, Miss Annie Watts, the Misses Carr, and Master Jim Walker, show by their work that they only lack application to be most accomplished. We could scarcely believe our own eyes, while we gazed upon the most creditable display of paintings and crayons, and was then convinced that we had such talent in our community. Those who saw the exhibit we know are prepared to endorse all THE PLANT says; those who failed to see it missed much. THE PLANT begs to congratulate Miss Parker upon the very handsome success of the exhibit, and to say to her that the work of her pupils, as shown to-day, stamps her as a master of her Art, and as a teacher and instructor most proficient.
