

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Goldsboro's Jubilee.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., July 13.—Goldsboro executed her part in the programme of Democratic jubileations to-night in rousing style. At 8:30 o'clock, p. m., a large crowd had assembled at the court house where the procession formed in the following order: 1st, chief marshal and two assistants; 2d, speakers in carriages; 3d, the Goldsboro band, led by Capt. William Hinson, which, by the way, acquitted itself greatly to the satisfaction of all; 4th, escort, composed of the Goldsboro Cleveland and Fowle Club and visiting clubs, LaGrange being again well represented by her noble young Democrats; 5th, citizens on foot; 6th, the Davis band of LaGrange, led by Prof. John Portis. This band would be an honor to any town in North Carolina. 7th, mounted men numbering two or three hundred.

The procession then moved down Walnut street to Slocumb, down Slocumb to Creech, where the assemblage was addressed by Rev. George W. Sanderlin. Mr. Sanderlin made a most excellent speech, after which the procession moved up Elm street to William, up William to Pine, where it was again highly entertained for a while by Hon. A. M. Waddell. It then moved up Pine to John, up John to Chestnut street to Mr. H. Well's residence, where Capt. Swift Galloway, in a short but appropriate speech, introduced Hon. Daniel C. Fowle. The Judge poured forth the eloquence of his soul amid the cheers and hurrahs of his many friends of this section. His speech was, as usual, of the very best and greatly enjoyed.

The procession then moved up James street to Oak street, where it halted for a while to hear the good news our Superintendent of Public Instruction, Maj. S. M. Finger, had to relate to his many friends. It then moved down Oak street to the graded school, and there had the pleasure of hearing a most excellent speech delivered by Capt. W. A. Darden. Then the vast crowd moved down William street to Mulberry, up Mulberry to John, down John to Walnut and up Walnut to Humphrey, where it turned its weary but joyous feet homeward.

As the procession moved along the streets it made a grand and beautiful display. The houses on the route were beautifully lighted, and this added greatly to the brilliancy of the demonstration. The procession was nearly three-quarters of a mile in length, and carried many transparencies with various inscriptions upon them. The number of torches was 400 or more. As we passed along the streets occasionally a flaming tar barrel was seen to beautifully light up the surroundings as the grand procession passed. The ratification was one of the grandest successes that has ever been recorded in the town of Goldsboro. The News & Observer extends congratulations.

Situation in the Iron Regions.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—Brown & Co., proprietors of the Wayne Iron Company of this city, signed the scale this morning and another firm is expected to sign. Brown employs 900 men. It is rumored that a meeting of manufacturers would be held here to-day to consider the exigencies of the situation created by the defection of so many manufacturers, but the meeting had not materialized at noon and prominent manufacturers denied that there was to be one.

Speaking of the situation President Keating of the Western Manufacturers' Association said: "A general break may occur to-morrow. I do not know. The manufacturers may do as they please."

A Youngstown, Ohio, telegram says: The Mahoning Valley manufacturers have sent out solicitors for orders and are pushing them to greater activity every day in order that they may be in shape for instant resumption once the signal for starting is given.

LONDON, July 13.—A dispatch from Cape Town says that the Deers mine in Kimberly, the scene of the fire Wednesday night, has been explored. Twenty-four whites and two hundred natives were found burned to death. Cause of the fire unknown.

A Duel Between Gen. Boulanger and Prime Minister Floquet.

PARIS, July 13.—As was expected the insult offered by Gen. Boulanger to Prime Minister Floquet in the Chamber of Deputies last evening resulted in a duel. The two gentlemen, attended by their seconds, met in the vicinity of Paris at 10 o'clock this morning and both combatants were wounded. The duel occurred on Count Dillon's estate a Neuilly sur Seine, a short distance from the city. Gen. Boulanger was wounded in the arm and neck. His wounds are not dangerous. M. Floquet's hand was scratched by Gen. Boulanger's sword. Farther than this he was not touched. Floquet's colleagues in the ministry were waiting at his house for the news of the duel and were overjoyed to see the Prime Minister return safe. He was given an ovation. A small crowd of Gen. Boulanger's followers were in front of his house when he returned home.

LATER.—Details of the duel are to the following effect: At the second encounter Gen. Boulanger was slightly wounded in the leg and M. Floquet received a cut on the right hand. After resting the men renewed the fighting for a third time. Gen. Boulanger made a lunge at M. Floquet's left breast, but only slightly touched the mark. Gen. Boulanger then received a wound in the throat which put an end to the encounter. The wound is a severe one, but on account of hemorrhage, the doctors are unable to decide whether it is likely to prove serious.

The duel was fiercely fought. Gen. Boulanger tried hard to kill M. Floquet, and threw himself upon him again and again. When M. Floquet received the wound in the hand it began to bleed, and the seconds decided that the fight should be discontinued, but both combatants refused to stop. It is now believed that the wound in Gen. Boulanger's throat is a serious one. M. Floquet received scratches on his hand, chest and foot.

The seconds have made a formal report in which they state that Boulanger received a serious wound in the neck. Dr. Menod, who is attending Boulanger, has issued a bulletin regarding his condition. It says there is a deep wound in the right side of the General's neck and that it causes marked difficulty in respiration. At present the Doctor is unable to give an opinion as to what turn the case may take.

The Railway Troubles.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13.—The switchmen held a stormy meeting last night, which resulted in a lifting of the boycott on the Burlington freight. Notice was sent to all roads centering in this city stating that all members of the union would handle all freight offered without discrimination. This course removed the question which had called the officials of the various roads here, and their proposed meeting was abandoned. The Burlington road had nearly the full quota of men on duty yesterday, and expect to handle all freight and passenger traffic. The strikers have issued a long statement reciting their grievances and intimating that while it is possible that they may resume work in the Council Bluffs division they will never return to the Hannibal road.

Powder Works Blow Up.

READING, Pa., July 13.—Laffin & Rand's large powder works near Cresson blew up this afternoon, killing George Gilman, Charles Reed and Henry Bimech, who were the only persons about the place. Their bodies were thrown two hundred yards from the scene of the explosion. The building was destroyed by fire which followed the explosion, the force of which was heard ten miles away, as a large quantity of powder was stored in the building. Had the explosion occurred shortly before it did a dozen men might have been killed.

Playing at His Own Hanging.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 13.—Ebenezer Stanyard, the Youngstown murderer who killed his sweetheart, Alice Hancock, early in 1886, was hanged in the penitentiary annex at 10 o'clock this morning. He played the accordion while going on the scaffold and appeared at ease, talking a great deal and meeting his fate with a great deal more nerve than many supposed he would.
