

SUMMARY.

General of General Williams Carter...
PRINCE BISMARCK is ill. His avoirdupois is decreasing, and that makes him feel queer.
It makes an editor mad to write a nice headline, and put the credit below it and get all ready to paste the clipping, and then find that a passing July breeze has blown the item out of the window.—Somerville Journal.
Correct. But the feeling of disappointment is more than overcome by the delight of having a breeze that is able to blow, this melting day.
The Senate is yet in a state of uncertainty as to its action on the tariff. This is about the sum of all the news we can obtain on the subject: "At a meeting of a number of leading Republican Senators and Representatives to-day, there was expressed a strong opposition to the Republican Senators reporting a tariff or revenue bill in opposition to the Mills bill. It was thought to be the best policy to go into the canvass in opposition to the Democratic bill without proposing a Republican alternate. It seems probable this evening that policy will prevail. Senator Sherman and Representative McKinley strongly favor it, and Senators Frye and Mitchell, Representative Butterworth and others are of the same mind. There are Senators who strongly hold that their party ought to produce a bill to oppose the Mills bill, but they do not seem to gain much ground for their opinion. Nothing is settled yet, and there will probably be a joint caucus of the Republicans on the question, held some day this week, at which an attempt will be made to decide upon a definite policy."

TOWN TALK.

—Help along the hospital movement.
—Big breaks at our warehouses to-day.
—Read the information relative to a co-operative cotton factory in THE PLANT of to-day.
—The Good Templars will elect officers to-morrow night. A full attendance is desired.
—Preparations for placing the drinking fountains in position move slowly, if they are moving at all. Why?
—We regret to learn that the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Dyer died at their home in High Point yesterday evening.
—The time for working for THE DAILY PLANT gold watch will expire next Tuesday evening. Put in your best licks between now and then.
—An official call has been issued for a convention of the Third party to be held in Durham on the 11th of August for the purpose of nominating a county ticket.
—The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Church meets every Friday afternoon at the Seminary. The hour for meeting has recently been changed from 5:30 to 6 o'clock.
—The Durham Light Infantry Band, with the exception of one or two members, returned from the Encampment yesterday afternoon. As we expected, our band made a fine impression and extended its reputation.
—The letter from the Durham Light Infantry will be missed in this issue of THE PLANT. For some reason it failed to reach us. These letters have been read with great interest and we are sorry to have to disappoint our readers to-day.
—We are informed that Rev. G. W. Sanderlin, Capt. B. H. Bunn, Mr. C. B. Green and other distinguished speakers will address the citizens of Leesville, Wake county, on Saturday, August 11th. It is estimated that there will be three thousand people present on that occasion.
—Mr. C. B. Green has accepted an invitation to speak at a Democratic ratification and barbecue at Leesville, Wake county, on the 11th of August. Mr. Green is an earnest, effective speaker, and we promise our friends in the Leesville section that he will make them a speech worth hearing.

A $50,000 Frog.

Did you ever hear of such a thing before? It is right on our table now and was brought from the North by Mr. J. D. Goodwin. Having undergone a process of redemption and maceration it depreciated somewhat in value and consequently was bought for something less than $50,000. Call on Mr. Goodwin for particulars.

It Has Come.

The street sprinkler is here. We saw it at the warehouse to-day. It is suggestive of a jollification over the transition of a town from "dry" to "wet". There is a large green barrel mounted on a ponderous red truck. We fear the sight of the barrel will make some folks want to start for Hickstown at once. The sprinkler is attached to the rear of the barrel and is about six feet wide. Now pay the freight on it, take it out of the warehouse and let us see how it works.

Information About Co-Operative Cotton Factories.

We are indebted to Mr. J. J. Gormley, Secretary and Treasurer of one of Charlotte's Co-Operative Cotton Factories, for a copy of the Charter and By-Laws of his company, which is known as the Ada Manufacturing Company. The charter describes the business as "that of spinning cotton, wool and other textile productions and the manufacture of the same into cloth and other fabrics and the sale of the same."
The amount of capital stock is fixed at one hundred thousand dollars, with the privilege of starting with a less amount and also of increasing to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The capital stock is divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each and subscriptions are payable in weekly instalments of fifty cents a share for each week from the organization of the corporation.
The affairs of the company are controlled by a board of directors elected annually by the stockholders. One of the directors is elected President. The Secretary and Treasurer is elected by the Board, but he need not be a member thereof.
In meetings of the stockholders, each stockholder is entitled to cast one vote for each share of stock held or subscribed for by him, but no stockholder can vote upon stock upon which any weekly instalment is due and unpaid. Annual meetings of the stockholders are held, but special meetings may be held at any time upon the call of a majority of the Board of Directors after ten days' notice.
The stockholders at any regular or called meeting, may authorize money to be borrowed for the conduct of the business and prescribe the amount.
From the by-laws of the company, we copy the following sections, which will give our readers further insight to the manner in which the affairs of the corporation are managed:
SECTION 1.—Members of the Corporation shall be persons of the age of twenty-one (21) years and upwards. Minors may hold stock by Trustees, but not otherwise.
SECTION 2.—Each stockholder shall obligate himself, in writing, to pay his weekly installments, interest, and penalties, and to faithfully observe and fulfill all the requirements of the charter and by-laws.
SECTION 18.—It shall be the duty of the Board of Directors, at least ten days previous to every annual election for Directors, to appoint from the stockholders three competent persons to investigate the affairs of said corporation, and to make report thereof, which report shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose, which shall always be open to the inspection of any stockholder.
SECTION 19.—Any officer of the corporation may be removed or suspended for neglect of duty, breach of trust, or other sufficient causes, by the Board of Directors.
SECTION 20.—All weekly installments of fifty cents per share on stock subscribed for shall be paid to the Secretary and Treasurer on Saturday of each week, and the amount paid shall be placed to the credit of the shareholder by the Secretary and Treasurer in the books of the Corporation.
SECTION 21.—Any shareholder failing to pay the weekly installment, of fifty (50) cents per share when due, shall be charged with interest on the amount unpaid at the rate of eight per cent. per annum after maturity.

SECTION 22.—If any stockholder shall fail to pay the weekly installments, of fifty (50) cents per share, for twelve (12) consecutive weeks, the stock of such delinquent may be declared forfeited by the Board of Directors, and after advertisement in the manner required by law, for the sale of personal property under execution, by the Secretary and Treasurer of the Corporation, the same shall be sold at public auction for account of such delinquent, and the net proceeds of such sale be applied first to the payment of all amounts due the Corporation by such delinquent, and the balance, if any, paid to the delinquent, provided, however, that the forfeiture and sale of stock of any delinquent shall not release him from his original subscription.
SECTION 27.—No officer of this Corporation shall be interested in any way in any contract entered into with this Corporation.

CLEAN WATER.

Let the public visit the water reservoir and see for themselves that the water is clean. Every precaution is taken to keep everything around the reservoir clean. A tight board fence 4 1/2 feet high has been built and no toad can get in. I and my family use the water every day, and this we would not do if we did not know it was clean and wholesome.
