We would be pleased to have our reporters from the different markets to report more promptly.

Receipts and sales on our market the past week have been small. The weather for the past few days has been unfavorable for hauling tobacco to market.

Henderson, N. C. Receipts and sales on our market the past week have been small.

Letter From Rev. Dr. Yates. We copy from the State Chronicle the following letter from Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates, the beloved pastor of Trinity Methodist church.

"In compliance with your request I give you, as briefly as I can, a few points with regard to my dear brother.

"While a mere child his father's health failed, and his early education was, therefore, limited; but his mother being a woman of remarkable mental ability and goodness, was able, with the aid of the common schools of that day, to give him a good start in books.

An Anaconda in the Streets of New York City.

From the New York Sun we learn that a veritable anaconda made its appearance in that city a few days ago. It came out of the man hole of a sewer near the corner of First street and Second avenue, just as one of the public schools close by was letting out, and the street was lined with several hundred children, who, on seeing the immense snake, ran and shrieked, one of them crying out: "Look out for the crocodile."

Winston-Salem: Hogs are dying in large numbers in Davie county from cholera. Another large crowd of hogs passed through the city last week to work on the Roanoke & Southern.

Wilmington Messenger: Another car load of Italians passed this city last night en route to Charleston, where they are to be employed in the phosphate quarries.

Worth Knowing. Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running nose.

Kiln Dried Lumber! Thanking the public for its very generous patronage, we hope in our new departure to meet a continuance.
