

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
(Cash in Advance)
One Copy, One Year, $1.50.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.
All communications are hereby notified that to insure the insertion of their communications they must furnish with their bona fide name and address, which we obligate to keep in strict confidence. Write only on one side of the sheet.
The printer is not responsible for the views of his correspondents.
Address all communications to
THE TOBACCO PLANT,
DURHAM, N. C.

The Tobacco Plant.

VOL. XVII--NO. 47.

DURHAM, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1888.

$1.50 PER ANNUM

RATES FOR ADVERTISING:

1 inch, one insertion,.....	$ 1.00
1 inch, one month,.....	2.50
1 inch, three months,.....	5.00
1 inch, six months,.....	7.50
1 inch, one year,.....	10.00
1 column, three months,.....	15.00
1 column, six months,.....	20.00
1 column, one year,.....	25.00
1 column, three months,.....	30.00
1 column, six months,.....	35.00
1 column, one year,.....	40.00
1 column, one insertion,.....	10.00
2 columns, one insertion,.....	15.00

Space to suit advertiser charged for in accordance with above rates.

THE DISASTER.

Two More Assignments Since Our Last Issue.

We regret to have to announce that two more assignments have been made since our issue of Friday—John L. Markham, dealer in general merchandise, and Mrs. B. Davis, merchant tailoress. We are not so well acquainted with the affairs of the latter, but we feel safe in predicting that every dollar of John L. Markham's liabilities will be paid in full and that he will have enough left to give him a good send off after the debris of the present crash has been swept away. He has labored diligently for many years and as a result of his toil has accumulated considerable property and it would be sincerely regretted if financially he should be overtake him. We do not believe such will be the case. The step he has taken was "necessitated by the fact that his name was upon paper in the Bank of Durham and believing that no one will lose by Mr. Blackwell's assignment, we feel satisfied that Mr. Markham nor any of his creditors will suffer loss.

The assignments of to-day are as follows:

JOHN L. MARKHAM, dealer in general merchandise, assigns to H. H. May and W. E. Foster, and assigns all his stock of goods; all notes, accounts and evidences of debt of every kind; household and kitchen furniture; horses, mules, cattle, wagons, etc.; two shares in the Durham Street Railway; ten shares in the Durham Furniture Manufacturing Co.; one share in the Lynchburg and Durham railroad, and twenty-three lots or tracts of land. Proceeds are to be applied as follows:

1. W. W. Fuller, attorney, $250 for services.
2. All clerks and employes amounts due them; all rents due to date.
3. Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Equitable Life Assurance Society, Life Insurance Co. of Va., Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, U. S. Mutual Accident Association, all premiums due and hereafter becoming due on life insurance policies on John L. Markham's life in said companies, said insurance being effected for the benefit of his creditors; all taxes; expenses of executing trust; $100 per month to H. H. Markham and $70 per month to W. E. Foster as long as he holds the office of Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, and $100 per month after he ceases to hold said office, during existence of this trust—these salaries to be full compensation to the parties as trustees.

4. C. G. Markham, $1,371.95, subject to small credit; Mrs. W. J. Phipps, $44.18; Leaksville Woolen Mills, amount due it; Committee First Baptist Church, $216; F. C. Geer, $27.80; F. C. Geer, executor J. W. Cheek, $20.29; F. C. Geer, treasurer Eno Lodge, $20.04 and interest; G. C. Farthing, whatever is due him; A. D. Markham, $210.45; F. D. Doherty, $20.75; McNamee Mills Co., $142.21; W. A. Crabtree, 75 cents; Martha Sears, $21.80; treasurer Durham Graded School Committee, $32.99; A. P. Strowd, $14.47; W. A. McCauley, $1.50; DURHAM TOBACCO PLANT, $31.80; E. C. Hackney, whatever may be due him; J. S. Mangum, $2.56; George Murray, $1.47; J. W. Fries, E. H. Fries, T. M. Holt, J. H. & W. E. Holt & Co., L. S. Holt, Randolph Manufacturing Co., any sums due any of them on account; Anthicum & Bethel, amount due them; Dock, $7.02; Wm. Johnson, $4.05; C. C. Taylor, W. H. Holloway, W. J. & Wyatt & Co., Mrs. C. M. V. Follett, A. M. Riggsbee, Robertson, Lloyd & Co., Seeman & Son, J. V. Whitte, D. C. Mangum, any sums due them; Chas. W. Johnston, $500 and interest; Miss Amanda C. Cheek, $700 and interest; Mrs. C. L. Markham, $1,000 and interest; R. B. Black, $150 and interest; R. B. Black, $150 and interest; First Baptist Church, $50; I. N. Link, L. T. Buchanan, Southern Express Co., T. J. Riggsbee, Durham County Bible Society, any sums due them; Students' Aid Society Wake Forest College, $100; J. N. Cheek, $250 and interest; J. M. F. Hall, $600 and interest; J. T. Malone, $1,500 and interest; Amber Banks, $800 and interest; Henry Neal, $500 and interest; John W. Markham, $1,200 and interest; Dr. Thomas Hogan, $650 and interest; H. H. Patterson, $400 and interest; W. J. Blackwood, $100 and interest; A. A. Andrews, $100 and interest; Miss Mary Geer, $100 and interest; W. A. Malone, $400 and interest; A. E. Roberts, $200 and interest; A. T. Roberts, $100 and interest; G. E. Nissen, $200 and interest; John L. Markham's acceptance of W. T. Blackwell's draft and what is due on open account; G. Ober Sons & Co., $2,043.11; Southern Fertilizer Co., $2,552.33; Durham Fertilizer Co., $2,263.25 and any amount due on account.

5. W. T. Blackwell, all sums due by said Markham individually and personally as principal to said Blackwell, or by the Bank of Durham, or by W. S. Halliburton, Cashier; this class shall not include those papers on which he is maker, drawer or endorser (or principal in any shape) in form merely though really not for his own personal use and benefit.

6. To all other creditors equally and pro rata.

7. Any surplus to John L. Markham or his legal representatives.

MRS. B. DAVIS.

Mrs. B. Davis, merchant tailoress, assigns to T. J. Lambe, and conveys stock of merchandise. Proceeds of sale to be applied as follows:

1. J. S. Manning, attorney, $20 fees.
2. Costs of executing trusts, including five per cent. to attorney.

From "An Old Yank."

We commend the following truthful and sensible letter, in reference to the people of North Carolina, to the editor of the Wilmington Courier. It is a means for hurling vituperation at the South generally. As will be seen, this letter is from an ex-Union soldier and a Republican, who lived three years among us, and who, while here, did not attempt to disguise who he was nor what he was, but spoke of these things "freely at all proper times and places in a gentlemanly, considerate manner," and never received an unkind word or look on account of being a northern man and an old soldier.

Dirty Work in Greene.

It is reported from Greene county that the reports from that county are true the Radicals of that county have done some very dirty work. The Registrar in Hookerton township, Mr. J. S. Smith, was tried yesterday at Snow Hill on the charge of registering negroes on Sunday before the election, said negroes having been in the county for only a few days. It is said Mr. Smith registered them without their consent and persuaded some of them to vote. The poll holders were also tried for allowing them to vote. The negroes' names were put on the registration book without being sworn.

It is also reported that nearly one hundred negro women were dressed in men's clothing, and having been registered under an assumed name. This, it is said, was done principally in Old's township, and the fact that this township gave the best vote and seventy-five Republican majority, whereas it has heretofore been giving only between twenty-five and forty majority is strongly confirmatory of the charge.

We hope the Democrats will thoroughly investigate these charges and if they be true see to it that the perpetrators of such infamous fraud are severely punished.

A Duel to Death.

The New York Sun publishes a special from Birmingham, Ala., giving the details of a terrible duel fought at Monteville, Ala., last Saturday. W. W. Shortridge, a lawyer, and Robert Nabors, a physician of that place, had a dispute concerning some collections which the lawyer had made for the physician. They finally agreed to settle the matter by fighting with bowie knives in a darkened room. The men entered the room and fought desperately for ten minutes. The door was then broken in by friends who had heard the noise of the duellists.

Reward of Honesty.

De Nabors, when the door was broken open, rushed into the street. He was also cut in a frightful manner, and bleeding from a dozen wounds. He seemed to have been made crazy with pain. He ran down the street with his knife in his hand. He attempted to cut a negro whom he met. The negro knocked him down with his fist. In falling down Nabors' skull was fractured and he never regained consciousness. His sadler and Davis worked with him until midnight, when he died.

Newspaper Obituary.

The following is an extract from the obituary notice of a Kansas newspaper published in another paper of the same town: "The pen is silent; the office scissors have been laid away to rust. The stillness of death pervades the very atmosphere where once the hoarse voice of the devil yelling 'copy' or 'what-in-the-hell-is-that?' was wont to resound. The pastepot has soured on the what-not; the cock-roach is eating the composition off the roller, and the blue-bottle fly is dying in the rich fields of the printers' towel."

A Rich Discovery.

Mining and financial circles are having a sensation to discuss to-day over an extraordinary rich find of gold on the Elwood place, three and a half miles from the city, the property of Mr. John P. Hunter, a well-known farmer. Mr. Hunter was ploughing in a cotton field when the ploughshare struck a rock, discovering a "pocket" laden with the yellow metal. Investigation subsequently made were sufficient to inform Mr. Hunter that the vein was an exceedingly rich one and about twelve feet wide.

A Compromise.

O'Rourke (entering hardware store)—"The boss sint me down after a pane of glass, tin be fourteen." Waggish Clerk—"Well, Pat, I don't think I can give you a ten-by-fourteen, but I can let you have a four-teen-by-ten, if you think you can make that do."

Pat (struck with a bright idea)—"He heavens! just gimme wan av them, and O'll just turn th sideways av it upside down, an' O'll don't be lave the boss himself ud ever know th difference."

Cleveland and the South.

Goldboro Argus. If Mr. Cleveland, in the hour of his defeat, suffers the pangs of a disappointed ambition, he may well console himself in that he has the affection, admiration and gratitude of the people of the South.

We of the Southern States are bound to feel that he stumbled and fell before the embittered and malignant North, under the self-imposed burden of a firm determination and high purpose to shield and serve the Southern people.

The armies of the country through their conquests, and Congress by its reconstruction acts may claim to have restored the Union, but President Cleveland re-united the country. The Union existed only in name until he came to the Executive seat of the government. There he was practically not a co-partner in the light of an attempt to intimidate voters. In this State an attempt to intimidate a voter is a misdemeanor.

Asheboro Courier: The Directors of the new railroad from High Point to Asheboro met in consultation last week. Proposals looking to the immediate building of the road were submitted to the company through Col. Andrews.

Petitioning the President Elect.

At Birmingham, Alabama, and other points in the manufacturing districts of the South, parties are petitioning General Harrison on the subject of the treatment of the South at the hands of his administration. They state that he now has an opportunity of making a national administration that will break all sectional lines, and result in a united country. He is urged to appoint good officials in the South and to give to the South an enlightened treatment. It is reported that the signers are very numerous, and include prominent business men irrespective of party.

There is well grounded apprehension throughout the South that the attitude of the new administration will be of an unfriendly character to ward this section, and the manufacturing districts view the situation with no little alarm.

Our Navy.

Chief Contractor Wilson, of the Navy, in his annual report of the operations of his bureau during the past fiscal year, shows an expenditure of $885,349 in the repair of ships, and payments on account of vessels in course of construction during the year amounting to $3,266,195. The present strength of our navy, and the condition of the vessels is summarized as follows:

Five double turreted monitors awaiting completion; two belted cruisers, preparing ways; thirteen single turreted monitors, in ordinary; twenty-three unarmored steel and iron vessels, four of which are in commission, eleven building, two repairing, five on station, and one undergoing repairs; and eleven iron and wood steam tug boats.

A Mean Trick on Mr. Linney.

Charlotte Chronicle. Mr. R. Z. Linney sat down to a nice dish, at a banquet in Taylorsville, the other night. His friends gave him a "possum" supper, in honor of Harrison's election, and somebody took occasion to play a mean trick in ordinary and slyly substituted for one of the "possums," and it happened that the substitute was placed in front of Mr. Linney. The animal was a little tough, but no one at the table knew its true character until after the feast. The party who is responsible for the trick is not known, and it is probably good for his health in ordinary and slyly substituted for one of the "possums," and that both Mr. Linney and Will Boger dined on the cat.

Blaine and Harrison.

The Indianapolis, (Ind.) News quotes the following from the Philadelphia Record: "On the whole it would have been better for his party if Mr. Blaine had prolonged his stay in England. He has done Harrison more harm than good; his magnet is now a millstone to the neck of whomsoever it hangs." The News adds: "We believe that there is a great deal of truth in that. Certainly Mr. Blaine did Harrison no good in Indiana. Harrison owes Blaine nothing." Significance is lent to these remarks by the fact that the editor of the News is a close personal friend of General Harrison.

New Berne Journal: It is reported that there is not a vacant house in the city. There is plenty of lumber at our saw mills and mechanics are ready for work.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitations of King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good or just as sure. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. Blackall & Son's drug store. Large bottles $1.

OUR EXCHANGES.

Person Courier: John S. Cunningham, Chief Marshal of the Weldon fair, took the first premium for the finest pair of driving horses.

Orange Observer: Rev. George W. Harman, of Rutherfordton, has accepted a call from the Baptist Church at Hillsboro. He is expected to take charge about the 1st of December.

Oxford News: We are informed that the railway mail service on the O. & C. R. R. will be extended to Durham and Raleigh in a short time. The work of track laying on the Durham and Northern Railroad has been nearly completed.

Smithfield Herald: Jim Watson, the notorious chicken thief and burglar, who was lodged in jail a few months since for various thefts committed in and around Smithfield, was this week sentenced to ten years' labor in the State Penitentiary by Judge Avery.

Wilmington Review: It is said that the grand jury at the next term of the Criminal Court will probably consider J. B. Evans' bulldozing incident in the light of an attempt to intimidate voters. In this State an attempt to intimidate a voter is a misdemeanor.

Asheboro Courier: The Directors of the new railroad from High Point to Asheboro met in consultation last week. Proposals looking to the immediate building of the road were submitted to the company through Col. Andrews.

Charlotte Chronicle: The Ada Mills, one of the three new cotton factories erected in Charlotte this year, commenced business yesterday. The Ada is one of the most finely equipped mills in all its appointments to be found in the South, possessing all the improvements now known.

Reidsville Democrat: The engineering corps of the Atlantic and Danville railway, in charge of Civil Engineer Frank Ruffin, have completed the survey to Milton, N. C., a distance of thirteen miles, and the line has been located. Thieves have been stealing horses at Danbury and Walnut Cove.

Goldboro Argus: The Legislative returns of this State show that, in addition to the consoling fact that the coming General Assembly will be strongly Democratic, it will also have a goodly representation of farmers, which means that mature and wholesome legislation may be expected as the result of their deliberations.

Goldboro Argus: Fred Eubanks, nineteen years old, was recently and fatally shot, near Beaufort, by a party by the name of Silas Eubanks. They were hunting wild cattle and Silas' gun hammer was caught by a briar and discharged, the contents burying themselves in Fred's back, killing him instantly. They were from Craven county, near New Bern.

Wilmington Review: Some are complaining of the fact that mocking birds are getting very scarce here now, due to the fact that the boys go hunting in the woods and shoot them. We do not think that there is any law against this, but there is a mocking bird ought to be spanked and sent to bed without his supper.

Wilmington Star: The guard house at police headquarters was empty yesterday, for the first time in many months. The Second Presbyterian Church, Rev. John W. Primrose, pastor, will have a large and admirable building when it is completed. It is being pushed forward. It will seat between five and six hundred comfortably. The seats are slightly elevated one above the other.

Wilmington Star: There are six British steamships at the Compresses loading cotton for foreign ports, and the presses are running night and day. The aggregate capacity of the steamers is about 25,000 bales.

Messrs. L. Hansen and Andrew Smith are making arrangements with a view to engaging in the manufacture of terra cotta, lumber and other articles of sand and clay, by compression.

Asheboro Citizen: In Spring Creek, where Mr. Lusk was born and raised, Mr. Starnes received 128 votes, Lusk 51. In Lower Hominy, where Mr. Starnes was born and raised and where Mr. Lusk lived for many years, Mr. Starnes received 133, Mr. Lusk 67. In Eastate township, Transylvania county, not a single Republican vote was cast at the recent election, and in three other townships in the same county, only ten Republicans were polled. Another shooting scrape occurred in the city last Friday night, in which Mr. John Neighbors was severely wounded by a man supposed to be McInturf, who lives on Bull Creek, Madison county. The weapon used was a 38-calibre, self-cocking American bull-dog revolver, and the shot entered the right thigh of Mr. Neighbors, inflicting a very serious wound.

Charlotte Chronicle: A call has been issued for conference of the State Committee and other prominent prohibitionists, to meet in Greensboro on Tuesday, November 20th. A special engine on the O. & C. R. Railroad yesterday demonstrated an old colored man at a crossing near Charlotte. The darkey was seated on a wagon which was loaded with several bags of meal, and to which was attached a pair of mules. The mules wanted to stop just as the

FROM WASHINGTON.

Sackville West's Sale—Still Figuring in Vain to Get a Democratic Majority—Hon. George West, a prominent Democrat, special correspondence to the Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Today there was a crush at the British Legation. All sorts of things were sold, furniture, bric-a-brac, books, &c., &c. But for the disaster to the Bank of Durham, I would have expected one or two of your enterprising citizens to have been present. It was a rare chance to get some costly and unique articles very cheap. Lord Sackville West's wines are said to be the finest in America. These go under the auctioneer's hammer also.

The employees of the House of Representatives are still figuring on the returns, trying their level best to get an extra Democrat or two in. Hon. George West was at the Capitol today making an effort to out-gauge them. He was displaying some fraudulent tickets with which the Republicans in Virginia tried to compass his defeat. He says it would be a fine thing for Billy Mahone to be a member of Harrison's Cabinet. He thinks nothing would please the Democrats of Virginia better. He laughed heartily at Quay and Mahone's boast about superintending the count in Virginia and explaining how impossible it would be for either one of them to interfere in the matter.

The following storekeepers and gaugers were appointed today: John W. May, A. A. Morgan, J. W. Chamberlain, John E. Brown, and J. F. Eyerly, all in the Fifth District.

Capt. Arthur Barnes has returned to his duties on the Senate side of the Capitol. Mr. Henry G. Williams is expected in a few days. He is Assistant Superintendent of the Document room and will prove a most valuable addition to the figures of the Capitol. A man he can't count on, is not worth making much of.

News from the Capital—Special correspondence to the Press.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 17, '88. Capt. C. M. Roberts reports that members-elect have nearly all chosen seats in the Senate and House halls. There will hardly be a "Democrat side" and "Republican side" in the House this time for the reason that the Democrats have such a large number of Representatives that seats and positions all over the hall will be required for their accommodation.

It was learned by your correspondent today that the disabled Confederate pensioners will hold their convention here during the session of the legislature. An old veteran soldier who can by any means get here will attend. It appears that they think the State amply able, and should give a much broader and liberal recognition of their services than it now does; and they will press their claims in this direction. It is reported that the railroads will furnish passes generally to all who may wish to attend.

It is certain that a new bank will be in operation here soon. The Chamber of Commerce and Industry suggested and discussed the imperative need of more ample facilities for obtaining business capital, and this set the ball in motion. Positive and satisfactory arrangements are now being made for its early opening.

The stockholders of the North Carolina Wagon Company will complete their organization here next Monday night, by the election of directors and officers, and it is proposed to begin the manufacture of wagons within the next sixty days.

There are now quite a number of Northern visitors here, who stopped while en route for various points in the town were so favorably impressed with it, that they will be here here instead of at their first destination.

Rev. W. G. Clements, who has for some time past been pastor of the Christian church in this city, has been called to and accepted another station. Rev. J. L. Foster, of Alamance county, will succeed him, and begin about December 1st.

The theatrical season here will be a gay and lively one. Nearly every night in December has been booked for some attraction. Among the specialties may be mentioned "Bill Nye" and Josh Whitcomb Riley, who are arranging to appear here on the 24th of the month. Hamilton New York Church Choir Opera Company on Dec. 2nd and 3rd. This company is composed of prominent and able vocalists who sing in the grand church choir of New York. A special attraction will be the presentation of "Joseph" a grand cantata, by local vocalists supported by a chorus of sixty voices and orchestra. This will be the grandest affair ever undertaken by amateurs in this State.

The cotton receipts here for the past week exceed those of the same week last year by 584 bales. The market is strong and thoroughly lively.

There is already some lively canvassing and "running to and fro" for positions in the legislature. W. P. Turner, a wounded Confederate soldier, will try to get the position of Doorkeeper to the Senate over W. V. Clifton, who has held it for about twenty years.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Piles, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. Blackall & Son.

THE SHOTWELL MONUMENT.

The beautiful granite monument erected by the Shotwell Memorial Association to Capt. Randolph A. Shotwell has just been placed in Oakwood Cemetery, where it now stands.

Although not the loftiest or most prominent of the many handsome shafts which rear their heads in this beautiful spot, none are more delicately and tastefully designed and more expensively finished.

It is of the "cottage" design and stands thirteen feet in height and is surmounted with a beautifully wrought iron top with elegant drapery. The caps are ornamented with delicately carved oak leaves, and altogether the shaft presents an appearance of massive beauty. It was erected at a cost of nearly one thousand dollars, and is, indeed, a handsome tribute to the memory of the great and noble Shotwell.

The four sides of the monument are embellished with beautiful and appropriate inscriptions. On the first is a delicately wrought monogram consisting of the initials R. A. S. with the following inscription underneath:

"In Memoriam
Randolph Abbott Shotwell, late Captain company I, 8th regiment, Virginia volunteers, Confederate States Army; born Dec. 13th, 1851, in West Liberty, Va.; died July 31, 1885, in Raleigh, N. C."

The second side bears the following inscription:

"A patriot whose honor and constancy suffering could weaken, no advantage tempt, no loss dismay, and in whom all the attributes of true greatness were so nicely adjusted and so exactly placed that it was not until he had passed into life eternal that man saw that he had reached the full stature of a man."

On the third is the following:

"This monument is erected by the people of his adopted State as a tribute to a soldier whose courage and patriotism in six great battles, and who, in the midst of disaster, captivity and defeat, kept unshaken his fidelity to his cause, his country and his comrades-in-arms."

The fourth bears the following:

"Three years in battle, from Leesburg to Cold Harbor, with Pickett's men, and three in prison, at Fort Delaware and Albany."

Creditable Forbearance.

The Asheville Citizen thus takes issue with the Wilmington Messenger in Jordan matters.

"We do not agree with the Wilmington Messenger in condemning the course of the citizens of Durham in expatriating the man Jordan. On the contrary, the provocation given was leniently punished. The Messenger itself says that 'Mr. Jordan, running for office, and supported by the colored people, appealed to them in an uncertain sound, and that in the heat of campaign he gave loose rein to feeling and expression which in its fullest effect, if unchecked, could but lead to violent demonstration and unrestrained license on the part of his super-heated colored followers.'"

"He did appeal with such effect that the dwelling of Mr. C. B. Green was destroyed, himself and family narrowly escaping with their lives."

"There was little question of Jordan's agency in the matter. That he, with such complicity, escaped with his life, is creditable to the forbearance of an incensed and menaced people. It is no mitigation of Jordan's guilt, that, as the Messenger says, 'two days after the election, if let alone, he would not only have been a very harmless, but quite a good citizen, who cannot be trusted in time of trial and excitement. The seeds of mischief only lay dormant in Jordan's heart awaiting the occasion to germinate in mischievous luxuriance. No community wants, or ought to harbor, such a class of possible 'good citizens.'"

Sudden Death.

Kentucky Colonel—"Yis, the paper found upon the deceased prove that he was Col. Blood."

Witness—"There was also a quart bottle found in one of his pockets."

Coroner—"Was the bottle empty?"

Witness—"No, sir, it was full—hadn't been touched."

Coroner—"Poor fellow, he must have died without a moment's warning."

A little girl spent the afternoon at her grandmother's. When she came home her mother asked, "Have you been a good girl, dear?" "No, you very," answered the truthful little one, "but oh, I've had lots of fun!"

Rev. Sam P. Jones.

It was reported here a week or two ago that Sam Jones was seriously ill and this was followed by another report that he was dead. These reports lacked confirmation and were not generally believed, but still they created some uneasiness. The matter that follows will show that Sam is not only alive, but that he is still engaged in the work of "hanging hides on poles" in his own inimitable style.

The reporter for the Vicksburg Herald made a thrust at Sam in the following special to his paper:

"GREENVILLE, Nov. 12.—Sam Jones insulted the Jewish rabbi in the following words: 'I am told that the old Jew rabbi has got on his ear because I said something about him. Now let the old Jew go on his ear if he wants to, and I am himself with the other ear. I don't care.' Sam Jones has been very studious to insult Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists and Episcopalians, but his mission was ended when he offered the plain insult to the people who do not go to hear his nonsense and have lived before he came to Greenville. Sam is very unentertaining; his main forte is to pull his mustache and finger his hair and call ladies sister who would not associate with him, to call men brother, who would despise him as an old worn out drunkard, and who uses his text for causes that are so far away from glory that God doesn't recognize his lingo—such is the infamous Sam Jones."

The Greenville Delta has the following upon what Sam had to say about the fellow that tackled him:

"God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons for the Vicksburg Herald, missed it this morning. Rev. Mr. Jones paid his respects to him in a manner calculated to jerk the cuticle from his quivering carcass. He called the elegant colonel 'a stinking, lying, and thieving scoundrel,' and other soothing names which we don't just now recall. He said further: 'God, Jack Lavin, who is here reporting Sam Jones' sermons