

SUMMARY.

The remains of Washington Bishop, the blind reader, were buried from Grace Church, New York, yesterday. An earthquake shock lasting 2 minutes and 12 seconds, was felt in California, yesterday. Kerr Craig, collector of Internal Revenue of the fifth district, sent in his resignation yesterday. The Shah of Persia yesterday arrived at Rostov on his way to St. Petersburg. The remains of the teacher shot by her husband in Washington were buried in that city. Her husband's body was carried to Charlottesville, Va., and there buried. Commissioner Tanner tells the Federal pensioners that they need not be uneasy about their pensions. The pension appropriation has not become exhausted. Fears are entertained for the schooner Eunity B. Dryer, which left Beaufort, N. C., for New York nineteen days ago and has not been heard from. Mrs. Cleveland's mother was to be married last night to a man named Perrine, at Jackson, Mich. A New York battery of artillery yesterday erected a monument on East Cemetery Hill, where they had a hand to hand fight with the Louisiana Tigers. Yesterday Gilliam, the July artist, had his hands and face badly burned while putting out fire that had caught the clothing of the four year old daughter of Arkell, the proprietor of some paper. The child was badly but not seriously burned.

THE Federal Grand Jury in Indiana is again investigating the subject of the election frauds and bribery of last fall. It is to be hoped no Judge Woods will interfere with their proceedings this time for the purpose of shielding criminals.

THE French are the only civilized people who have ever tried as a nation to do without the Sabbath. They found after short experience that it would not do. It was found that both man and beasts soon broke down with only every tenth day devoted to rest and recreation.

WHILE at the Washington centennial our Governor sustained his reputation for quick repartee. The World had spoken once or twice of Gov. Scales, of North Carolina, and finding out its error, sent a representative to apologize to the Governor, who, not liking to admit the error, tried to make it a joke, by saying it was a foul mistake. The Governor immediately said, yes, it was foul, but that was the way of the world.

"DOWN the streets comes a sun parasol, a fan and a lawn dress whose motive power is a female (we beg Miss Hatchett's pardon) being with bright eyes, auroral hair, rosy cheeks and soft hands. Like a whiff of perfume she sweeps by you, and as she is lost in the distance you are left to wonder if you have had a vision of an angel, or something better—a maiden unspotted from the world." This is the way the Reidsville Review puts it, yet we hear no complaint from the Orphans' Friend of the use of the word female. The reason why is—"Because."

TOWN TALK.

—Hail, Knights of the Spatula!
—Fireman's festival again to-night, Go!

—The State Board of Pharmacy, to examine applicants for license, was in session this afternoon.
—It is stated that Rev. Sam Jones will deliver a lecture in Charlotte tomorrow night, on "Get There."

—A real treat is in store for those who will attend the grand concert to-night, complimentary to the visiting druggists.
—The acoustics of our new courthouse are poor, we are reminded by the meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association. A very serious defect it is.

—Let all of our merchants enter into the agreement to let their clerks off at 7:30 p. m., during the summer months. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."
—Our newly appointed postmaster, Col. W. A. Albright, forwarded to the Department to-day a justified bond for twenty-four thousand dollars. The following are his sureties. Messrs. W. T. O'Brien, J. B. Warren, C. F. Vickers, C. G. Ross and A. M. Rigbee.

—The grand concert to-night, at Stokes Hall, by the Durham School of Music, complimentary to our guests, the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, will be free to the public, but seats will be reserved for members of the Association and their families and for members of the St. Cecilia Society.

—May the sweet oil of harmony be the principal ingredient in the deliberations of our guests, the druggists; may their camp-fire burn brightly and may they ever compound good deeds, so that they may not roll on pill-ows of remorse, or have head ache-a-nights.

—We return thanks to Mrs. S. A. Thaxton for a basket of the finest, largest and most luscious strawberries that we have either seen or tasted this season. They were grown in Mrs. Thaxton's garden and were elegant for a fact. Our tobacco editor says they were certainly beautiful, but he don't know so well about the taste. We can vouch for both.

N. C. PHARMACISTS.

The Tenth Annual Meeting—Addresses of Welcome, Response, Etc.

The decennial meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association convened at the courthouse, about 11 o'clock, this morning. The Association was called to order by the President, Dr. T. D. Crawford, of Oxford, and the Secretary, Dr. E. V. Zoeller, of Tarboro, was at his post.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. W. T. Herndon, of the Christian church.

The Local Secretary, Dr. P. W. Vaughan, introduced Mr. J. S. Manning as "the Cicero of Durham."

Mr. Manning said the title bestowed upon him had abashed and unnerved him. In behalf of the city government and our people generally he bid the druggists a most hearty welcome. The doors of the town are open to you. It is idle to remind you of the great responsibility of your profession. The physician would be handicapped and his work but half done, but poorly done, but for his ally, the druggist. Yours is a profession the least understood of all others. Only of late years the importance of throwing around it the protection of the law has been regarded. Druggists ought to be happy, especially in married life, as no one studies more the science of compatibles and incompatibles. The people of Durham and the town of Durham welcome you to its midst.

Mr. Manning then introduced Mr. J. H. Southgate, who said, in behalf of the members of the local profession, it gave him pleasure that he had the honor to welcome them to the seat of their labors. It was a wonderful alchemy that has so suddenly transformed the pill-rollers of North Carolina into such a handsome body. It is evident to any observer you are not fond of taking the stuff you so readily deal out to others. Isn't it remarkable that a man may sell others what he avoids himself and at the same time make a profit of at least ten per cent. We have no kid glove hospitality to offer you. It is of the old North Carolina type, which says: Come in, sit down, make yourself at home; if you see what you don't want, ask for it. He spoke of the industries of Durham, her rapid growth, &c., and of the cleverness of our Durham druggists. You have come to a dry town, but I am authorized to say you will be furnished with all the drinks of soda water, as may be necessary for your health.

The addresses of welcome were responded to, in behalf of the Association, in well chosen words, by Dr. Croom, of Maxton, who gave assurance of appreciation of the kind words of welcome. They were glad of the privilege of meeting in the prosperous town of Durham. The faces of your people are not familiar, but it seems we knew them because we know so much of your enterprise. We are proud we have a Durham in the borders of our State. We rejoice in your great prosperity. We hope to merit in part the words of welcome by showing it is as much for the good of the people as our own to promote our profession. Considerable progress has been made in the last nine years. We have other plans to carry out, which require the support of the people. The Dr. closed by again returning thanks for the cordial welcome and giving expression to kind wishes for our people.

The President stated that while every citizen is welcome to attend the session of the Association, physicians and the press are specially invited.

The Secretary called the roll, after which the President declared the Association regularly organized and ready for business. On motion, the Association adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A. O. U. W. Regular meeting of the A. O. U. W., to-night, at 8 o'clock, at Odd Fellows' hall. Every member requested to be present. Installation of officers and other important business. Visiting brethren cordially invited. E. W. KENNEDY, M. W. E. B. TURRENTINE, Recorder.

Plant Photographs.

Elder P. D. Gold left for his home in Wilson to-day.

Mrs. Jake Halliburton is quite sick, we are sorry to hear.

Mrs. Sasser, of Wayne county, is on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. T. Saunders.

Mrs. C. B. Green, who has been quite sick, is better to-day, we are very glad to learn.

Prof. W. A. Blair, Superintendent of the Winston Graded School, passed down the road to-day.

Miss Janet Fuller, of Raleigh, who has been visiting the family of her brother, Mr. W. W. Fuller, left for home to-day.

Col. E. J. Parrish returned from Danville on the noon train to-day. He greatly enjoyed the Sam Jones meeting during his stay in Danville.

Mr. James Southgate left to-day for Wilmington, to attend the Grand Encampment, which convenes to-night, and the annual meeting of the Knights Templar, on Thursday night.

Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates left to-day for Jonesboro, where he will deliver the address at the closing exercises of Jonesboro High School, to-morrow. The Dr. will return before Sunday.

There should be no unnecessary delay in starting up the canning factory. "Make hay while the sun shines" and run a canning factory while there is something to can. You can. Will you?

Encouraging.

A gentleman in a neighboring town, in subscribing to THE PLANT, writes us the following words of encouragement, for which we thank him: "I don't think I put it too strong when I say I think you are getting out the newsiest and spiciest little daily in North Carolina or Virginia. Success to you."

GLORIOUS RESULTS.

Over One Hundred Conversions at Danville Last Night—More than Six Hundred Since the Sam Jones Meeting Began.

Compiled from the Register.

Sunday morning at an early hour buggies, carriages, wagons, "dug outs" and all sorts of vehicles came pouring into the city from every section of the country loaded with people who were coming in to hear Rev. Sam Jones, the great evangelist, preach.

The tabernacle was thrown open much earlier than usual for the experience meeting had been appointed for 9 o'clock.

At the regular morning service the tabernacle was literally packed and there was not room on the inside for a single person. The doors were crowded and the people stood in great numbers on the outside striving to hear the preacher.

The text was from the 9th verse of the 1st chapter of the 1st Epistle General of St. John: "If we confess our sins he is faithful to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

"The text," said the speaker, "simply means if we repent God will forgive, and this is the epitome of the whole gospel."

After the sermon followed a service which made a scene never before witnessed in this region. The doors of all the churches were opened for the reception of members. Not exactly that either, but an invitation was extended to all persons, who had been converted and had determined to lead a better life and desired to give in their names to become members of churches, to come forward. First those desiring to join Methodist churches were called, then the Baptist, then the Presbyterian, then the Episcopal and then the Christian.

About seventy-five thus expressed their desire to become members of the churches.

Sunday afternoon, Mr. Jones preached to men only, upon the subject of "Conscience, Record, God." There were between 3,000 and 4,000 men present at this meeting.

At the close of the sermon, he said he wanted to shake hands with every religious man, who had made up his mind to lead a new life, and people began to crowd about the altar. The reporter counted 111 and it is safe to say that at least 125 persons came forward and shook the preacher's hand. It was a most affecting scene. Many prominent and influential men went forward and old men and young men fell upon each other's necks and wept like children.

Sunday night the tabernacle was again filled to overflowing and Mr. Jones preached from the text: "And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely."—Revelations xxii:17.

In conclusion he said he wanted everybody who wanted to be saved, who would be saved, to come forward and shake him by the hand. Forty odd came forward and thirty more stood up for prayers. A call was then made for people who wanted to join the church to come forward and hand in their names and the people came up in large numbers. There was weeping and there was rejoicing and the whole congregation seemed to be filled with the Spirit.

Mr. Jones preached twice yesterday and made two appointments to to-day, morning and night. The last service will be held to-morrow morning, at 6 o'clock.

There were over one hundred converts last night and there have been so far, since the beginning of the meeting, something over 600 converts. Among them are people from all the surrounding counties, traveling men who were only spending a few days in Danville and strangers from a distance. Among the converts last night were two men from Orange county, N. C., one from Brooklyn, N. Y., and one from Savannah, Ga.

Hornor School.

We return thanks for an invitation to the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Franklin Society, at Hornor School, Oxford, on Tuesday, June 4th. The address will be delivered, by the gentle, sympathetic, poetic and eloquent Henry Blount, of the Wilson Mirror.

The Fireman's Festival.

We are glad to be able to chronicle that the citizens of Durham manifested appreciation for the valuable and self-sacrificing services of our firemen by turning out in large number to the festival last night, for the benefit of the uniform fund of the Dick Blackhall Hose Co. The receipts were also gratifyingly large. The festival will close to-night and we again bespeak a liberal patronage from our people. During the evening, a toilet case and a china tea set will be awarded the two ladies having the highest number of votes.

Durham Scores a Success at Chapel Hill.

EDITORS PLANT:—The most enjoyable entertainment which it has been the good fortune of this scribe to attend in many years was given in Gerard Hall, at Chapel Hill, N. C., on last evening, by the Durham School of Music, with Miss Leslie Southgate presiding.

The concert was given in the interest of the Methodist church edifice of Chapel Hill, which is in course erection, and it was a grand success in every respect. It had been predicted by many Orange county prophets that as it is examination week at the University that the audience would be very small, but when Miss Southgate and her attractive band of musicians and the appointed hour arrived, the public could not resist the temptation.

The audience was large, attentive and appreciative, and every person that appeared on the stage was in every sense equal to the occasion and reflected much credit on Durham, North Carolina's distinguished leader in many excellencies.

Quite a number of the recitations were called for the second time. The Chapel Hill people think Miss Lesie Southgate is success personified.

The members of the Durham School of Music will please accept our thanks for the rich feast and the financial assistance with which they have favored us, and I hope they will honor Chapel Hill with another visit in the near future.
