MOTHER. Round the idea of one's mother the mtnd of a man clings with fond affection. It is the first deep thought stamped upon our infant hearts infinite number of rays in all directions; and when soft and capable of receiving the most one person sees one portion of these rays, and profound impressions, anp all the after feelings another person another. of the world are more or less light in that comparison. I do not know that even in our old age we do not look back to that feeling as the sweetest we have through life. Our passions tract. and our wilfullness may lead us far from the object of our fillal love; we learn even to pain her heart, to oppose her wishes, to violate her commands; we may become wild, headstrong, and death has stilled her monitory voice, and nothing but calm memory remains to recapitulate her virtues and good deeds, affect on, like a flower beaten to the ground by a pat storm, raises up her head and smiles amongs her tears .-Round the idea, as we have said, ae mind clings with fond affection; and, even the earlier period of our loss forces memor to be silent, fancy, takes the nice of the brance, and re image of our dead parent with a gar-

PART V. METEOROLOGY. CHAP. IV.—ICE.

Q. Why does stucco peel from a wall in frosweather !

A. Because the stucco was not dried in the warm weather; therefore, its moisture freezes, expands, and thrusts its particles away from the wall; but, as soon as the water condenses again by the thaw, the stucco (being unsupported) falls by its own weight. Why cannot bricklayers and plasterers work in flosty weather? .A. Because frost expands mortar, and causes the bricks and plaster to start from their position. Straw in spring and autumn? A. Hecause straw is a non-conductor; and prevents the mortar of their new work from freezing, during the cold nights of spring and Q. Why are water pipes often covered with and the pipes from bursting. L. Why are delicate trees covered with straw

A. Because straw (being a non-conductor) prevents the sap of the tree from being frozen. by frosty weather? A. Yes; in very many ways. For example a bottle of water wrapped in cotton, and frequently wetted with ether will soon freeze. Q. Why would water freeze if the bottle were kept constantly wetted with ether? Because evaporation would, carry off the heat of the water, and reduce it to the freezing

Q. Why does ether freeze under the receiver of an air-pump, when the air is exhausted? A. Because evaporation is very greatly increased by the dimination of atmospheric pressure; and the ether freezes by evaporation.

Q. Is salt and snow really colder than snow? A. Yes, many degrees colder; so that by dipping your hand into the mixture first, and into snow afterwards, the snow will seem to be comparatively warm.

Q. Can we be made to feel the heat of ice or A. Yes : into a pint of snow, put half a pint of salt; then plunge your hand into the liquid, at will feel so intensely cold, that the snow itself bwill seem warm in comparison to it.
