THE SOUTH CAROLINA TROUBLES.

On Friday afternoon, the South Carolina State constables, so-called spies, whose duty it is to enforce the dispensary law, giving the State a monopoly of the business of selling liquor, came in conflict at Darlington with citizens who objected to the search of private houses for liquors kept in violation of the law, which resulted in the killing of two of the constables and two of the citizens, and the wounding of several others.

The shooting caused great excitement, and parties of citizens started in pursuit of the constables, who fled to the woods. Three of the constables made their way to Sumter and went thence by rail to Columbia, and since then most of the fleeing constables have been accounted for.

Governor Tillman, South Carolina's tyrant, on Saturday, telegraphed orders to every military company in the State to proceed to Columbia at once, and while several reported, others disobeyed, and still others refused to obey the orders of the Governor. He at once issued a proclamation putting Darlington and Florence, a neighboring town, under martial law, the people of Florence having broken into the dispensary and emptied the liquor into the gutters. A dozen other dispensaries were similarly treated.

The Governor also ordered the railroads not to transport bodies of men not the regular State troops moving under orders. These orders were obeyed according to a certain statute laid down in the South Carolina code. He besides obtained an order from a State judge enjoining the managers of the telegraph office at Columbia and Darlington from sending any dispatches "of an inflammatory character" to the outside world.

As the Philadelphia Record remarks, it is to be feared that the situation in South Carolina, deplorable as it is, may be but the prelude to a still more critical condition of affairs in that State, as on the one hand there is a bumptious and impracticable Executive, intent only upon the enforcement of a chimerical and unreplicable liquor law, and on the other an infuriated people, who, maddened by the methods of surveillance employed by the State constabulary, have committed overt acts of lawlessness involving bloodshed and the destruction of the property of the State.

It is surprising that there should be such bloody resistance to law in a Commonwealth in which the people have the making of the laws wholly in their own hands. The truth appears to be that it was the inconsiderate and odious method of enforcing the liquor law which precipitated the crisis. But it is equally apparent that the primary responsibility rests with the law itself. Its enactment was a case of paternalism run mad; and the bitter fruits of such legislative folly are now being gathered in a harvest of bloodshed and anarchy.

The latest report is to the effect that Governor Tillman has issued a proclamation giving notice that under the law providing therefor, he has assumed sole control of the whole force of municipal police in every town and city in that State. Troops are now stationed at Florence and Darlington and from present outlook, will remain there perhaps until the end of the week. Mayor Dargan, of Darlington, places the entire blame for the tragedy and subsequent troubles on the Governor, who is of the Populist stripe.

A tyrant like Ben Tillman with his anarchist followers, will never do in this enlightened age. This ought to be a lesson to us. AMONG OUR EXCHANGES. The Newbern Journal is twelve years old. It is a very creditable daily and deserves even better support than it is getting. We wish it a continued prosperous career. The Durham Recorder changed hands Monday. It was sold by Editor Hackney to Garland E. Webb, late mayor of Winston and proprietor of the recently defunct Winston World. The latest candidate for public favor is the Raleigh Daily Press, an afternoon paper, with E. A. Womble, editor, and W. C. Lindsey, local editor. It is new, interesting and well gotten up. We wish it success. The Charlotte Observer, with its accustomed enterprise, issued a full-sized, extra edition on Monday, giving the latest news from the "seat of war." It was the only State daily published that morning. That's what we call push.

National Capital Matters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31, 1894. President Cleveland, after hearing everything that could be said on every side of the question, and after deeper study than he has given to any single measure passed by the Congress, has finally disposed of the Bland bill for the coinage of the seigniorage. His disposition of the bill is necessarily unsatisfactory to many prominent and influential members of the party. That could not have been avoided. It would have been precisely the same, only it would have been a different set of Democrats who would have been disappointed, had his action been reversed. The situation was not unlike that which preceded Mr. Cleveland's celebrated tariff reform message, and he acted just as he did then, taking the course he believed to be right and proper, believing that time will, as it did with the tariff, bring the unsatisfied Democrats around to his way of thinking. Some Democrats in Congress are allowing their disappointment to run away with their discretion, and are saying things that they will regret when they see their words used by Republicans against the Democratic party. Probably no more representative gathering of prominent Democrats ever assembled in Washington than that which attended the housewarming of the Democratic Campaign committee, held in their new headquarters this week. The committee which received the guests was composed of Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Congressional committee; Hon. W. F. Harrity, chairman of the National committee; Hon. Chauncey F. Black, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, and Mr. Lawrence Gardner, secretary of the Congressional committee. The committee is now ready for business, and a quorum of the executive committee will be at headquarters daily until the close of the Congressional campaign.

Representative Sayers, of Texas, believes with his great Democratic predecessor at the head of the House committee on Appropriations, the late Samuel J. Randall, that the system of permanent or continuing appropriations is wrong and should be done away with, leaving all appropriations to be made annually, and his bill providing for the change will probably be favorably reported to the House at an early day, and he believes it will pass. The late Samuel J. Randall introduced a similar bill in the Forty-seventh Congress, and it passed the House, but not the Senate. The amount of these continuing appropriations, over which Congress can, under the present system, exercise no detailed supervision, is $130,000,000 a year. Some of these continuing appropriations are nearly a century old and are senseless and in some cases wasteful. Chairman Sayers' bill is thoroughly Democratic and ought to become a law. It will save money and reform a bad system.

Senator Morgan believes that his Nicaragua Canal bill will become a law and that the canal will be well under way before the close of the Fifty-third Congress. The bill is now being considered by the Senate committee on Foreign Relations. It provides for the guaranteeing of the bonds of the canal company to the extent of $100,000,000 and gives this government practically the control of the canal, both while being built and after it is in operation.

Governor Northen, of Georgia, has appointed Speaker Charles F. Crisp to succeed the late Senator Alfred H. Colquitt. Not a word has passed between the Governor and the Speaker, and the latter's name had not even been presented formally to the Governor. In a message wired the Speaker late last night, the Governor asks him to resign his seat in Congress at once and qualify as Senator, so that he can take part in the tariff discussion which comes up next week. However, Mr. Crisp declined the appointment, preferring to remain Speaker of the House.

The unexpected resignation of Sixth Auditor Brawley, of the Treasury department, to take effect upon the appointment of his successor, has made a lot of gossip. The position is an important one, and Mr. Brawley has held it less than a year. The Attorney General approves of Representative Woodard's bill to change the boundaries of the Federal districts of North Carolina, and the bill would have been introduced to-day, but the House adjourned too early.

Senator Vance arrived here this afternoon from Florida, much improved in health. He was met at the depot by several of his friends, who warmly welcomed his return to his Senatorial duties. A number of prominent ladies in central Kentucky have petitioned Congress to expel Col. Breckinridge, reciting that his presence there is a dishonor to the women of the State.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one divided disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. A Remarkable Case.

Durham, N.C. A very remarkable murder case was tried in the Superior Court here Wednesday. It was remarkable for its shortness and the circumstances surrounding it. A lawyer of many years practice remarked to us in the court room, at the time, that he did not remember to have heard of a case like it before.

A colored woman, twenty-one years old, killed her infant, a babe scarce two weeks old. It was most brutal act. While the child was crying she put pins down its throat and one lodging in its windpipe produced death. She was callous to the deed, and has apparently been so ever since. During the trial, which was under the indictment for murder in the first degree, she sat perfectly indifferent and heard the details told of the way she killed the child. The main witness against her was her mother, with whom she was living. With the exception of the two physicians who made the autopsy, the other two material witnesses were her first cousins. This makes the case a very strange one in the annals of Durham jurisprudence. No testimony whatever was offered in her behalf. The case lasted about three hours and a half, and the jury, after being out an hour or more, returned a verdict of guilty—murder in the first degree.

The prisoner's demeanor, and the fact that her own mother was the main witness, makes it one of the most remarkable cases that has ever come up in our court.

$1000 Worth Of Other Medicines Failed But Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures Perfect Health.

Mr. Arthur McConnell, Pensacola, Florida. One thousand dollars worth of other medicines, prescriptions, etc., have failed to do for me what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done. My home is in Florida, but in 1884 I went to California and lived there four years. I was taken sick in 1886 and had medical assistance, but found no relief. The doctors said I had chronic catarrhitis. I was in the Marine Hospital at San Francisco several months and at Rush Medical College, Chicago, 11 months, but still did not get better, so came back to Pensacola. In August, 1891, I was appointed to a position in the United States custom house. My friends urged me to have me try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took it three times a day just to please her. But to my surprise I commenced to feel differently after a week on Hood's. I found I was hungry and that I could sleep better; that tired feeling also left me. So I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla; have used nine bottles and four boxes of Hood's Pills, with the result that I weigh 162 pounds, have a good appetite, sleep well, and have not lost a day's work since I began to take this medicine. When everything else has failed, I found that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures. ANTHONY McCONNELL, United States Range Officer, Pensacola, Florida.

Hood's Pills are sold easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled. The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe in detail, every sensation that existed in my mind, head and legs. I had to rub and bend my legs to get them to move. I was in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, which with my stomach, physicians said it was cerebral paralysis, from which, according to their opinion, I should never recover. When I fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my progress. I had been doctoring a year and a half, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I can now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight. I had been down from 170 to 150. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, issued by all druggists, on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, 50c per bottle, six bottles for $2.50, express prepaid. It is free from opiate or dangerous drugs. SOLD BY JOHN H. HILL & SON, Druggists, Goldsboro, N. C.
