TAFT'S TAX SCHEME

The Income Tax is Practically the Only Subject Before Senate.

Republican Leader in Senate Scored for His Position on Corporation Tax Scheme—Cummins Speaks on Incomes.

Washington, D. C., June 30.—Income tax was practically the only subject and Senators Cummins, of Iowa, and Borah, of Idaho, the only speakers before the Senate today.

Mr. Borah was not heard until towards the close of the day's session when the Iowa senator yielded the floor, which he had held since yesterday. He took for his text the declaration made yesterday by Senator Aldrich to the effect that he would vote for the corporation tax amendment only as a means of defeating the income tax, and without resorting to personalities he closed the position of the chairman of the finance committee, who had presented the corporation tax amendment to the Senate. Mr. Cummins also paid his respects to Mr. Aldrich on account of his avowal of yesterday.

Mr. Cummins took the floor as soon as a quorum could be obtained after the meeting of the Senate at ten o'clock, and with a brief intermission for luncheon, which was an innovation in the Senate, he held it until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. This task was naturally arduous, but with an improved temperature, and because of Mr. Cummins' easy delivery, the experience was not so trying as it might have been for another under different circumstances.

Much of the time today was devoted to the consideration of the nation's finances, but considerable attention was also given to the general merits of a tax on incomes, which Mr. Cummins defended as the most rational, because the most just, of all taxes. Estimating the total revenues under the Aldrich-Payne bill at $360,000,000 and those to be derived from the internal revenue at $240,000,000 he predicted that at the end of the fiscal year 1910 there would be a deficit of not less than $175,000,000. He therefore considered that the amendment of the tariff bill by the addition of an income tax was necessary in order to produce sufficient revenue for the conduct of the business of the government.

Mr. Cummins said that if the finance committee's resolution having for the submission to the states of a constitutional amendment for an income tax should be presented to the Senate he would vote for it, but not with any hope of its success. He did not doubt that there would be enough interest manifested against it to obtain adverse votes in sufficient number of states to defeat the proposition.

REPUBLICANS HOLD CONFERENCE

May Select a Candidate for Governor. Martin May Be Asked to Run.

Norfolk, Va., July 1.—Republican National Committeeman Alvah H. Martin left last night for Washington, where he will today attend a conference of Republican leaders in Virginia for the formation of plans preliminary to the Republican state convention at Newport News July 28. This meeting was to have been held in the National Capital Tuesday, but owing to the inability of several of the prominent leaders to get to Washington in time the conference went over until today.

It is quite likely that the Washington conference will determine the Republican candidate for governor and possibly some of the other bigger offices.

Republican State Chairman Bascom Slemp when in Norfolk last said he and other state leaders would be glad to have National Committeeman Martin make the gubernatorial race this fall, but Mr. Martin said he thought the nominee should come from the Southwest, where the party is strongest, and declined.

In view of the apparent determination of former Senator Gillespie, of the Ninth district, not to head the state ticket to be chosen at Newport News, it is quite possible that the state leaders may again urge Mr. Martin to become the candidate. Whether or not he could be prevailed upon to accept is uncertain.

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION MEETS.

Address of Welcome by J. C. Martin, and Response by Judge Winston.

Asheville, N. C., June 30.—Lawyers, judges and politicians from all parts of the State have flocked to Asheville for the eleventh annual meeting of the North Carolina Bar Association, which convened at the Battery Park Hotel tonight. Along with them have come many ladies, and it was a fine assemblage that greeted the speakers at the opening session. The convention was called to order by Thomas W. Davis, of Wilmington, in the absence of Judge T. B. Womack, of Raleigh, chairman of the executive committee.

The address of welcome on behalf of the Asheville Bar Association and the city was delivered by Julius C. Martin. In welcoming them he said he hoped that they had not come to Asheville to stay, for there were now eighty-odd lawyers here, but they were glad to have them eat and drink if they could find it as long as they desired. He spoke of the objects of the association and wished that a speedier enforcement of the law could be brought about. The response was made by Robert W. Winston, of Raleigh, who spoke in the absence of A. B. Andrews, Jr., of Raleigh. Judge Winston responded in a happy vein and spoke of the increasing regard for law in North Carolina. In speaking of the bravery of lawyers in standing up for their views in spite of adverse criticism, he mentioned the position of Judge H. G. Connor, who in 1883 was discredited on account of his honest views on prohibition, but had now been selected as judge of the United States District Court. To the new members he prescribed only one word—work. He hoped they would become investigators, fearless and independent, and in that way benefit the profession in this State.

The president, L. H. Clement, of Salisbury, was then escorted to the chair and delivered his address, taking as his general theme the lawyer and his relation to his clients and the court. Mr. Clement delivered an able and thoughtful address. He spoke of the lawyer in relation to his clients and what acts were legitimate and what not and then discussed fully the statutes in regard to disbarment of lawyers. He suggested that the statutes be changed in certain instances as the remedy was not at present full enough to give the judge full power in cases where disbarment was necessary. In tracing the relation of the court and the attorney to each other, he said that the attorney was an officer of the court and his business was the enforcement of the laws in connection with the court, and not that his work was a separate business from the court's. If lawyers kept this relation in mind, then much displeasure between them and the court could be avoided and the ends of justice more speedily met.

Japan Honors Memory of Perry.

Yokohama, July 1.—Under auspices of a most favorable character a two days' celebration was inaugurated here today to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of Yokohama to foreign trade. Popular festivities made up the program for the opening day of the celebration. Tomorrow the celebration will conclude with the unveiling of statues of Commodore M. C. Perry, of the United States Navy, and Kamon-on-Kami, the Japanese prime minister, who negotiated the first treaty of commerce between Japan and the outside world. The statue of Commodore Perry has been placed in Yokohama Park, and was modeled by E. Fujita after photographs supplied by the United States government and from pictures made by Japanese artists while Commodore Perry was in Yokohama. The cost of the memorial, including a magnificent granite pedestal, exceeded $100,000.

ANOTHER DEATH IN SIGEL CASE.

Ung Yaw, a Laundryman, Killed for His Connection With Case.

New York, July 1.—A long war which is the outgrowth of the Elsie Sigel murder mystery began today when Ung Yaw, a Chinese laundryman, was strangled to death in his shop. There were signs of a terrific struggle in the shop, showing that the man had been attacked by two or more men and that he had fought desperately for life.

The police believe that the murder has some connection with the Sigel mystery. Papers in the room showed that he belonged to the Tong, a secret society. They also found many newspaper clippings bearing on the Sigel case.

Relief From Hot Wave.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Welcome relief from the heat wave was felt today in many sections, when cooling east and northeast winds caused a slight drop in the temperature.

GOOD ROADS MEETING

Next Monday, July 5, in Goldsboro at 11 O'clock

EVERY FARMER SHOULD COME

The United States Government Will Have a Good Roads Expert Here to Speak to the Farmers on How to Build Roads.

As before announced in The Argus there is to be a great meeting of farmers from all sections of Wayne county at the Court House in this city next Monday, July 5, opening at eleven o'clock for the purpose of discussing in common the county's most general and crying need—the need for better county roads.

This is an age of good road building in the country, with the county as the unit of progressive action, and that county that is not interested and active in the work is not alive to its best interests, and its citizens are not getting out of life, for themselves and their children what this age of development and progress holds for them.

It is to be hoped that every farmer in Wayne county will be in attendance at next Monday's good roads meeting here; for not only will they be thus brought together in conference, but they will have the opportunity of hearing a United States government good roads expert speak on the subject, and give instruction as to what manner of road is best for this section of the State and how to expeditiously build them.

Every farmer is cordially invited and every farmer is expected.

KNITTING MILL SALE.

Plant Is Bid Off by Mr. C. N. Carr at Eight Thousand Dollars.

From Thursday's Daily. The plant of the Goldsboro Knitting Mill, that has been in the hands of a receiver for some weeks, was sold at public auction here today, as previously advertised, and was bid off to Mr. C. N. Carr, of Durham, for $8,000, this being the highest competitive bid.

In addition to the $8,000 the receivers reported $1,600 in hand, which virtually brought the sale up to $9,600. This sale is subject to confirmation by the court, and if confirmed, we are authorized to say that the plant will be operated by Mr. Carr under the name of "Durham Knitting Mill No. 5," as he already has four mills under successful operation.

It seems to us that the plant brought a low figure, but as it was fully and widely advertised to be sold under auction today, prospectors had ample opportunity to avail themselves of the sale, and therefore, we presume the sale will be confirmed by the court, unless it be raised 10 per cent. in the meantime.

It is a satisfaction to know that should the sale be confirmed to Mr. Carr, he will himself take charge of the plant and become its resident superintendent, which means that it will have a successful career and be of inestimable benefit to the labor element and business circles of Goldsboro.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Precaution Should Prevail Against Explosive Accidents.

In the North and West, also in the South, but to a more limited extent, the fourth of July is celebrated with the help of explosives and noise-making devices of various kinds. As a result there are scores of fatalities and thousands of minor accidents.

The near approach of the fourth, which falls on next Sunday and will be celebrated the following day, makes some observations on the method of celebrating it pertinent. There is no reason why any lives should be sacrificed or any serious injuries received. The heedlessness of children and the carelessness of their elders are the chief causes. The city of Cleveland, O., stirred by the casualties in the past, has adopted this ordinance:

"No person, firm or corporation shall within the city sell, offer for sale, or have in his possession or custody any toy pistol, squib, rocket, cracker or roman candle or fire balloon or other combustible fireworks or any article for the making of pyrotechnic display, provided that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit the board of public service in the public parks whenever such board is thereunto directed by resolution of the council."

The city of Spokane, Wash., has this law on the books, and it is said to be enforced:

"No person shall fire any cannon, gun, rifle, pistol, toy pistol or firearm of any kind, or fire or explode any squib, rocket, cracker or Roman candle or other combustible fireworks, or make use of any sling within the city."

Chicago issues only one license for the sale of fireworks and only to adults, but provides every facility for splendid displays of pyrotechnics in the parks.

Statistics show that last fourth of July 163 persons were killed and 5,623 wounded while celebrating with fireworks and otherwise.

FREE COTTON BAGGING.

But Will It Remain Permanently on the Free List?

A little tremor of delight went up from all over the South when it was announced that the Senate had consented to place cotton bagging on the free list, thereby abolishing the tariff of sixteenths of a cent per square yard as it exists in the present law and as retained in the House bill.

This was made possible by the fact that Senator Aldrich accepted the proposition without protest, in order to save time.

But it is too much to say that it will remain permanently on the free list, as it was understood at the time that the rate paragraph would be the subject of considerable discussion when the bill comes up in conference.

So, too, on the other hand, the paragraph which imposes a tariff of three-tenths of a cent per pound on cotton ties was accepted by the Democrats in the House, although Senator Culberson gave definite notice that he will make a fight later on in conference to place cotton ties on the free list.

The warm weather appears to be getting in its work in the Senate, and the tired, perspiring members of the upper house show signs of growing restive. They want to get back to the broad verandas of their own homes, and they are consenting to things which otherwise they would oppose.

But unfortunately—in the case of cotton bagging at least—this does not mean that they will consent permanently, and the whole question will have to be re-opened in conference.

If there is any one item in the tariff schedules which should go on the free list it is cotton bagging. It is more generally used by the class of people who get no benefits from protection as a whole than any other item on the list, with a few exceptions, and it is hoped the Democrats will make a manful stand for retaining it on the free list when the question does come up in conference later on.

Will Fly Again Today.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—The Wright brothers are not discouraged by the mishap of their machine which fell to the ground after a short flight. The only damage to the machine yesterday was a broken skid and this was replaced early today. The say the difficulty lies in the motor and are working on that and are confident it will not be necessary to put in a new engine. They will make another flight this afternoon.

A MERRY GO ROUND

Wilson Went to Defeat Yesterday and Went Wild Besides.

An Unusual Kick Against the Umpire and a Great Injustice Done to Him and Through Him to the League.

From Thursday's Daily.

In one of the prettiest games of ball ever seen on any diamond Goldsboro's Giants did-up Wilson's Tobacconists yesterday by a score of 8 to 0, seven innings, called then on account of rain.

Wilson was outplayed at every point, and the visitors took their decided defeat hard and in ugly spirit, and in disgusting conduct on the part of their manager, Mr. Holt. His conduct and language were most reprehensible, and his subsequent charge that the umpire, Mr. Accorsini, had sold the game was a gratuitous insult to Goldsboro, for we play the game in honor and our team takes defeat as they do victory, as the game goes, without questioning the integrity of the umpire.

That Mr. Accorsini has been discharged by President Washington upon the demand of Wilson's team manager is a great injustice to the league and if there be no remedy for such emergency then a remedy should be provided, or else let Wilson's team manager say what the result of the games his team plays in shall be in advance, and do away with the umpire altogether when Wilson plays ball. Mr. Accorsini's decisions yesterday were eminently fair and non-partial, while the miffing of Holt by Wilson's first baseman and the passed ball of their catcher turned the game to Goldsboro easily.

Stoehr's pitching for Goldsboro was a poem of delight, and the entire team was in touch with him throughout.

In the second Crockett first up singled over second. Doak advanced him to second and was safe at first on Cowell's wild throw, which Sutor muffed. Crockett went to third on the error. Doak got second on Gilmore's passed ball. Cowell filled the bases by passing Zanelli. Sharpe hit to right for two bases, scoring Crockett and Doak. Miller threw to Yerkes to stop Sharpe, and Zanelli was thrown out at the plate. Stubbe and Stoehr were out in order. In the seventh, Doak, first up, swatted one to left fence for two bases and after reaching third on Mills, scored on a passed ball, after Cowell had fanned two and had two strikes on the batter, who afterwards fanned.

VALID STATE BONDS.

Question to Be Passed Upon by the Supreme Court.

Raleigh, N. C., June 30.—Following a lengthy session of the Council of State, Governor Kitchin issued tonight a statement as to the validity of the $500,000 bond issue to the effect that State officers have no doubt of the legality of the act, but since the issue is raised by the prospective purchasers, it is thought best to have the Supreme Court settle the matter as soon as possible after opening the fall session.

In the meantime the Raleigh Savings Bank, which was awarded the entire issue as the highest bidder, pays $125,000 and remainder of the $500,000 and premium to be paid when the validity of the bonds is settled. This advance payment, it is stated, will be returned in the event the act is not sustained. In the meantime it will enable the State Hospital Commission to continue its work of enlarging and equipping the State institutions. The trouble grows out of the provision amendment to the first section that did not pass three separate roll call readings. It stipulates that $31,000 of the bond issue must apply to the deficit of the Morganton and Goldsboro hospitals.

SIN SHOWED FEAR

Chinaman Who Told of the Sigel Murder Put to the Test.

He Trembled and His Voice Broke When Shown Expressman Who Moved Dead Girl's Body.

Failed to Recognize.

New York, June 30.—The complacency of Chung Sin, once the roommate of Leon Ling, who is wanted for the murder of Elsie Sigel on June 9, went all to pieces this afternoon when Arthur Logan, an expressman, walked into the cell where Chung Sin is held as more than a material witness and brusquely shouted, "Hullo!"

Logan is the man who carried the trunk containing the body of the girl downstairs from Leon's room on the day of the murder. He has told the police that Chung Sin is one of the men he saw on the top floor of the house. Chung, on the contrary, has sworn by all his ancestors that he never saw the trunk packed or moved.

"You are the man," Logan said in Chung Sin's presence today, "who told me to take the trunk downstairs carefully. There was another slim fellow with you in the room—the same that came over to the office half an hour before to give me the order to call for the trunk."

"All mistake," protested Chung; "never see you before." The Chinaman's voice broke and he shook as if in fear as Logan was led out, still positive in his identification.

Chung was not kept waiting long before he had another visitor—this time Martin Luria, the chauffeur who drove a Chinaman and a trunk from the Harlem laundry to a chop-suey restaurant in Newark on the morning of June 10. The police had a theory that Chung Sin might have paid the fare and not Leon Ling. But Luria could not identify Chung Sin and still believes that it was Leon he had in his taxicab. A letter from Chung Sin written since his arrest to the Society of the Four Brothers, was intercepted and translated to the district attorney's office. It protests that the murder was done by one man, and, therefore, the murderer only should be held; denounces the authorities and implores aid of all members in freeing him.

The police believe more and more that little reliance can be placed in the various rewards and offers of cooperation promised by the clans of Chinatown, and accordingly District Attorney Jerome today wrote John Endicott Gardner, professor of Oriental language and literature in the University of the Pacific at San Jose, Cal., requesting his co-operation in the case as a trustworthy interpreter.
