

Hillsboro Recorder.

PUBLISHED BY C. E. PARISH, F. N. STRUDWICK, Eds. & Prop'rs.

THURSDAY, -- SEPT. 22, 1887.

Politics will be on a boom next spring and we intend to take our part in that boom.

There are still surviving 7053 soldiers of the war with Mexico and 895 widows, 1069 of the war of 1812 and 11,831 widows.

The Supreme Court of Illinois has confirmed the Judgment of the Court below and the Anarchist are to hang on the 11th of November.

Interested parties are attempting to make it appear that Senator Vance is hostile to President Cleveland. Wait till the canvass of 1888 begins and you will see.

The Republican State Convention of New York met the 14th inst., at Saratoga. Warner Miller was made Chairman, Fred D. Grant will be nominated for Secretary of State.

Cleveland has made the best and wisest President the country has had since the war, to this all honest men of both parties agree, then why make a change to suit dishonest people.

Ex President Jefferson Davis will attend the Georgia State Fair at Macon on the 26th October next. There will be present many thousands of ex Confederate soldiers to greet their grand old chief.

The Scotland Neck "Democrat" believes Col. W. L. Saunders the best man we can nominate for Governor in 1888. We most heartily concur in this but would prefer to see Col. Saunders in the United States Senate.

A construction train on the Asper extension of the Midland road in Colorado was derailed and turned completely up side down burying the men under the iron, killing four and seriously injuring 61.

What a lovely pair of Agriculturists we are to have at the Raleigh Agricultural Colored Fair. John Sherman of Ohio, Presidential aspirant, and William Mahone, of Va., Senatorial aspirant. Now won't we have farm talk.

The French have been pomping up for a long time and now feel their oats. Gen. Bessart commander of the 13 Army Corps says that France now knows her strength and that she is ready and awaits her revenge. The Dutchman may now take care of his scalp.

Why can't the Labor Party get what it wants under a Democratic administration headed by Cleveland. Let Congress adopt his suggestion and appoint a commission to settle all questions of labor and capital. This, it seems to us, will meet the ends aimed at by the Labor Party.

They are having high old times in England over the Crimes Act. The Government has imprisoned the Irish Editor O'Brien and put him in a dungeon. We cannot help but think that all this will work out for the good of the oppressed Irish in the end.

The bonds are coming in under the offer of the Secretary of the Treasury. On the 14th acting Secretary Thompson accepted $4,199,500 of the bonds at prices ranging 107, to 108. It is hoped that this procedure, will make money some what more plentiful.

The actual majority against Prohibition in Texas is 92,354.

Among the celebrities in Philadelphia attending the centennial of the Constitution, is the late R. B. Hayes. It will do to repeat ancient history and to state that, on the principle of all men being born equal, the thrifty Hayes once embezzled Mr. Tilden's property. -- Wil. Messenger.

Yes, and they better keep an eye on him, he may try that big game again and embezzle old Independence Hall. If John Sherman and a few more of the "visiting Statesmen," were there they would do it.

The Governor's Palace. Brother Polk of the Progressive Farmer, says "that the Gov. House when completed will have cost not less than $100,000. This is rather more than we expected. We always understood that it would not exceed $25,000 and this would have been enough while the Governor's salary remained at $3,000 per annum. In this however they are only following well established precedents. In all public buildings the cost is generally about five times more than originally mentioned. But the "Farmer" says the State ought to sell it. It strikes us that whenever the State goes into market offering her Governors house for sale, it will be very much like the boy that drew the Elephant.

Republican Nomination. The New York Star commenting upon the nomination says: "Col. Grant's nomination is a tribute to the memory of his illustrious father. The candidate is a gentleman whom no hostile criticism will be made. It is one thing to do honor to the great soldier who led the Union armies to final victory by erecting a fitting monument to him at the resting place of his choice, but quite another matter to ask the majority of the voters of the State to elect his son to one of its most important offices against their convictions as to the right rules for the conduct of the State government. That would be paying a tribute to their own cost, not for a worthy object in which all patriotic men should join without regard to party, but at the sacrifice of political principle to mere sentiment." For it is plain to all that the candidacy imposed on Col. Grant by the Republican party can signify nothing else than the perversion of the patriotic memories of the war for the Union to partisan advantage.

Progress--Education. It is gratifying to note from almost every one of our exchanges we see growing evidence of Educational progress in the State. The schools generally are opening with a greatly increased number of scholars, and in the majority of the cases the Teachers seem to be mostly young people, but thoroughly qualified, full of life and energy. This is undoubtedly a good sign and speaks well for the future of the State. No people can hope to be truly great without being learned. Ignorance, vice and poverty go hand in hand, while wisdom, virtue and prosperity are inseparable.

It has always been taken as true, that when an Arbitrator or Referee who may be called upon to decide between two or more contending parties, that if he displeases by his award both parties he is sure to be right. John Sherman in his speeches, the New York Republican Convention and the Radical party generally denounce Mr. Cleveland for not carrying out the civil service law, while brother Kitchen of the "Democrat" and many other Democratic papers and a few Democratic men in the State, denounce him for carrying it out. As Mr Cleveland pleases with or he must be right. Now what have you got to say.

The North Carolina Herald says: Congressman William D. Kelly, familiarly known as "Pig Iron Kelly," the oldest member of Congress and one of the most prominent better class of Republicans, expresses the opinion that the republican party ought to choose for their next presidential candidate a man comparatively unknown. That is rather hard on the old republican leaders, and implies that among all of them is not one who inspire public confidence.

A Great Shame. We copy from a number of exchanges the following language incident upon the Supreme Court of Illinois, confirming the Judgment of the Court below in the Anarchist cases, to wit: "Justice Magruder reads the Decision with Pallid Face and Hasty Votes." Why all this parade? are the Judges of the Supreme Court of Illinois afraid to confirm a most righteous Judgment condemning to death seven of the deepest blood-dyed villains that ever lived? Is it actually true that the Judges of our highest State Courts become "Pallid" faced and "Hasty Voted" when discharging a plain and sworn duty? Can they, and will not the public think of the murdered ones that met their fate by the hands of these villains. Will they not think of the reign of terror and blood shed that these men were inaugurating in our country, and after a fair trial that consumed sixty days, they were adjudged guilty of murder and the Supreme Court upon review says there was no error, yet in saying so, they become "Pallid." If this is true, if the newspapers have not misrepresented the Court, it is a burning shame upon the Judiciary of Illinois.

Parliament Prorogued. It is to be regretted that the Queen in her speech proroguing Parliament to the 11th of Nov. has so little to say in reference to the unfortunate condition of Ireland. This is all she says: The wants and difficulties of Ireland have occupied your close attention during this protracted session. I trust the remedies your wisdom has provided will gradually effect a complete restoration of order in Ireland, and give renewed encouragement to peaceful industry. In order to pass them it has been necessary to postpone many important measures affecting other parts of the kingdom which doubtless you will be able to resume without hindrance at the coming session.

Gen. Benjamin F. Butler is now advocating the paying pensions to Confederate soldiers after all the Northern soldiers are pensioned, out of the balances of the surplus in the Treasury, if any. This anybody can safely do, for there will never be a balance after Butler's troops are supplied. But aside from all this. Ben, your scheme is a shrewd one, but entirely too thin.

Hillsboro--Corbinton. The Hillsboro Recorder says that the first name given to that ancient borough (Hillsboro) was "Corbinton." How it obtained that appellation, it says, is not known. Upon its history and tradition is silent. Perhaps we can help the Recorder in this matter. In the year 1753, by orders of Earl Granville, Salisbury was surveyed and laid out into streets by Corbin and Inniss, surveyors, in the employ of Granville. The two principal streets of Salisbury, intersecting at the public square, were named after these two surveyors, Corbin Street and Inniss Street. While the latter street retains its name, the former was in 1850 changed to Main Street. The probability presents itself to our mind that this same surveyor, Corbin, laid out and surveyed the old borough of what is now known as Hillsboro. Probably Mr. Corbin himself lent his own name to the newly created town and called it Corbinton. If the fact that Corbin surveyed the site of the present town of Hillsboro, there is no doubt in our mind about the origin of the name Corbinton.-- N. C. Herald.

SALISBURY, N. C. 24 Aug. '87. Dear Sir: I notice you express some doubt as to the origin of the name "Corbinton." I would suggest (unless it has probably already occurred to you) that it was named for Francis Corbin one of Lord Granville's Land Agents for whom a street here (Salisbury) is named.

With high regard WALTER CLARK. We remember several years ago while searching for some matters in the Clerks Office here, we came across an old book of Records which shows that "Hillsboro" (then called Corbinton,) was surveyed and laid off into streets in the year 1753--but it is nowhere stated by whom surveyed. But from the statement of our contemporary the North Carolina Herald, and the card of Judge Clark, there can be no doubt but our ancient town received its first name from Francis Corbin Lord Granville's land agent and we thank our friends for the information.

If the Governor of Ohio is a fair sample of decent people in that State, then we conclude that the Ohioans are a rough and unmannerly set. It is true any dog may try to insult the President of the United States, it is also true that even a Governor may do so, but its a matter of very bad taste and shows mighty bad breeding.

Washington Critic (Ind.) says the most important and at the same time most equitable proceeding of the present Administration with regard to the public domain, is the order of Secretary Lamar restoring to settlement twenty-five to thirty million acres of land heretofore withdrawn as indemnity lands for the benefit of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad Company. The ground taken by the Secretary is that as the road has failed to comply with the terms of its grant, the Government is bound neither by law nor equity to set apart these lands for an indefinite period, and that every acre to which the road cannot make a possessory title should be thrown open at once under the homestead and pre-emption laws.

Gov. Seales has returned from the Centennial.
