Immigration.

The RECORDER has heretofore called attention to the necessity of restriction of imigration to our shores and we are glad to see that several bills have already been introduced in Congress looking to that end. This will be a wise and protective act on the part of this country and we hope that some law may be enacted to prevent the indiscriminate flocking to the United States of such characters that go to make up the Anarchists, Communist, Socialists, that has given this country so much trouble and anxie-

We have plenty of room for good and law-sbiding men and women and we cordially invite such to come. But to paupers, and the characters we have named above, let the government shut down the flood gates.

Our worthy and esteemed contemporary of the Scotland Neck "Democrat" among the thousand good things, says; "If we had a Cleveland Rooster, we would put him to crowing and keep him at it until $100,000, 000 of the present tariff was lopped off with a Democratic brand of axe." Just so brother Kitchen then why in the thunder don't you take down from the head of your paper, "David B Hill' for President and put up the crowing "Cleveland" Rooster. If you will, we will send you the Rooster.

We copy from the "Hillsboro Recorder" of Nov. 13th 1835:

The Illustrious Dead.

Our attentio : was directed, a few evening since, by a valued triend, to the great number of distinguished men who have died in North Carolina within the last fifteen years; it is a sad retrospect, and forcibly tells us what, indeed, we may read in every thing around us, "what shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue.' We begin the melancholy list with the name of Archibald Henderson, the pure-the gentle-the powerful; he that was called by another great man the Ajax of the Bar in North Ca rolina. Then comes the name of his illustrious brother, the late Chief Justice, the Hon. Leonard Henderson: with him the rest of the Court in which he presided, the Hon. John L. Taylor, and the Hon. John Hall, all of whom faded from amongst us in less than three years. Then there was the gallant-the tirce-the secompliebed John Stanly. There was Bartlett Yancey, an ableadvocate and a sound and most useful statesman. There was Joseph Wilson, a powerful and gifted orator. We come then to Moses Mordecai, James F. Taylor, and Gavin Hogg, who, all certainly stood pre-eminent at the Bar. Nor must we forget to mention Henry Seawell, a giant in intellect. There then was the Tacitus of North Carolins, beautiful and polished alike as a speaker and a writer, the Hon. Archibald D. Murphey. There was the Rev. Dr. Caldwell of the University, "Ah me, that virtue thus should die, and learning too." There was the sagacious, the profound, the cultivated Peter Browne; and finally, Joseph A. Hill of Wilmington. If this were a su table occasion, we fain would render a suitable tribute to the genius and virtue of a beloved friend; but our intention was simply to tell over the great names that have perished from amongst us in a brief limit of time, and what a catalogue! Seventeen great men in less than fifteen years, have gone down to Death.

Jay Gould's advice to boys is, "keep out of bad company and go to work with a will." And if you can't keep out of bad company, my boys, do as Jay does and wipe out the company.

Whiskey is likely to be high in Atlanta, the price of retail license is on ly $1500. Fully as good as a Temperance lecture.

[FOR THE RECORDER.]

MANTEO, Dec. 1st 1887. Mr. EDITOR: Jam now wind bound, can't get away, through with business, nothing to do, so will write to you. This is a country that is better the bines, more effectually than any ills human flesh is heir to; is a con sumation devoutly to be wished," for a stranger to visit this country is a panacea that far surpasses "Hamlet's

N.C. Sea Coast. I embarked on the steamer Vickerman for this place, a slow coach she proved to be, but a Captain landed me at this place; county seat of Dare. The people are kind hospitable and clever, they don't understand or know anything abo t the art of taking advantage of their tel low man, they are more like one large county the big house they all live in; a pious and religious people. The county is cut up with sounds, rivers, coves, bays, inlets &c. Consequently the mode of traveling is in sail boats altogether Twelve post offices and all carried by sail.

At court weeks, it is a beantiful sight to see three, four or five hundred sails tethered to their kedges in the bay immediately in front of the court honse, to await the bidings of their owners, the same as the horses are to the stakes and racks in the back lots of your town. Mak; some of the Judges, who have held court here when you come up with them tell you all about it. Every man's boat can beat all other boats in the county sailing.

On the beach nearly all the population are Midgetts. On the Island all are Daniels. On Cro at-an all are Manns. East lake are names of many mentione. Their occupations are fishing, oystering and fowling all the year round, and it is very profitable. The towling season has just commenc ed. The canvassed back ducks sell in the Northern Markets for $2,50 and $3 per pair, any one that could not be excited and enjoy the sport, would be a fit subject for the lunatic Asylum-The fish and fowl are boxed and shiped to the northern Market. Oysters are shucked and shiped all over the country, the oyster houses pays only fifteen to twenty cents per bushel and twenty cents per gallon for shucking and sell thom for sixty cents per gallon. Sea terrapine are caught in quantities and sell from $20, to 35 and $40 per dozen. These people are the most independent of any portion of the State; bea's tobacco and cotton by many odds.

I took passage from Manteo to Durham line, immediate continuance Nags Head on a sail boat only two or three miles across the sound, walked across the beach to old ocean view, a distance of about 900 yards, to gaze on and li-ten to her angry billows. I then wished very much for my dear partner to help me take in some of track, which was surveyed Saturday. natures great works.

is carried on by Wilmington (Del.) Leather and Oil Co, they have established several l'orpoise fisheries and conduct the business on a large scale, setching Porpoises weighing from 300 to 500 pounds and in large quantities too, press the flesh to get the oil and can the pulp for you and others to eat, send the skins to Wilmingto to be tanned. I am told it makes ve

Manteo which is quite a village now. It is one of the best located places for a summer resort and winter too in the State. I have been here for six days wind bound, the weather has been as balmy as the middle of May, the ground is never through winter covered with snow, summer if always fanned with gentle breezes from the Atlantic and the sounds too, so many modes and ways for pleasant amusements; indeed I dont see how it can well be surpassed. The county takes in all the Ocean beach from Hatteras inlet northward and eastward to Kittyhawk, and across the sound to Alligator river, Dec. 1 4t.

up said river to the Hyde line, a long narrow county. The Island on which the Shire town is placed is about twelve miles long and two and a half wide, covered with various kinds of shrubery; Pine, Oak, Magnolia, Myrcalculated to cure that disease called the and other ever-greens. The peaple are generally inteligent, and fine remedy I can prescribe. "To die, to looking. I once read a letter publishsleep, in that sleep, to end the many | ed by a party visiting this place, say ing "the men were fine looking but the ladies did not make a very good appearance." I will venture that fellow got the mitten from some fair daughter of this Island, if his head is Nags-Head, Roanoke Island and the level he will not visit this place again. I have never found that place yet but what the ladies were better in every respect than the opposite sex. clever congenial and accommodating The proprietor showed me a sweet potatoe he has had in keeping for five years, dug it from his own patch, it has passed the period for decaying, is perfectly sound, dry no moisture as bout it, so no danger of it roting, it is not petrified but no doubt will come family and the different section of the to that stage if kept long enough. The proprietor and his good hady of the Manteo House, fed me well and treated me kindly. I hope Mr. Editor you are enjoying as good and strong health as I am, and as you are not a widower I bid you farewell.

VIRGINIA DARE.

Buck Quarter, 7th Dec. '87. MR. Epiron: There has been a stray n this section for several days in the shape of a Buzzard, he was dressed np with red ribbon attached to his tail about 4 feet long. He sailed around with [much grace among the neighbors of Sugar Hill. He seemed to be on exhibition and astonished the natives. He kept near the ground in order to show his plumage which he evidently thought added much even to the Buzzard. After visiting the different distilleries and farms in the neighborhood he set sail for the city of Durham, and from there we think he intends to visit all the principal citizens in the Union. Such as Sugar

If the owner will come down, prove property and pay charges he can get his Buzzard, provided he can catch him. But judging from the speed he s arted with, the fellow that overtakes that Bozzard will have to swallow several electric pills. That Buzzard is now doing some fine sailing with the red ribbon streaming four feet be-H. C R.

Oxford and Clarksville Railroad.

The Oxford "Torchlight" says: fract is laid within about one mile of Sassafras Fork, will probably be finished to Oxford by 15th January. Work is being vigorously pushed. The same force after finishing this road is likely to build the Oxford and of their labors.

Capt, Wright informs us that with good weather the train will be at Sassafras Fork by Thursday. The depot has been staked off, and the obstruction removed for grading the side Capt. Brown thinks he will finish all On the coast line quite an industry grading, side ditching and dressing up this week, on his work, which ex tends to within five miles of Oxford.
