H. L. PARISH, P. M.

You will find the Recorder Office in the brick building over Mrs. M. L. Taylor's Millinery Store. Come and see us.

Enc River was on a boom Sunday night. Farmers are sowing an unusually large crop of Spring Oats this year.

Our market is well supplied with all kind of fresh fish. Shad, Pike, Perch &c. &c.

We learn that Jim Hogan who broke jail last week has been captured at Chapel Hill.

Advertise in the Recorder. We can give you a good circulation now and it will pay you.

Mr. James Pool near South Lowell while engaged in burning a plant bed had the misfortune to fall and break his leg.

Mr. Saunders of Durham has located here and gone upon the market to buy Tobacco. We are glad to welcome him.

The Organ grinder, minus the Monkey, has come to town. Small children and dogs have taken the streets and are happy.

J. Webb Jr. & Bro., are now receiving a large lot of well selected Goods. He says he does not intend to be undersold. Look for his ad. in a short time.

There are 2,500,000 bushels of Corn, less in the country now than five years ago. It will pay the farmers this year, to plant large crops of Corn and small crops of Tobacco.

The John C. Core Co., we see from our State exchanges is a good thing, hope our people will give them a good house. Wednesday and Thursday nights at Masonic Hall.

Mr. C. M. Parks has gone north to lay in his Spring Stock of Goods. He expects to buy very largely. Upon his return he will speak to his numerous customers through the Recorder.

See Mrs. Mattie L. Taylor's new Advertisement in this issue. Mrs. Taylor is a very clever and obliging lady and keeps a nice lot Millinery, Notions, Hats, Bonnets, Ribbons &c. &c. She sells on most reasonable terms.

Taking off gates has long since ceased to be funny, it is now voted a great nuisance, but when they are taken off and carried away so that the owners can not find them, it becomes ludicrous and the glibly parties if found out may be sent to the Penitentiary.

Another Jail delivery occurred in our town last Sunday night. J. P. Hopkins and young Holmes son of David Holmes in jail for a misdemeanor. When discovered on Monday morning the cell door was unlocked by some unknown manner and the birds had escaped. How or by whom the door was unlocked appears a great mystery. The Jailor, a very safe cautious and honest man had locked the cell the night before and had the keys in his pocket. David Holmes who was confined in another cell did not get this time. There was such a chain of circumstances connected with his case he could not find it in his power to break away.

Lula Delmo, Dramatic Co.

Two Nights Only, March 14 and 15; supporting Miss Lula Delmo and John C. Core in some of the best plays of the day. John C. Core as the Bad Boy is irresistible, and Miss Delmo as the Bad Boy's girl, captivates everybody. Press notices from all points in the South praise this company very highly. All turn out and show them how Hillsboro appreciates something good.

Charlotte Observer.

This is a famous old name and it makes us feel glad to see it upon our table, edited as it is by Col. Charles R. Jones.

We welcome it most cheerfully. Col. Jones has had much experience as an Editor and publisher and we bespeak for the present "Observer" the same popularity that the old "Observer" once attained under his management. "Is political course" he says "will be sound Democracy." Just so, you are right Colonel, sound and live Democratic papers is what we want at this time.

Mrs. E. H. Pogue sent us an Irish Poem that was planted in a place greatly run over with the "Not Grass," the grass, in this case has pierced the potatoes through and through, and in cutting the nuis are found imbedded in the potatoes. It is said the Not Grass is fine for stopping washes in lands. When once rooted, we know that nothing but hogs or a double earth-quake can kill it out.

The Recorder.

We started the publication of the Hillsboro "Recorder," on the 11th day of August 1887 without a single subscriber and without a dollar to run it. Now on the 1st of March 1888, nearly seven months, we have 700 subscribers to the Recorder and increasing daily. By the 1st of June we expect to have 1000 subscribers.

Our politics have been clearly defined. This is the Campaign year, and if people want a paper that will give forth no uncertain sound as to political matters, the Recorder is the paper to take. If they want a good medium through which to advertise their goods, wares and merchandise the "Recorder" is the paper.

We know the task we have undertaken. We know that some people, not Solomons, have said that Hillsboro is a dead town. We know they have lied. We know that some towns are ahead of us in some things. We know that Hillsboro is not as alive town as it ought to be. But if some of these Solomons would come here and stay a day or two they would think it was the proudest corps they ever sat up with.

We know that a live paper has much to do to make a live town, and if this town will do its part for the paper, we will make good all we've said. So, now, hear, you fellows from a distance looking for a situation, with good water, pure air, pretty scenery and pretty girls, where nature's hand has been bounteous. Come, we want you, if you have no money, but will work. Come. If you have money that will be no objection, but come anyway. If you want to buy nice yellow or common grade tobacco, we have it every day at the Central, so come. If you want cheap goods of every description, here is the place to come. If you want a place where you can live cheap, this is the place. If you want good Schools, good society, good religion, to live long, die happy and go sailing up to glory. Hillsboro is the place.

A Pleasant Affair.

It was our great pleasure to be present at the closing exercises of the public School at Mars Hill under the management and control of that most excellent teacher Miss Maggie Forrest on last Friday evening. The programme was quite long consisting of about 35 parts, including therein, Recitations, Declarations, Tablets, Songs, Dialogues, Valedictory &c. &c. The scenes and becoming decorations on the platform were exceedingly handsome and well arranged. The children, boys and girls, acted well their parts and it was very seldom they were prompted, showing very plainly that their training had been thorough and guided by a skillful hand.

Upon the whole every thing passed off to the delight and pleasure of the large audience present. Miss Hattie Freeland, daughter of Wm J. Freeland won the prize for the greatest improvement in writing in the shape of a beautiful Bible which, accompanied by appropriate remarks, was presented to her by the Superintendent the Rev. Jas. L. Currie, who took the occasion to compliment Miss Forrest the teacher, in very high terms.

Too much praise cannot be given Miss Forrest and the children under her skillful training. She is undoubtedly a born teacher and fortunate indeed is the School that may secure her services.

My Treasure.

I've something at home
In a casket of mine,
(My casket of treasure rare)
'Tis a picture of one
Whose blue eyes shine
Like Venus, the sparkling Star.

They shone, I remember,
With a softened light
When they looked the last time
Into mine,
But now, like Lima
On a tempestuous night,
They are hidden, but
For them I sadly pine.

And now as I gaze
At the golden hair,
Those tresses whose glistening hue
Flashed back the rays
Of the Sun into air,
My heart longs, dearest,
For you.

And, oh, how fondly
To those trembling lips of mine
Thine image, in secret, I press,
While I pray for the day
When again I'll entwine
My fingers in your golden tress!

Pray to feel once more
The quick heart throbs
As I fold the dear one to my breast
To banish all my pain,
My doubts and sorrows,
By a kiss from the lips
I love best.

Ah, yes, this picture
Brings back the "by-gone days,"
When we sat "building castles
In the air,"
And the Sun seemed to shine
With brighter rays
As I'd fondle your silky
Golden hair!

Our Cotton Factory.

Our country people who may have a little money they wish to profitable and safely invest, would do better than they think, if they would come to town and get information in regard to the Cotton Mill to be erected here at an early day. The gentlemen at the bottom of this enterprise, are men of capital, and never take hold of any doubtful thing. We do not know, but suppose shares of $100, may be taken; $100 in twelve months will make you $20 and $20 is better than $8 00.

DIED.

At his home near this place on the 6th inst. after a protracted illness, Mr. Albert F. Fancett, aged about 52 years.

It is seldom we are called upon to chronicle the death of one so universally esteemed, or had so many traits of character peculiarly attractive, or one whose death will be so deeply felt in the neighborhood.

His wife having died several years ago, he leaves a large family of young children to mourn their loss, and their loss is truly great.

The deceased was in every sense of the word, a good and true man, a kind and most affectionate father, an open-hearted neighbor and generous friend.

Mr. Fancett was Lieut of Co. K. 2nd N. C. Cavalry and no truer or braver soldier ever drew blade in his country's cause. He was desperately wounded at the battle of — and recovering in time was present at the surrender of Gen. Lea. A good, noble, kind and brave man has passed "over the river" and by the light of divine revelation we know that he is "resting under the shade" of those immortal trees that bloom forever.

Near this place on the 10th inst. after a lingering illness for several months Mr. John R. Thompson aged about 70 years. Thus one by one, the old landmarks are being removed. Mr. Thompson never married. He was a kind and generous friend and good neighbor.
