Local Matters.

(For other Locals see Fourth Page).

THE BUGLE is issued every evening, except Sunday, and is delivered to subscribers in the city at one cent a day, payable to the carrier. Mailed to any address for $3 a year.

—Breaks at both warehouses to-day.

—The flowers are just lovely, and our city is the prettiest place in the State.

—The Methodist church will be lighted with gas next Sunday night.

—A petition is being circulated for a neighborhood stock law near Jamestown.

—Wonton extravagance. Spending ten cents for fishing tackle; yet he did it.

—Saturday and Sunday evening we had no showers of rain, with some wind and hail. The rain was much needed.

—We fear the children who went fishing yesterday got a wetting by the sudden hail and storm, which visited us this afternoon.

—G. W. Jackson has on his farm in the suburbs rye six feet two inches high. What beat it?

—Mr. Jackson's new advertisement; they sell seed sweet potatoes. Call on them.

—Messrs. King, Benbow & Co. are engaged in the manufacture of tobacco. They are working lively when they do begin.

—The 2 of Bennett Seminary Visitor is on the table. It is a neat quarterly, published under the auspices of the Bennett Literary Society. It is neatly printed by Mr. Thomas, and edited with ability by the Principal.

—Easter services were held at all the churches yesterday, and a general turnout of the citizens. Congregations good at each church.

—Already the Sunday school rolls show increasing indications of the approach of Spring. The good boy has got his summer clothes—the little girl a spring hat—hence they now go to Sunday school. A growler says it is because excursions always come off in spring.

—Judge Dick will deliver the annual address before Peace Institute on June 6th. A rich treat is in store for those who are so fortunate as to hear it. The Judge has few, if any superiors, as an orator in this State.

—We call attention to the communication of "Hopeful," on next page. "Where there's a will, there's a way!" but it may "be a way" off in the future, still it is among the possibilities, nevertheless.

—The gratifying announcement was made yesterday by the pastor of the Methodist church, that the building committee had secured $2,300 for church repairs. This is within $700 of the amount needed, and the friends are now confident of ultimate success.

—And now we learn a tobacco prizery is soon to be established by gentlemen with sufficient means and experience to handle all the tobacco brought here, that will bear shipping to other markets.

Pic Nics and Holidays.

The United States court and all the city schools are observing to-day as a holiday. The children and many of the old folks are fishing—catching large bass and little fish. Oh, it will be a jolly time, but editors and printers know no rest but one—and a wicked man at our elbow suggests if we ain't careful that rest won't be beneath the umbrageous shades of the willow oak, beside the murky waters of the Buffalo.

Personal.

Mr. S. C. Anderson and wife, of Durham, are in the city.

Mr. W. W. Fuller spent yesterday in the city with Col. Staples.

Mr. R. W. Denny is spending a few days with his family.

Mrs. Nellie Merrimon has returned to Greensboro.

Mrs. Hildesheimer and Miss Laura Brockman, left Saturday night for San Antonio, Texas, where they will teach music. We regret to part with them.

Miss Lizzie Lindsay is at home from Peace Institute.

Mrs. Judge Settle has gone to Florida for a short visit.

Eddie Albright spent yesterday at home.

Miss Sallie Starr, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Raleigh, returned on Saturday evening.

Mr. John E. Lewis, press agent of the Alvin Joslin Comedy Co., is in the city.

Thomas W. Ladd, a prominent minister of the Society of Friends from Brooklyn, New York, is at the Benbow House. He came South for his health, and we are pleased to learn it is improving.

—W. R. Murray is now exhibiting a handsome and attractive stock of fine Dress-Goods—of the latest styles and shades—of Silks, Satins, Nuns' Veiling in all the new shades, French Buntings, Silk Warp, Henrietta cloth, French Zephyrs, Gingham, India Mulls, India Linens, dotted Swiss and a select line of Prints, all of which must be seen to be properly appreciated.
