Chicago, June 20 .- The Tribune

this morning publishes a highly sensational account of the proceed ings before the committee on Credentials late last night in the Wise-Mahone contest. After de scribing the scene of disorder of which its reporter caught a glimpse when the door of the committee room was suddenly opened to admit a policeman, the Tribune says it learned that the Virginia row started between Wise and Mahone. While a Mahone delegate (Allen) was talking, Brady and Wise frequently interrupted. Mahone and government and general prosperity Wise were siting not more than under the Democratic administrafive feet apart on the same side tion of the affairs of the State, of the table. Wise expressed regret at the occurrence, explaining how it was. Mahone said nothing. Libbey also spoke half apologetically, saying in the heat of the moment that he thought Allen was striking at Wise. but he did not think he himself had really hit Allen. The committee felt that something of this kind was necessary. Several members had proposed to expel Libbey, and if he had not made this explana tion he would undoubtedly have been expelled. The desire to avoid publicity, however, was strong. It was agreed that the row should be kept quiet.
