The hospital ship Relief, which arrived at Siboney July 8th, had on board medicines for twenty regiments for six months, calculated upon the basis of the field supply table, and large supplies in addition of the more important medicines, hospital stores, dressings, etc. If these supplies were inadequate there was ample time to inform me of the fact before the sailing of the Olivette July 26th.

I enclose a copy of a letter, just received from Captain Edward L. Munson, assistant surgeon, United States army, which fully accounts for my deficiency of medical supplies at Santiago.

THE SITUATION AT MANILA

As Reported to the London Times by it Correspondent-His Account of the Spanish Attack on Our Lines.

London, August 10 .- The correspondent of The Times at Cavite, with General Greene's brigade, under date of August 3rd, says:

"A heavy monsoon has been blowing A Night of Terror-Insurgents Throw- since Sunday, and deluges of rain have ing Shells Into the City-Citizens greatly increased the difficulty of , lar ling and moving the United States troops and multiplied the discomforts in camp which were already most un-

"As I anticipated, General Green's brigade is the focus of the active land campaign. Already the troops are in constant and close touch with the enemy. On Friday morning a battalion consisting of the First Colorado under Lieutenant Colonel McCoy, with four guns of the Utah battery, commanded by Captain Young, grandson of the Mormon prophet, occupied the line fifty yards in advance of the insurgents between the beach and Calla Real, and 1,300 yards from a formidable earthwork situated at the southern end of Malate, the foreign residential quarter of Manila. After sixteen hours of continuous labor, the work of entrenchment was completed, the enemy not firing a shot until the Americans indulged in sharp shooting "Saturday was comparatively quiet, and so was Sunday until nightfail, when the Tenth Pennsylvania, Colonel Hawkins commanding, occupied the trenches after some desultory picket firing. At 11:30 o'clock p. m. the enemy, estimated at 2,500 strong, opened fire vigorously, under cover of the dense undergrowth. Their movements were further hidden by the floods of rain. The Pennsylvanians met the attack with a succession of volleys, covering their right with two companies stationed in the swamp beyond the entrenchments. "After about three quarters of an hour, two companies of the Third regular artillery, under Major O'Hara, arrived at double-quick to relieve the Pennsylvanians, whose ammunition was almost exhausted. They soon silenced the enemy's fire. The first California, under Colonel Smith. and the First Colorado, under Colonel Hale, acted as supports. "The affair lasted two hours. But notwithstanding the tremendous fusillade and the heavy shell fire only ten Americans were killed and forty-six wounded, though there were some casualties among the supports, while durnia, wounded seriously in the head, and Captain Hobbs, of the Third artillery, wounded slightly in the leg. answer was not satisfactory in all respects, though in just what points it fell short in the expectations of the president, it is impossible to say. It was felt by the observers that had the answer been a complete acceptance of our terms the result would have been made public.

On the other hand, it would be a strained inference to conclude that the answer was unsatisfactory entirely, for in that case, according to the president's statement heretofore made, his offer would have been definitely withdrawn and the war resumed with greater energy than before. It would seem that there could scarcely be a good reason in this case for withholding the result of the conference.

On the whole it is rather to be concluded that a middle result was obtained; that Spain was bound to have at- M. Cambon, the secretary said no intached certain conditions to her acceptance of the president's terms, but that the latter was not disposed to regard the injection of the new matter as sufficient in itself to warrant an immediate termination of the peace negotiations. According to this view, the president has taken exception to some of the Spanish conditions, but has allowed a last opportunity for them to be withdrawn or modified.

THE REPLY LENGTHY.

The reply of the Spanish government is understood to be a document embracing about 1,200 words. It bears ence did not amount to a formal meetthe signature of the Spanish minister ing of the cabinet, although the reply of foreign affairs, and the form of statement throughout is that of her | was discussed. majesty's government, similar to the American terms, being in the name of Secretary Alger said that nothing the president. The copy delivered to the president was in English, the translation from Spanish to French having dicating that it was a subject for furbeen made at Paris, and that from French to English having been made prior to the presentation of the answer at the White house. This obviated delays, and gave the president and Secretary Day an English text at the outset of the conference with the ambassador.

DIVIDED INTO FIVE HEADS. The Spanish reply is said to be divided into five points or heads, namely Cuba. Porto Rico, Ladrone Islands, occupation of Manila and the appointment -of a peace commission, which are treated in the order named. So far as could be learned no mention is made of the Cuban debt. The retention of arms and ammunition by the Spanish troops comes in for indirect reference under the head of Cuba.

UNOFFICIAL STATEMENT OF THE REPLY.

In the absence of an official statement it is impossible to give the Spanish position on the several American conditions. But the following is from the best information obtainable in those laid down by the American government. As to Cuba, the American

From then until a scant hour and a half afterward the four were closeted together, going over the answer of the Sagasta government. It was noticeable that neither Assistant Secretary John Moore or Assistant Secretary Adee, both of whom are authorities on diplomatic phraseology, and one or the other of whom has been called into conference on previous occasions, were present. When the meeting ended it was 7:35 o'clock.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Secretary Day went to his office in the state department, remaining there about an hour. In response to inquiries concernformation could be made public tonight. Further than that he declined to go. He could not discuss in any way, he said, the answer which had been submitted by Spain.

Secretary Day returned to the White house about 9:30 o'clock. Meantime Secretaries Alger and Bliss, Postmaster General Smith and Attorney General Griggs had arrived at the executive mansion. The five members of the cabinet remained in conference with the president until 10:30 o'clock. Assurance was given that the confersubmitted by the Madrid government

NO MORE TROOPS NEEDED IN PORTO RICO.

The interesting feature of today's news of the war department was the cable from General Miles stating that he did not need reinforcements and advising that no more troops be sent to Porto Rico. The effect of this dispatch was to stop the embarkation of troops at Newport News and to stop General Wade's corps from sailing.

The disposition of troops which are not now needed for active service was considered at once by the department officials and the determination was reached that there would be a general movement from the larger camps. Some of these troops will be sent north, treating each subject. An acceptance where they will be in a cooler climate in some cases is understood to relate | and stationed at camps which are unto conditions somewhat different to der consideration, but which have not yet been definitely selected.

The belief is now general among the officials of the war department that concentration in large camps and comparative inactivity, together with the failure of troops to take rigid precautions as advised by the medical department, has been the cause of much sickness in the various camps.

before the formal signatures are affixed, but the administration's view as two governments at least had practiretary entered the White house, it was out in Secretary Day's sentence: "It is expected that this protocol will mained to be accomplished was purely be executed."

There is always the possibility in entertained that the signatures requirdealing with the Spanish government that it may recede at the last moment from an implied agreement, but it is scarcely probable that it would be willing to involve the French ambassador in the difficulties that would follow what to the world would seem to be a repudiation of his benevolent efforts in behalf of Spain.

There must be delay-possibly from twenty-four to forty-eight hours-before the next step can be taken and the protocol made binding upon both the United States and Spain by the attachment of the signatures of the plenipotentiaries-Secretary Day for the United States and M. Cambon for been abandoned, so far as some of the Spain. The delay will be largely attributable to physical causes. The protocol is long; it must be translated and turned back and forth into code and simple language no less than five times before it reaches Madrid through the French foreign office. This work was not begun until late this afternoon after it had consumed the best energies of Assistant Secretary Adee, of the state department, and M. Thiebaut, secretary of the French embassy, in the preparation in formal shape of two copies of the protocol, one in English and one in French.

These were prepared very carefully, the idiomatic variance in the two languages necessitating the greatest caution in order that the identical character of the two copies should be preserved. The length of the protocol imposed a great amount of labor troops now at San Francisco, which upon the cipher clerks, or whoever is will be sent as soon as transports can charged with the work of rendering, be obtained. the original into cipher, so that altogether it is apparent the consumption of time involved in purely mechanical

TERMS OF THE PROTOCOL.

As to the character of the protocol it can be stated on authority that the terms are in all practical points those set out in the abstract of the president's conditions published from the White house a week ago. From this fact it is deducted that the extra conditions or qualifications sought to be imposed by the Spanish government were abandoned, at least in large part, by the French ambassador.

This deduction is supported by the ircumstances that in the early morning, and before the conference between Secretary Day and M. Cambon, which resulted in the agreement, there was a prevalent impression, based upon the utterances of public men who talked with the president, that the Spanish answer was unsatisfactory and that the negotiations looked as if they might terminate suddenly.

As this situation changed so suddenly after the conference, it may be nounced that an extra session of the Some regiments will be removed at fairly assumed that the ambassador senate would be held doubtless in No-

NAVAL PROMOTIONS.

Another matter which has received attention is the promotions to be accorded to officers who have disinguished themselves during the hostilities. A step was made in this direction today by the submission to the president of recommendations by the secretary of the navy for the advancement of all

The secretary today cabled General Merritt asking him when it was expected the transports would return to San Francisco, and if they are likely to reach that point within three weeks. The Spanish reply is said to accept the principle that Spanish sovereignty over Cuba will terminate, but it is understood to take up the future government of the island, and because of the extent of the Spanash interests there, is said to take the view, either express or implied, that the United States should administer the affairs of the island. As to the time of evacuating Cuba, this is a detail which the Spanish reply is said to regard as among many which can be left to the commission for final determination.
