

GOLDSBORO DEPARTMENT.

OFFICE IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

This department of the Daily Messenger is put in type at Goldsboro, every day, and forwarded by the Southern Express Company to Wilmington, each evening, for the forms of the paper of the next morning, thus adding to the Messenger the features of a Goldsboro daily local newspaper, and the best that emanates from that city.

GOLDSBORO JOTTINGS.

Mr. D. E. McKinnie, wife and one child, of Princeton, were in the city Wednesday.

Mr. Pembroke Jones, of Wilmington, was here Wednesday looking after his rice milling business.

Mrs. W. T. Gardner, of "Smithtown," has gone to Durham to visit her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Proctor.

Mr. W. B. Bowden, of Dudley, was in the city Wednesday, transacting business with some of our leading merchants.

Ex-President Washington Bryan, than whom the A. & N. C. R. R. never had a better, was in the city Tuesday, looking and acting as cheerful as ever.

We are requested to announce that the Rev. T. Page Ricard, of Wilmington, will preach at St. Paul M. E. church, next Sunday, morning and night.

The meetings are now being held at St. John M. E. church twice daily—first service at 2 o'clock p. m. and second at 7 p. m., and the congregations are increasing and the interest improving.

Mr. J. A. Bonitz, proprietor of the Messenger Opera House building, has leased the South corner store of that building to the Southern Express Company, for a period of five years.

When the Board of City Aldermen meet in regular session next Tuesday night, we would like to call their attention to that open ditch running along Slocomb street on Widow's Hill.

Cotton brought from 9.25 to 9.40 in this market Thursday, some of the lint we saw was quiet trashy while some was as white as the drifted snow, hence he margin in the price.

We heard a man say yesterday that he had made just all he wanted to make of one crop, that is the potato, and just as large, if not larger, than he wanted them to be. He hardly would have room to house them.

Mr. W. E. Humphrey, formerly with the Hotel Gregory of this city, but now with the McAdoo House of Charlotte, has been visiting friends and relatives here this week. He left for home Thursday.

Of course you will not fail to come to the Messenger Opera House, on the night of Nov. 16th, to see Mr. Fred. Ward in the "Mountebank." Mr. Ward is a favorite with our people, and he is well supported by an excellent company.

Cotton is now beginning to come in more freely. The "Cotton street," Walnut, has been pretty well filled several days this week with loads of cotton, and it still commands the top notch in prices, showing Goldsboro to be a tip top market.

Mr. W. S. Chadwick, the present President of the A. & N. C. R. R., who is yet to make his reputation as a President, was in the city Tuesday, looking after the interest of his road here. Some men who praise to-day cry out crucify to-morrow.

Rev. W. W. Rose, of the LaGrange M. E. church, is in the city this week, assisting the Rev. M. M. McFarland in the protracted meeting, at St. John M. E. church, the P. E., Rev. R. A. Willis, is also attending the meeting, and "lending a helping hand."

"Col." Plaisted is now having electric poles put up on Chestnut street as far East as the corner of Chestnut and John streets and thus the work of scattering the light all over the city goes on and we expect to see them, after a while, in the public buildings, the stores and the churches.

The County Board of Commissioners when they meet Monday next, would do an act that would be approved by the people, if they will take steps to have the old fence around the Court House square either removed or repaired. Something ought to be done, for that fence mars the looks of the public square.

In the beautiful show window of Watts and Watts Parlor Jewelry Store, on West Centre street, is to be seen "facsimiles of the largest 9 diamonds in the world": The Grandmogul, the Orloff, the Koh-I-Noor, the Florentine (of light yellow color) the Polar Star, the Dresden diamond, the diamond of the ex-Empress Eugenie, of France, the Matam and the Sancy. The price of the original is set down at $225,000 that is of the largest. It is worth a walk over to the "palor" to see them.

"My love, what magic spell is thrown, Upon your face? Its charm I own. Whence came thy pure and pearly teeth? Thy rosy lips? Thy perfumed breath?" She said in accents sweet and clear, "Tis only SOZODONT, my dear."

[The] Atmosphere of Love Is a pure, sweet breath. This desideratum is one of the results of using SOZODONT, which not only invigorates and preserves the teeth, but renders the mouth as fragrant as a rose.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," handy about the house, mends everything.

One of Lowell's suburban agriculturists, reading that Edwin Arnold was to lecture in Boston on Brahman philosophy, sent for a ticket. He said he hoped to learn how to make them pesky high-posted hens lay.

To keep the beard from turning gray, and thus prevent the appearance of age, use Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers, the best dye made.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by Munds Bros.

NAHUNTA NEWS.

PINKNEY.

Mr. M. N. Hales, an old student of Nahunta, has returned to his home in Nash county from a visit to friends in this section. He has been appointed by the Civil Service Commission as postal clerk on the new line between Halifax and Greenville. "Nero" we congratulate you on your promotion.

Master Delano Perkins, son of Mr. W. R. Perkins, near here, is attending school at Pleasant Garden, Guilford county.

Messrs J. H. Sullivan and Jethro Stucky, returned Sunday from a visit to the Free Will Baptist Conference, held at Santa Delight, Franklin county. John says he saw a man hauling corn with a mule and an ox hitched to the same wagon.

Uncle Larry Sullivent went "possum" hunting one night last week and took in eight "possums."

We took in the quarterly meeting at Woodland last Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday night Rev. Goddard gave a lecture on temperance. It was one of the "cutest" talks we have ever heard. His illustrations were grand and his sparkling wit and side-splitting jokes and anecdotes were most excellent. We have a very high admiration as well as estimation of Mr. Goddard, and wish him success in all his labors.

Mr. Will Dixon and Miss Sally Holland were united in the bonds of matrimony Sunday night, near here. Her folks being averse to the marriage, he came in the night and carried away his lady-love.

Your correspondent, among others of our people, took in the State Fair and enjoyed it very "hugely"

Mr. Matthew Pike and Miss Fannie Barnett were married near here on the 16th. Mr. T. N. Wiggs, tying the nuptial knot. We wish them a long life full of joy. May their virtues ever shine like blossoms on a pumpkin vine.

The annual entertainment of the Band of Hope and W. C. T. U. will be held in the Academy building on Saturday night, Nov. 16th. Everybody is cordially invited to come, for a very huge time is anticipated.

MOUNT OLIVE ITEMS.

Little Francis, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Long's youngest child, died Tuesday night of last week, aged two years. It was buried in the cemetery, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. C. C. Bird's residence, about four miles South of this place, caught fire from the cook stove, at noon on Monday, the 22nd, and was burned to the ground before the flames could be arrested. The family lost nearly all their furniture and all their clothing except those they were wearing at that time. Loss about $15,000 but they were luck enough to have $5000 insurance on the house and contents.

Mr. John Walker, a very poor man and a widower with several small children, lost his dwelling by fire recently, and nearly everything in it. He lived a few miles in the country.

Mary Pearsall, a colored woman, was found dead last Sunday, lying in a path near Mr. D. A. Thompson's place in Duplin county. The coroner summoned a jury of inquest, and sent, for Dr. J. W. Faison, Sunday night, who examined the body. It was decided that she died from natural causes. Her husband was very poor and came to town to beg assistance in the way of a coffin, etc., with which to prepare her his wife's remains for burial.

Dr. J. W. Faison has been appointed one of the marshals at the Centennial to be held in Fayetteville, in November. He has also received the appointment as sergeant for the staff of the chief marshal.

Though it may be a little late, owing to the fact that our typo overlooked an item we prepared on the sermons preached by Rev. D. H. Tuttle in St. Paul M. E. Church Sunday morning and night, we will take occasion to say these sermons were of the highest order. The one in the morning from the text, "Can God spread a table in the wilderness?" was noted for eloquence and deep logic; and the one at night on the "Tongue," was plain and practical.

Henry, the little five year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards, after twelve weary weeks of suffering, departed this life, at his parents residence, near this city, Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock. He was a bright and interesting child, and it crushes the fond parents' hearts to give him up to the great maw of humanity, from the cradle to hoary age, yet it is far better with the child, for it is now safe in the "arms of Jesus."

We are enterprising, having more business than we could transact in one office, "the home office," and knowing that the people of Goldsboro were anxious for the news, we felt under obligations to our thousands of patrons in this section, extending from the hills of Wake to the white sand beach of the Atlantic, and we established, at our old home, Goldsboro, a branch office from which emanates more news, daily, from city and country, than comes through any paper that does "business exclusively through the home office." As to the truth of this we simply ask the people to compare papers for themselves.

It becomes our painful duty to chronicle the death of Master Wiley, the 11-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burdow, which sad event occurred at the home of his parents in Bentonsville township, Johnston county, at 7 o'clock Tuesday. The boy had been sick for some time with chills and fever and Sunday evening was taken with a congestive chill from which he never recovered. It is sad for parents thus to lose a promising son in youth's bright May morn, but then we must remember God does all things well, and in kind providence he often removes our brightest household jewels to lift our thoughts and affections from earth's transient joys to brighter and better joys beyond the swelling flood. The MESSENGER tenders to the bereaved ones its heartfelt sympathies.

Bellamy's wholesale and retail drug store.

"I would advise you to buy a better watch; I cannot guarantee this one." "Oh, it is plenty good enough. I am buying it for my nephew to remember me by, and the worse it goes the more he will have to think of me."

Dr. Mott on Speer's Wine.

Dr. Mott, of the Bellevue Hospital College, gives his unqualified endorsement to Speer's Wine; and recommends their use to sickly females and consumptives. It can be procured of any first-class druggist in the country.

"Have you ever seen 'Ten Nights in a Barroom,' Mr. Walker?" "Seen ten Knights in a barroom! Well, I should say I have. I've seen nearly all our lodge in a barroom, from the Master Workman down."

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising.

We read of a Kentucky man who was paralyzed by a mosquito bite. It is a wonder that the bite didn't paralyze the mosquito.

Taken Unawares.

Unsuspected causes for malaria exist everywhere. A sunken lot partly filled with water in the vicinity of your abode, a new location upon land filled in, but formerly overflowed or marshy, and causes far more occult than these produce the atmospheric miasma which constitute the germs that, if inhaled, ripen into fever and ague and congenital maladies. A person taken unawares with a malarial complaint should, as soon as it declares itself, seek aid from the safe, non-disappointing, cordial medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has for over a third of a century, and in every quarter of the globe, relieved the malaria-stricken, and neutralized miasma in air and water. The Bitters imparts activity to the stomach, bowels and liver, repels incipient rheumatism, and remedies inaction of the kidneys and bladder. Appetite and sleep are improved, and the infirmities of age mitigated by its use.

Convincing Proof.

In many instances it has been proven that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), made by Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., will cure blood poison in its worse phases, even when all other treatment fails.

A. P. Brunson, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I had 24 running ulcers on one leg and six on the other, and felt greatly prostrated. I believe I actually swallowed a barrel of medicine, in vain efforts to cure the disease. With little hope I finally acted on the urgent advice of a friend, and got a bottle of B. B. B. I experienced a change, and my despondency was somewhat dispelled. I kept using it until I had taken sixteen bottles, and all the ulcers, rheumatism and all other horrors of blood poison have disappeared, and at last I am sound and well again, after an experience of twenty years of torture."

Robert Ward, Maxey, Ga., writes: "My disease was pronounced a tertiary form of blood poisoning. My face, head and shoulders were a mass of corruption, and finally the disease began eating my skull bones. My bones ached; my kidneys were deranged, I lost flesh and strength, and life became a burden. All said I must surely die, but nevertheless, when I had used ten bottles of B. B. B. I was pronounced well. Hundreds of scars can now be seen on me. I have now been well over twelve months."
