GENERAL SATISFACTION

AT THE CESSATION OF ATTACKS UPON SENATOR VANCE.

His Election Before Assured but a Friendly Settlement Preferred-A Meeting in the Interest of a State Exposition-Much Giving in Marriage-A History of the Negro Race in America.

> MESSENGER BUREAU, RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 23.

There is much talk and general satisfaction at the end of the attacks on Vance by the Farmers' Alliance organ. There is no doubt of Vance's re-election, anyway, but it is well to have matters settled quietly. Once a Senator of this State, after his election, was instructed Haywood. He did not see his way clear to follow the instructions. That is the only case on record in North Carolina.

Col. Polk will be here tomorrow and will spend the holidays with his family. He will probably while here, appoint a new private secretary to succeed Rittenhouse, the fellow who incurred the wrath of the Alliance to such a great degree.

Governor Fowle left here this after. noon for Georgetown, S. C., where he will spend the holidays as the guest of a friend who resides there. Col. John D. Whitford. of New Bern, accompanied the Governor. The party will hunt and fish a good deal.

Friday evening a meeting in the interest of a State exposition in 1891 will be held here. It is called by William S. Primrose, president of the exposition in 1884. Every effort will be made to arouse enthusiasm in the matter. By the exercise of skill and the awakening July 1st, 1890, and bearing interof the people, a grand exposition can est payable semi-annually at the episode, as it appears in the diary, is

A NEW ASSOCIATE JUSTICE.

The President Appoints Julge H. B. Brown of Michigan-The Finance Bil Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.-The President to-day nominated Henry B.Brown, of Michigan, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme court of the United States, vice Samuel F. Miller deceased. Judge Brown is now United States District Judge for the Third district of Michigan; also Col. Charles Sutherland, surgeon, to be Surgeon General with the rank of Brigadier General, vice J. H. Baxter deceased.

The Senate committee on Finance this morning directed Senator Sherman to report to the Senate immediately, which was done, the bill to provide against contraction of currency and for other purposes, commonly known as the Republican caucus bill. The measure was, however, amended in two important particulars at this morning's meeting. The first was an exclusion of section four of the bill. This section provides that when the National bank circulation falls below $180,000,000 the deficiency shall be supplied by the issue of Treasury notes based on silver bullion purchases, if the silver can be purchased. or, if not, by the direct issue of notes. The second amendment was the insertion, in place of a section stricken out, of the following section: That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue in a sum or sums not exceeding in the aggregate $200,-000,000 coupon and registered bonds of the United States in such form as he may prescribe and of denominations of $50 or some multiple of that sum redeemable in lawful money at the pleasure of the United States on and

KILKENNY, Dec. 23 -Immediately after the sheriff had officially announced the result of the polling. the Parnellites present moved in a body to the front of the court house and then, with cheers, they hoisted Parnell upon their shoulders and gave him a rousing reception. Parnell was upon the point of making a speech when Timothy and Maurice Healy appeared among the crowd. The Parnellites resented intrusion by assuming menacing att'tudes, threatening personal violence to the Healys in case they did not leave. Finally, Parnell, in order to prevent what seemed likely to be a disgraceful row, asked the police to induce the Healys to withdraw. The police promptly acted upon Parnell's suggestion and the Healy'swere prevailed upon to depart under police protection. While the He deys were being escorted out of danger Parnell diverted the attention of the crowd by resuming his attempt to make a speech. LONDON, Dec. 23 .- Jameson's diary will be published to-morrow. Mrs. Jameson and the dead man's brother, in the preface, bitterly attack Stanley for making Jameson the scape-goat for all the troubles which occurred, claiming that they were due to Stanley's own bad judgment and neglect. They also suggest that Stanley and Bouney are not telling the truth. The cannibal

Senator Call Expresses His Opinion 'er Senator Hawley-Financial Matters-The Cloture Rule.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.-[SENATE.] The resolution offered on yesterday by Senator Morgan, directing the committee on Privileges and Elections to amend the Election bill so as to show what are the changes and modifications intended to be made, was taken up and Senator Morgan occupied the entire morning hour in its discussion. Senator Sherman reported the bill to provide against contraction of the currency, and it was read twice and placed on the calandar.

The Election bill was then taken up and Senator Call addressed the Senate in opposition to it. Much of his speech was in the direction of proving from reports and statistics that the colored laborers of the South were much better off in all worldly respects; were more prosperous, contented, and happy than were the workingmen of Massachusetts and Rhode Island; and, that the bill was therefore based on mere hypocritical pretences. His assertions were questioned and contradicted by Senators Hoar and Aldrich, and his remarks as to farm mortgages in Iowa were repelled in like manner by Senator Wilson, of Iowa.

Before concluding his speech Senator Call said he would like the liberty of having printed in the Record some extracts which he bad not read. This led Senator Hawley to inquire as to the extent of what was to be printed, hint ing that there had been, in the past undue advantage taken of such permission.

Senator Call resented the remark and said that he asked nothing from the Senator from Connecticut, as he (Call) this campaign, of the organization was not one of those who had the high | whose invitation brings us together to-

A NOTEWORTHY SPEECH MADE BY HIM LAST NIGHT.

An Address in Response to the Toast the "Campaign of Education '- A Tribute to the Judgment of the America People Dclivered at a Banquet in New York Mrs. Cleveland an Honored Spectator.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.-The long heralded dinner of the Reform Club took place to night in the new concert hall of Madison Square garden and was attended by all the dignity and importance which a most careful arrangement on the part of the club could effect. There were about 500 diners in the hall. The speakers' table was on a raised dias at the western end of the hall. Directly over the head of the chairman were six American flags gracefully grouped with the flag of the State of New York in the centre.

At S:30 o'clock Mrs. Cleveland and party entered one of the boxes. Her appearance was the signal for every man at the tables torise to his feet and amid the waving of bandkerchiels Mrs. Cleveland was given three cheers. The lady arose and bowed, looking as pretty as ever in her figured satin gown of light cream with puffed sleeves. It was a brilliant scene.

At9 o'clock the chairman introduced ex-President Grover Cleveland as the first speaker of the evening, who said Mr. President and Gentlemen:

I suppose I have a correct understanding of what is meant by "The Campaign of Education." Assuming this to be so, I desire before going further to acknowledge the valiant services in

It is interesting and contains much to the credit of the negro. One fact mentioned is that on the American side in the war of the Revolution there were 5,000 negroes enlisted as soldiers. The British had 50,000 of them, of which number 30,000 were from Virginia. A negro was one of the first men killed in that war. He was named Crispus Attucks, and another negro, Peter Salem, shot and killed Maj. Pitcairn, the British commander of Lexington, Mass. Negroes were slave-owners. One of these was named Alston, who lived in Raleigh. He had a plantation and quite a number of slaves. The Indians said they had been ready to meet the soldiers for a month, but the latter were cowards and afraid to come out and fight.

KILKENNY, Dec. 23.-The result of the election held yesterday to fill the seat for Kilkenny in the House of Commons, made vacant by the death of Mr. Marum, was announced at noon to day. The polling resulted in a victory for the anti-Parnellites, their candidate, Sir John Pope Hennesy, being returned. The result of the election was as follows: Hennessy, 2,527; Scully, 1,256; majority for Hennessy, 1,171. GLASGOW, Dec. 23 .- The railroad strike has extended to Edinburgh, and it is feared the full extent of the trouble has not been reached.

KILKENNY, Dec. 23 .- It is stated here that Tanner is bringing suit against Parnell for the libels contained in his speeches made during the late campaign.

As a matter of fact, the Parnellites were not so discouraged at the result of the election as they might be expected, for it is admitted that it was really a victory for the priests, and that, had they not adopted the tactics they did, the result of the election would have been different.

This provoked Senator Hawley into saying that he had meant it all civilly, but that he now objected uncompromisingly to anything being printed that was not read.

Then Senator Butler offered to come to Senator Cali's relief and to read for him whatever he wished to have published.

Thereupon, Senator Hawley withdrew his objection, and the permission asked for was given.

Senator Call spoke for over four hours, and was followed in opposition to the bill by Senator McPherson.

Senator Aldrich asked Senator Mc-Pherson to yield the floor, and, the request having been complied with,) he gave notice of his intention to move an amendment to the rules providing, during the present session, for the closing of debate on any bill, under consideration. The proposed amendment having been read, Senator Aldrich asked that it be printed and laid over which was done.

Without finishing his speech, Senator McPherson yielded, at 5:30 o'clock to a motion for executive session, and afterwards the Senate adjourned till to morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

night. I may be permitted I hope to make this acknowledgement as a citizeu interested in all that promises the increased prosperity of the country; and I shall also venture to do so as a Democrat who recognizes in the prin ciple for which the campaign has thus far proceeded, a cardinal and vital doctrine of Democratic creed. If I thus acknowledge the useful services in a Democratic cause, of any who have not claimed long affiliation with my party. I feel that my Democratic allegiance is strong enough to survive such an indulgence in fairness and decency. am, too, at all times willing that the Democratic party should be enlarged: and as tending in that direction, I am willing to accept and acknowledge in good faith honest help from any quarter when a struggle is pending for the supremacy of Democratic principles. Indeed, I have an idea that in the Campaign of Education it was deemed important to appeal to the reason and judgment of the American people to the end that the Democratic party should be reinforced as well as that the activity and zeal of those already in our ranks should be stimulated. If this be treason in the sight of those who, clothed in Democratic uniform, would be glad to stand at the entrance of our camp and drive back recruits, I cannot help it. I have come here tonight, among other things, to rejoice in the numerous accessions we have recesyed in aid of Democratic endeavor and to give credst wherever it is due for the work of conversion.

The grand and ultimate object of the Campaign of Education was the promotion of the welfare of the country and the relief of the people from unjust burdens. In aid of this purpose and, of course, subordinate and accessory to its accomplishment, it became necessary first of all to arouse the Democratic organization to an apprehension of the fact that the campaign involved a Democratic principle in the advocacy of which the party should be active and aggressive.

Let it be here confessed that we as a party had, in these latter days, been tempted by the successes our opponents had gained solely by temporary shifts and by appeals to prejudice and selfish interests, into paths which avoided too much the honest insistence upon definite and clearly defined principle and fundamental Democratic doctrine. To be sure, some carnest men in the party could but ill conceal their dissatisfaction with the manner in which cardinal principles were relegated to the rear and expediency substituted as the fina to spend the holidays and got on a hope of success; but the timid, the heedless and those who, though nomi- ' store the party to the firm and solid ground of Democratic creed.

If these things are conferred, let it be conceded that when the time came and the cries of a suffering people were heard, and when for their relief a genuine Democratic remedy was proposed, the party easily reorganized its duty and gave proof of its unconquerable Democratic instincts. As soon as the Campaign of Education was inaugurated, the party was quickly marshalled as of the olden time, aggressive, courageous, devoted to its cause and heedlases of discouragement or defeat. Day by day and hour by hour expediency and timeserving were thrown to the winds. Traitors were silenced, camp followers fell away or joined the scurvy band of floaters, while the sturdy Democratic host confidently pressed on bearing aloft the banner of Tariff Reform. If any have wondered in the past at the tenacity and indestructi-bility of our party, their wonder should cease when in the light of the last three years, it is seen how glorious it springs to the front at the call of its duty to the people and in obedience to the summons of party loyalty and obgation.

Thus the education of the campaign meant, as related to the Democracy. its awakening in response to the signal for its return to the propagandism of of Democratic doctrine.
