TROUBLE AMONG PROMINENT OFFICALS.

Conflict of Opinion on the Sub-Treasury Scheme Bids Fair to Develop a New Organization at Their Next Meeting.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 24. Jackson (Miss) special to the Times-Union says: During the visit here of Polk, L'vingston, McDowell and Willetts, Alliance lights, some interesting developments came to the surface in relation to National Alliance matters. The National Alliance legislative council met in Washsngton last February and created a legislative committee consisting of three members, of which O. S. Hall, President of the Missouri Alliance, was one. The functions of this committee were to formulate measures growing out of the Ocala demands to be presented to the 52d Congress. Hali, from the inception of the Sub Treasury measure, has been one of its strongest opponents. When he was selected as a member of the committee, it was regarded as a victory for the anti-treasurites, and as an indication of the ultimate abandonment of the scheme. Hall, after his election, commenced to work with increased vigor against the scheme, and with his coadjutators had succeeded in organizing a movement covering the entire Southern States, a is shown from the call for the meeting of the Anti-Sub-Treasury League, at Dallas, Texas, July 10th next. This meet-ing promises to be largely attended, and organized opposition to the sub-treasury measure and McCuneism will be definitely inaugurated, and on this circum-tance hangs an interesting Within the last month remonstrances have been sent to Hall by members of the legislative council and members have also urged upon President Polk the advisability of taking action against Hall. Polk has had con-

THE FINANCIAL QUESTION. The Only Question to be Considered at the Next Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, June 24.-It'is stated on the best authority that the only financial question to be considered by the Cabinet at its regular meeting on Friday is whether the coinage of standard silver dollars shall be continued after the 1st proximo, and that data on that subject and on no other are now being prepared at the Treasury department for the information and guidance of the President and his advisers. A great many communications on this subject have been received at the department since it became known that the financial secretary was seriously considering such a policy. A large majority of them favor the proposi ion and the only one so far received opposing it came from certain bankers in New York. While there is considerable diversity of opinion as to the advisability of such a course, the pre-vailing sentiment with the leading treasury officials is that it will be adopted. One of them said that, while it was necessary that this question should be disposed of before the first proximo

The offers so far received in response to Secretary Foster's suggestion for such xtension, have been few in number and represent less than $3,000,000 of the bonds. Holders of about one-half this amount agree to two percent extension and others say they will accept the rate finally determined upon. The official already quoted, said that there was not the least doubt of the Government's ability to meet all its obligations during the coming fiscal year, even to the full
