Kelly says that he must have $20,000 "plunk," or he will not refer e the match, and Corbett and Mitchell are junction asked for, the club will immediately throw up the sponge and declare the contest off.

The club people have claimed all along that they were law-abiding and would be governed by a court decision. Therefore, if Judge Call decides against them They say, however, that if Judge Call grants the injunction they will have the fight in spite of Governor Mitchell and the State troops quartered here.

While Judge Call has given no hint as to what his decision would be, the Southern Associate Press correspondent learned to-night, from good authority, that he would grant no injunction. What may have been Judge Call's views

A special order having been adopted last Saturday, setting aside to-day, (Tuesday) for consideration of the coal and iron ore schedules, the House was undecided as to whether that order should go into schedule should first be completed. After a quarter of an hour had been spent in the discussion, the Speaker ruled that the sugar clause should be given right of

The House then at 11:25 o'clock went into Committee of the Whole, but the committee was beset with shoals and quicksands as the House was, and more than an hour was spent in getting its bearings. Late yesterday afternoon an amendment had been offered by Mr. Robertson, Democrat, of Louisiana, providing for a duty of 1 cent per pound some time past. There was free selling and upwards for raw sugar. To this, by longs, and local traders put out some Mr. Warner, of New York, had offered a lines of short cotton. It took an hour and threequarters to come to the conclusion that Mr. Warner's substitute had displayed the Robertson amendment. The Warner substitute was then agreed to, and all sugar was made free and the bounty abolished. At 1.05 o'clock the coal schedule was aken up and Mr. Oates, of Alabama, offered an amendment striking coal from the free list and putting a duty of 40 cents per ton on it and 20 cents per ton

Messrs, Oates, Wheeler and Turpin, of Alabama, wanted a tariff duty on coal. Mr. Turpin offered an amendment to the substitute providing that the tax of 75 cents per ton should be decreased 124 cents a year and cease altogether after the sixth year.

A vote was then taken on the amendment offered by Mr. Wise raising the tariff to 50c and it was defeated by a viva voce vote. The vote was then taken on the amend-
