The deposition of Wm. G. Wood, a carpenter of Lexington, was read next. This was one of the depositions admitted this morning to evidence, subject to specific objection. He had met Madeline Pollard, he said, at the house of Mrs. Kean at Snickaway, near Lexington about May 1882, and at Miss Fol lard's invitation called again and again, and within a couple of months he and Miss Pol lard became engaged to be married. "I said when we were married I would take her to Europe. When it came near to the date for setting the time, I told her I could not take her to Europe-it was too far and I was broke. Richmond, Va., March 26.—A Charlottesville special to the Dispatch says: The University of Virginia suffered its second defeat at the hands of Yale here this afternoon by a score of 11 to 13. At the end of the seventh inning the score stood 10 to 7 in favor of the home team. Both teams batted well, Yale did not play the last half of the ninth inning. Mr. Julian was compelled to tell how he lost his sight. He had gone to Shelbyville fair carrying a revolver belonging to a friend, who did not want to carry it because his girl was with him. He got to the fair after drinking two pints of whiskey and several gills more. He had tried to have some fun with a negro by pulling the pistol on him, and when the negro begged him not to shoot, he said: "Well, I'll shoot myself," and put the pistol in front of his face.

SENATOR COLQUITT

Passes Quietly From Life to Eternal Rest-Preparations For the Funeral-A Sketch of His Life. Washington, March 26,-Senator Colquitt died at his residence, No. 220 A street, S. E., this city, at 7:10 o'clock this morning. The end was quiet and peaceful and death came as if the Senator were dropping into sleep. He had been sinking gradually all night. At 3 o'clock this morning the entire right side became totally paralyzed, and after that it was evident to all that death was at best a question of hours only. The entire family, except a daughter, Mrs. Newell, of Milledgeville, Ga., were present, as were also the family of his colleague, Senator Gordon, who were summoned when the attack occurred at 3 o'clock. The funeral will take place in the Senat to by the plaintiff.

Interest in the morning centered in the decision of Judge Bradley with reference to the decision of the rive in time to officiate. The remains wil be taken to Macon, Ga., for interment. The be taken to Macon, Ga., for interment. The cortege will proceed from the Capitol to the depot. After the funeral services in the Senate Chamber that body will probably take a recess until 12 o'clock when the Senate will resume its legislative business.

Representative Turner was authorized to make formal reference to the loss sustained by Georgia in the death of the enator when the announcement of his death was received from the Senate.

The Senate and House committees, and family, accompanying the remains will leave Washington on the Richmond and Danyille fast mail train at 11 o'clock a. m. to-morrow, arriving in Macon, Ga., at 11 o'clock a. m. the next day. The funeral party will be in charge of Mr. B. W. Lay-ton, first assistant sergant at arms of the senate and a representative of the Richmond and Danville railroad.

Alfred Holt Colquitt was born in Walton county, Ga., April 20th 1824, and was consequently in his 70th year. He was graduated at Princeton in 1844, studied law and was during the Mexican war as a staff officer with the rank of major. In 1852 he was one term. He was a member of the Legislature in 1859 and a Presidential elector in 1860 on the Breckinridge ticket. He was a member of the secession convention of Georgia and entered the Confederate army as captain. Later, he was chosen colonel of the Sixth Georgia infantry, promoted a brigadier general and after serving some time in that grade, was commissioned a ma-jor general. In 1876 he was elected Governor of Georgia for four years, at the expiration of which term he was re-elected for two years under the new constitution. GEN. COXEY'S ARMY.

It Starts From Canton, Ohio, Seventy Strong-Whiskey to Complete the Disintegration Begun by Cold Weather.

CANTON, O. March 26 .- When the sun rose n camp Lexington this morning not a sollier of the Commonweal army was visibly. The cold weather had driven them all out of their big tent during the night. Fifty-eight of them had gone to the police station, where they were given lodgings on the cold stone floor. Others had scattered in different directions, many of them to return no more. Those who assembled this morning at camp were given breakfast. Coxey claims that recruits are ow coming in so fast that it is impossible o keep count, but if this statement is true the new arrivals are successfully keeping out of sight. Three women in male attire re with the army. Nearly an inch of snow covered the ground this morning with a temperature pretty well down toward zero. Coxey, Browne and other leaders slept comfortably at the hotel.

Examination of court records this morning showed mortgages against Coxey's prop-erty to the extent of $48,000, and the claim that he would not be able to pay 10 cents on the dollar, if pressed, seems pretty well founded. He leaves the army at Alliance to go to Chicago, but claims he will be absent only one night.

Browne said this morning: "All hell cannot stop this movement now. I have foreseen from the start just how it would be. I knew exactly how many men would start with us, what the weather would be, and all that. You can make up your mind that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." What was left of the army this morning breakfasted on bread and boiled bacon and black coffee. Coxey says the cold weather and the newspapers will be unsuccessful in defeating his project. God is with him, he says, and his army will number 1,000 men inside of forty-eight hours. The Common-weal soldiers being thinly clad, suffered from the cold and there were many loud complaints and threats of desertion unless etter weather favored the movement. Camp Lexington was broken at 11 o'clock and the start for Louisville was made. Less than seventy-five men were in line, but Coxey and his lieutenants claimed everyhing was working according to the celestia schedule with which they have been furnished. They declare that provisions have been donated in such quantities that they cannot handle them all. Canton people seemed this morning to have lost interest in the army and the soldiers were left this in the army and the soldiers were left this morning to fold their tents like Arabs and Chicago, March 26.—Operators in wheat have been disappointed so frequently in the expectations of a freeze-up that the Govern ment indications of Saturday were quit generally disregarded. Those who put faith in them, however, were rewarded with a substantial gain at the opening to-day with-out the worry and anxiety incident to an uncertain and irregular advance. The bears scouted the idea of damage to the crop, but it was evident that they were ill at ease. First trades were made everywhere from a to lac higher than the closing prices of Sat-urday, and, although no serious harm had been reported up to to-day's close, most of the advance was stubbornly held. May opened with sales from 58% to 59c, range between 59% to 58%c, closing & to 1c higher than Saturday at 58% and 59c. Cash wheat was quiet. Prices were about 1c higher accord with futures.

MESSENGER BUREAU, RALEIGH, N. C., March 26. Yesterday was a wet and cold Easter. Not an Easter costume was seen here, though the churches were well filled with people. There was a driving rain all day. At 2 o'clock this morning this was succeeded by a snow. The greater part of the snow melted, but there was at 10 o'clock this morning about a quarter of an inch of it and roofs were white. It was a great surprise, All sorts of shrubbery and trees are in full flower. The temperature was 31 degrees this morning. None of the fruit was hurt up to noon to-day, but at the weather bureau it is learned that the temperature at all points in the State will go considerably below the freezing point to-night. This makes the truckers and fruit growers feel blue. The prospect up to this time has been magnifi-
