

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

One of the features of Labor day in Washington city was the remarkable feat of two riggers who climbed to the head of the statue of the Goddess of Liberty on the dome of the Capitol, one of them standing erect upon top of Liberty's cap. They placed a huge wreath upon her head. The forest fires in Michigan and Wisconsin are working fearful destruction. There is terrible wrangling among the Populists and the two wings of the Democrats of Colorado, in their conventions now assembled. There are many women delegates in all the meetings. Louisville has just lost $50,000 by incendiary fires. The fire bug was caught in the act of starting the fourth conflagration. The Chinese Government sends troops and war vessels to Korea to protect the interests of Russian merchants. The carders in the Globe mills at Fall River will not return to work except at a dollar, nor will the spinners. The Lawrence mills at Lowell, post notices that work in full force will begin to-day. The Cumberland Populists hold their county convention and nominate a full ticket. Maj. W. A. Guthrie, who addressed the convention, refused to divide time with Mr. Shaw, the Democratic Congressional nominee. The first through train reaches San Antonio on the Southern Pacific road since the foundation. Passengers report a terrible state of affairs for 100 miles or more. The prairies are still covered with water. The grand jury at Memphis is investigating the lynching of the six negroes. Feeling against the lynchers is running high. Labor day was generally observed in New York, all the exchanges, banks and public buildings closed and 40,000 men marched in the labor parade. Richmond, Va., defeated Petersburg on the diamond yesterday by a score of 11 to 1. Koreans are waging guerrilla warfare against the Japanese. In Tallapoosa county, Ala. James Ashley and his son, murder a man named Cross in a brutal manner because he had kissed the former's daughter. A posse is after the murderers. A lynch mob is probable. The forest fires entirely destroyed Henckley, Minn., a town of 1,700 inhabitants. The charred and unrecognizable bodies of hundreds of the victims were buried yesterday. A general rain began falling yesterday. The Spanish Government issues a decree annulling the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba, to take effect "the moment the United States applies the new customs tariff." Admiral Kirkland, of this State, now in command of the South Atlantic squadron, will take charge of the European squadron. He is now on his way from Cape Town to England for that purpose. The tailors and other garment workers of New York, Brooklyn and Boston strike. Twenty thousand in New York are expected to be on strike by to-night. Congressman Meredith, of Virginia, is about over his attack at diptheria. Philadelphia observed Saturday as Labor day under a State law. Under orders from Washington non of the Government departments in San Francisco observed yesterday as a holiday. Louisville was struck by a small cyclone Sunday. No lives were lost and the damage amounted to only $10,000. The Count of Paris is rapidly growing weaker and his death is near at hand. Mr. Hester's cotton crop report is published. He shows that though the 1893 crop was larger than that of the one of 1892 it was below it in commercial value. The Michigan crop works, employing 1,200 men, will close down. Indefinitely. Forty-seven persons are poisoned at a wedding in Mississippi. One of them has died. Believing zeal runs high enough to cause assassination in Virginia. Hon. Thomas B. Reed will stump the district of Congressman Wilson of West Virginia. The American Pharmaceutical association is in session at Asheville. It is impossible yet to tell how many hundred people have perished in the forest fires in the Northwest.

Admiral Kirkland.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Near Admiral Henry E. Hildesheim, commanding the European squadron, will retire on account of age on Thursday next and on that day the flag will be taken down from the cruiser Chicago, now in English waters. He will return home at his leisure, and will make New York city his permanent residence. Acting Rear Admiral Kirkland will succeed him in command of the European station. He was received at the South Atlantic station and left his flag-ship, the Newark, at Capetown, Africa, and is now on his way to England. It is expected that he will arrive at Southampton in a few weeks, until which time Capt. Mahan, commanding the station, will have command of the station. Admiral Kirkland's home is at Hillsboro, N. C.

Russian Fleet for Korea.
ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 3.—A Russian squadron will soon start for Korea. It is said that there is no intention on the part of the Russian Government to intervene in Korean affairs, and that the fleet is to be sent to Korea merely to protect Russian merchantmen.

A FEARFUL HOLOGAUST.

INDESCRIBABLE HORRORS OF THE FOREST FIRES.
Town After Town Wiped Out of Existence—Inhabitants Fleeing for Their Lives Overtaken by Hundreds by the All Devouring Flames—Charred Bodies Found Every Where—Rain at Last.
BROOKWOOD, Mich., Sept. 3.—Tremendous forest fires are prevailing throughout the upper peninsula of Michigan and Northern Wisconsin. The district between Watermeet and Bessemer, over fifty miles, is a mass of seething flames, and homesteaders are making desperate efforts to escape. Gogebic has been destroyed and it is expected that Wakefield will experience a similar fate. Ironwood, Bessemer, Hurley and Saxon are surrounded by fires. There is very little water and hundreds of men are out with picks and shovels and succeed in digging the flames back only by throwing dirt upon the burning stumps and brush.
HINCKLEY, Minn., Sept. 3.—A general rain is falling to-day and quenching the burning embers of the immense forest fires that did so much damage in this county Saturday afternoon and night. The blackened ruins of two or three brick buildings is all that remains standing of the once prosperous town of Hinckley, with its 1,700 people and its busy railroad and lumbering interests. This is a day of place of mourning, and the burial of the charred and unrecognizable bodies of the hundreds of victims has saddened the survivors even more than the disaster itself. The fire was so overwhelming in its intensity that it could not be contained by the momentary rain which fell. Each was so intent on saving his own life that he little thought of the suffering which would befall his neighbors. The fire was so general by most, although many cases of heroism have been reported. The bodies thus far recovered have been placed in rough pine boxes for burial and the majority of them have been buried without their being any knowledge of their identity.
ISHPEMING, Mich., Sept. 3.—The gravity of the situation from the forest fires continues to increase every hour. The long continued drought displays no signs of abatement, while every morass and swamp is a mass of seething flames. A dense cloud of smoke envelops the country for many miles, obstructing business and offering constant menace to the lives of the inhabitants. The volunteer fire brigade is doing effective work. The district lying between the Saginaw and the Dead river, to the north, is a vast fire filled with underbrush and is now a lake of fire. The same is true of the country of the Guro river. Constant prevails at the Salisbury location, to the south. The force on special duty there is offering a stubborn resistance and may yet save part of the lumber. Total destruction. Sagota and Floodwood on the Milwaukee and Northern are being hourly threatened, also Ewen and neighboring towns on the Duluth and Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway.
Much credit is due to the railroad for its service in the suffering. The houses and barns are being destroyed. The house hold goods of the homeless are being taken. No one is yet reported missing from Ishpeping, but the rapid approach of the destructive element and the inflammable condition of the vegetation covering the immediate surrounding, together with a vitiated atmosphere and a temperature of 100 degrees in the heat, cause the most profound solicitude.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 3.—A correspondent of the Pioneer Press at Hinckley says: The latest verified reports of the number of dead do not materially alter the former estimates. In fact, that estimate is proving remarkably exact, considering the confusion of the first day of the element that made it so difficult, is the fact that bodies seen in the woods and along the track are not infrequently reported to be those of persons who died on that day as among its dead. Then, too, the tendency of the occasion, had it not been so, is to exaggeration. However, eliminating these doubtful elements, it is possible, from its approximation, the Pioneer Press is convinced that the total is as nearly exact as possible. The number of dead at Hinckley is placed at 290. The Pioneer Press correspondent has actually counted 194 of these. The figures are as follows: Hinckley 200, Sandstone 62, Miller 28, Skunk Lake and Miller, 13, Pokesagan 28, in lumber camps and scattering (estimated) 50.
Yardmaster David Williams, of the Duluth road received a message as follows: "There are 150 persons at Sandstone without food or shelter. For God's sake get them out of there."
Without an incredible short time Yardmaster Williams was on the way to Sandstone. The entire road, after the burned district was reached, was patrolled and the engine kept up a continual whistle to that any persons who were nearby would come at once to the track. When the train arrived at Sandstone the number of the men who were generally called, it was met by nearly the entire population of Sandstone and Miller. The depot platform at Miller had been burned and there was not a house left standing anywhere in view. About 170 people were taken aboard, and a messenger was sent to Sandstone who had warned the people of the arrival of the relief. Very few remained but those with loved ones living dead. There was no attempt to care for the dead who lay scattered with their heads on the streets of the town. Everything inflammable at Sandstone was destroyed, and to day's investigations brought the number of dead at the place up to sixty-two, with twenty-one people missing.
The scene at Sandstone was heart-rending. The streets of the town were only lines of sand between houses pulled out just ahead of the fire and succeeded in ultimately reaching Duluth. This circumstance, while fortunate in a degree that cannot be estimated, has made the confusion greater, for it is not

LABOR DAY.

ITS FIRST OBSERVANCE AS A NATIONAL HOLIDAY.
Celebrated by a Remarkable Feat of Two Men Who Place a Wreath on the Goddess of Liberty on the Capitol Dome—One Stands Erect on the Goddess' Head—As Observed in Other Cities.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The first celebration of "Labor day" as a National holiday was being observed in the National capital.
The local labor organizations paraded in four great divisions, each averaging about 2,000 men. They assembled in the vicinity of the city hall, and began moving shortly after 10 o'clock. Nearly every organization was headed by its own band and the din of the conflicting strains of music was deafening. The weather conditions were most favorable. The haze which softened the sun rays was welcome in itself. In the line of procession were numerous floats representing the various industrial processes of the labor organizations in different stages of progress. Old style Columbian hand printing presses were contrasted with modern printing machinery. Horse shoers, brick makers, bookbinders, bakers, cigar makers, plate printers and numerous other mechanics exhibited their handiwork in motion, and various grotesque features were added for the amusement of the crowds, which were in extent and number all the public departments were closed.
The most novel feature of the day occurred at the top of the Capitol building. The Central Labor Union, Albert Potts and James Grace, riggers employed by the architect of the Capitol. Last year's coronation distinguished himself by climbing the dome of the Capitol, and placing there a circle of electric lights which were used for illuminating the dome and the interior of the dome. The Knights of Pythias. It was the first time a man had stood there since the goddess was put in position. This morning Potts and Grace, with the assistance of a ladder built by Captain Potts and an anchor secured from the U. S. Army, came in from St. Paul. They brought some tents, but finding that the Central Labor Union had sent up 100 St. Paul tents, the riggers turned in and put up fifty of them for the refugees, with regular army expedition. The local physicians and dentists, and the members of the Knights of Pythias, were used for the purpose of the work for the army surgeon. There is little probability of Hinckley ever being rebuilt into its former prosperous proportions. The Brennan lumber company is not expected to rebuild its plant. Work has been crowded this season in hope of clearing up the timber and anchor sound would have been left. The company has but about 12,000,000 feet of lumber remaining which is so located that it can be saved and the lumbering industry is being rebuilt here at a probable cost of from $5,000 to $75,000. The timber in this vicinity is well cut and burned off and there is no chance of any other coming in. Without an enterprise of this kind there is no future for Hinckley in the lumbering industry. The loss of life will never be definitely known.
TURTLE LAKE, Wis., Sept. 3.—Turtle Lake was threatened all day yesterday. During the afternoon a bad fire approached the south side of the lake, fanned by a brisk breeze which was blowing all day. The entire male population turned out and succeeded in saving the lumbering town from being destroyed. The lumbering industry is being rebuilt here at a probable cost of from $5,000 to $75,000. The timber in this vicinity is well cut and burned off and there is no chance of any other coming in. Without an enterprise of this kind there is no future for Hinckley in the lumbering industry. The loss of life will never be definitely known.
ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 3.—Smoke and dirt begrimed settlers of the forest have been struggling to Ashland all day, with tales of losses of home and everything on their farms. They are taken into homes and everything possible is done for their comfort and relief. To add to the intensity of the situation at Washburn, incendiaries were discovered there, several fires having been started in different portions of the city. Five men have been arrested, three of whom were caught in the act. The first men were arrested, three of whom were caught in the act. GARMENT MAKERS STRIKE.
Twenty Thousand Workers in Clothing Trades in New York Will be Out by To-night—Brooklyn and Boston to Join Them.
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—All the eastside meeting places of the members of the United Brotherhood of Tailors and the United Garment Workers of America, of which the tailors are a branch, were crowded this morning with strikers and sympathizers. The operators held a meeting last night, and 1,800 men decided to go out on a strike. There are now 12,000 finishers out, which will result in throwing out 3,000 basters, pressers, bushers and tailors dependent on them.
It is expected that by to-night or tomorrow 20,000 workers in the clothing trades in this vicinity will be out on a strike. The object of the strike is to do away with the sweating system at present in vogue. The men affected are operators, basters and finishers. A number of speeches, asking the men to remain in this vicinity, will be out on a strike. The object of the strike is to do away with the sweating system at present in vogue. LABOR DAY.

and dwellings along the route of the procession were handsome and ornate, and the day was in a great measure given up to pleasure-seeking.
BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The observance of Labor day was more elaborate in the list of sports than in previous years and the big procession in the forenoon was the largest of the kind ever seen here. There was a general cessation of business, including the publication of the evening papers and all the theatres gave special matinees.
NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 3.—The chief feature of the observance of Labor day in New Bedford, was the parade of the various labor organizations, the greater part of whom were textile operatives. It was superior to anything heretofore attempted in that direction in this vicinity, and, coming as it did, at the time of the greatest strike ever experienced here, created a great deal of interest and thousands of people lined the route of the parade. There were about 4,000 toilers in line, representing the various branches of the textile trades. A noticeable feature of the parade was the presence of a brigade of back boys, carrying a number of banners of transparencies were displayed in line, bearing on the present strike troubles and the past year's experience. After parading over a long route the parade took a detour to the island, just off of the mainland, where a gigantic clam bake was partaken of. All the matters were lost sight of in the observance of the day.
KING COTTON.
Summary of the Annual Report of Mr. Hester of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans Cotton Exchange report on the cotton crop was issued in full to-day.
After stating that the crop for 1893-94 was 7,579,879 bales, an excess of 519,542 over last year, he says that the largest part of the gain was in the group of Atlantic States, consisting of Alabama, Georgia, Florida and North Carolina, which ran about. The Gulf States, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee increased 351,000 bales while Texas decreased 89,000.
Mr. Hester puts the average commercial value of the crop at $73.50 per bale, against $42.50 last year, $37.50 in 1891-'92, and the total value was $383,115,000, against $284,130,000 last year, and $335,000,000 in 1891-'92. The increase is a remarkable fact that while the output of the last year has been 849,452 bales in excess of the year before, its commercial value is $108,000 less. The increase of Mr. Hester says that with an average of 74 per cent, which he brought, planters, as a class, would have been better off had they adhered to their old policy of all cotton and little or no food crops. In reference to acreage he says the published estimates are still unsatisfactory, but he has the intention of making a change of the base of comparison on that subject by the United States Agricultural Department being first made known through a Gulf source. From this information the statistician of the Washington Department has written to a prominent member of the House that the cotton acreage of 1893 was 20,000,000 acres or more than 3,000,000 acres over the acreage of 1892. The cotton acreage of 1893 was 20,000,000 acres or more than 3,000,000 acres over the acreage of 1892. The cotton acreage of 1893 was 20,000,000 acres or more than 3,000,000 acres over the acreage of 1892.
In relation to American mills, Mr. Hester says the season has been any but favorable, North or South. On the other hand, his opinion that the cotton takings for 1892-93 Northern mills show a further reduction for the past season of 88,113 bales. The effect of financial stringency and delays in the legislation also, decidedly were depressing influences in this industry, and for the first time since the war a set-back to the record.
Instead of an increase of 37,000 bales, which, with anything like last year's crop would have resulted from bringing the record to the present season, the crop would have fallen off 25,000 bales. The total output for 1893 was 1,611,173 bales, against 1,657,286 last year and 2,190,786 the year before, while the mills in the South show by their continued output a large increase. The South has 2,500,000 spindles with a consumption capacity 325,000 bales per annum.
Murdered For Kissing a Girl.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—A special from Birmingham, Ala., says: Near Newville, Tallapoosa county, this morning James Ashley and his son Robert went into a field where Robert Cross, a young farmer, was harvesting. Robert Ashley, who was a gunner, fired seven bullets into his body. Ashley fired as long as Cross breathed, remarking: "I am going to shoot as long as there is breath in the damned rascal's body." Cross went to church with Ashley's daughter yesterday and kissed her. She reported the matter to her father and the murder resulted in Ashley's death. The police arrested him and it is likely that he will be lynched.
The Count of Paris Still Sinking.
LOUISVILLE, Sept. 3.—The Count of Paris is rapidly growing weaker, and it is not far off. All of the dying man's family are at his bedside. Princess Wilhelmina, of Denmark, and Prince de Joinville, of France, at Stowe house last evening, making this gathering of the Orleans family the largest since the death of King Louis Philippe. The Count of Paris is conscious and awaits the end with patience and fortitude.

LABOR DAY.

SCANDAL BREWING.
A RALEIGH BUSINESS MAN WITH TOO MANY WIVES.
Wife Number One Upon the Scene—A Warrant for the Couple Issued—Labor Day Not Observed—Immense Crops on the Farms—Hoke Secret to be Brought Back for Trial.
MESSINGER BUREAU, RALEIGH, Sept. 3. }
Labor day was not observed here save by the closing of the postoffice. Laboring men paid no attention to it and it is doubtful whether many of them know anything of the new holiday.
Dr. Cobb, who for some years has been one of the assistant physicians at the insane asylum here, and who recently resigned, left yesterday for Goldsboro, which is his home and where he will resume the practice of medicine.
Many years ago, while John Nichols, John C. Gorman and John B. Neathery were in the printing and publishing business here, they agreed that the obituary notices of those members of the firm who died should be written by a survivor. So when Gorman died Neathery wrote the obituary, and when Neathery died Nichols performed the same sad office. Governor Carr and State Treasurer Tate are delighted with what they saw at the State farms on the Roanoke. They estimate the yield of crops at 25 per cent greater than the year before. Leazar's figures. For instance, at the Calcedonia farm, from which Mr. Leazar expects 60,000 bushels of corn, Governor Carr says 75,000 at least will be gathered. Last year the convicts were able to pick sixty bales of cotton a day. Mr. Leazar says he expects that this year they will pick 100 bales a day. The number of seventy-five more convicts will be sent from the penitentiary to the farms, so as to aid in harvesting the immense crops. A convict from McDowell county arrived at the penitentiary to-day.
To-day the term of imprisonment of the notorious wife-murder Hoke Secret, ended in the South Carolina penitentiary. Governor Carr requested for him and he will be at once brought back to North Carolina, and will be tried.
Warrants have been issued here which will probably unmask a scandal. Twenty years ago a man and woman came here. The man has been ever since engaged in business. They came here together. Two years ago a woman appeared, also from the North, who claimed to be the lawful wife. She was here but a little while and then she disappeared. She again appeared. With her was a young man, who she said was the son of the business man. It is rumored that on the occasion of both these marriages a large sum of money was given. She has again appeared and has taken out warrants against both her husband and woman number two. At the present time the latter are here at present, the papers have not been served. Woman number one has told several persons about the matter. She says that woman number two show no marriage license. The warrants charge fornication and adultery. Several North Carolina horses are entered for races North this week; among them Baronet, who was in the August races here, and also Little Tobe. These will continue here and there for the week. A race at the same place next Friday.
A Wag here says that in lieu of a bet name the new Republican-Populist party will have to be called the "Malgeneons." Many years ago this was the name given to the "know nothings." The United States courts have within the last few days increased the duties on wine. Woman number one claims that number two was at one time a servant in her employment.
