Americans Safe in Pekin.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 .- A cablegram was received this morning by the Department of State from American Charge D'Affaires Denby at Pekin, stating that the report of danger to foreign residents at that city was greatly exaggerated; that there had been only one attack upon an American and that a very insignificant affair, followed by prompt punishment, and that an imperial proclamation had been issued to the local authorities enjoining the protection of for-eigners. This despatch was not in reply to any request from the department. but was volunteered by Mr Denby, who is supposed to have seen the printed statements that foreigners were not safe in Pekin. The department is confident that Mr. Denby will leave nothing undone to ensure the safety of Americans in China.

The Weavers' union officers are confident that many of the weavers will leave their looms at noon, while many say they will continue to gain steadily for a few days, and that then the trouble will be over.

A Half Million Taken for Foreign Shipment-An Unusual Occurrence For This Time of the Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.-The first shipment of gold from New York to Europe in October for many years will be made on the steamship Havel which sails for Southampton tomorrow morning. The bank of New York withdrew from the sub-treasury $500,000 just before the close of business, presenting greenbacks in payment for the gold. Thewithdrawal is for the account of Kidder, Peabody & Co.; of Boston, and the gold is consigned to Berlin. The ultimate destination is supposed to be Austria. The engage-ment of this gold for shipment caused weakness in the stock market, as it is an extrao Europe at this season of the year, when the export of cereals and cotton should throw the balance of trade strongly in favor of the United States. For over a decade, except during the financial stringency existing in 1892 and 1893, gold has been imported in large amounts from Europe during the months of September, October and December. The impossibilities of lending foreign balances in New York on account of the 1 per cent money market and the active demand for money in Germany and America the smaller average of cetters. and Austria, the smaller exports of cotton and wheat, combined with their low prices, lowest to-day in the history of the United States, and the larger imports, stimas among the causes which caused foreign exchanges to advance to a gold exporting rate. Germany and Belgium have also recently placed some large loans in the London market, which has forced Sterling on the Continent to an unusually low rate, permitting the triangular operation of exchange, which permits gold exports.

The profit on the shipment of gold, however, is so slight that it is believed that gold picion has a most depressing effect on stocks and on other markets, as it was recollected that Austria in 1892 and 1893 drew tens of millions of dollars in gold from the United States by the payment of a liberal premium to the gold shipping houses in New York, and the low gold balance of the United States treasury inspired the fear that another Government bond issue would be forced by the efflux of gold to Europe at

"No, he is not the man. The fellow who advanced to the gold exporting point. Today it was announced after the closing of the Stock Exchange that Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston, had withdrawn $500,000 gold from the local sub-treasury for shipment to Europe. The gold will go direct to Germany by to morrow's steamer and the shipment. it is claimed, is a legitimate exchange operation; in other words, it is asserted that it is not a special transaction. There is no change to report in the market for Sterling exchange and its stubborn strength is due to the limited supply of bills, coupled with a sharp demand from coffee and sugar importers and the settlement of sterling oans. The low price of our produce has reduced the volume of exchange as the money returned for cotton and breadstuffs ex-ported is considerably below the sum obtained for the corresponding season last year. A fear that the efflux of the yellow metal may reach important proportions and cause a scare, in view of the comparative small amount of gold held by the Treasury Department, led to liquidations by weak-minded bulls. Manhattan was extremely weak and under pressure of long stock the price broke from 111½ to 106½. A belief that the rapid transit amendment will be carried at the coming election led to some selling, but another contingent of operators were disposed to go short of the stock on rumors that the cable roads were cutting into the revenues of the company. American Sugar was inclined to firmness in the early trading on covering of short contracts and the stock recovered 13 to per cent. 853. Subsequently there was a decline to 84 in sympathy with the weakness in the general market. CHICAGO, Oct. 15 .- Wheat was very sick to-day. Depressing items of news were received from every quarter and an absolute lack of confidence resulted. Interest was principally centered in the visible supply and that statement may be said to have been the main reason for the loss of 1c, which the closing quotations show. The estimates on the supply were almost as far away from the exact increase of 1,460,000 bushels as they were on last Monday. Outtide predictions were that 1,000,000 bushels increase would take place, but the popular figure was 500,000 bushels. The selling towards the close was general, with practically no support to the market. December wheat opened at 53½c, touched 53½c, de-clined to 52½c, where it closed with the loss already mentioned. Cash wheat was in good demand. Prices were relatively lower with the futures, sales being made at a decline of 1 to 1c.

The weakness of wheat overpowered corn prices to-day, although the visible supply decrease was 526,000 bushels and the amount on ocean passage 968,000 bushels. The receipts, although not fully up to the expec-tations, were large at 173 cars, and larger estimates for to morrow prevented a further improvement in the movement Gossip to the effect that in some States, more especially Ohio, farmers were hoarding their corn and feeding wheat gave rise to talk that the final outcome would be to the disadvantage of the coarse grain. There was a car of new corn received to-day, which, although not passing grade because of dampness, nevertheless served to remind the trade that the new crop was upon them. May corn opened at 49½c, declined to 48½c, closing at the inside, &c below Saturday. Oats were forced lower by the declining tendency of wheat and corn. An increase of 430 000 bushels in the visible supply abetted the weakness. The trade was devoid of feature, business being dull most of the session. May closed ic lower through sympathy with the futures. Provisions—The packers and commission houses were the best sellers of product during the morning hours, but were endeavoring to keep prices from breaking the offerings. Scalpers were a little timid until after ings. Scalpers were a little timid until after the yissible supply on wheat was posted, for fear that the showing would cause an advance in that cereal and sympathetically affect product, but when grain became so intensely weak, they cast aside caution and sold freely. The close was 100 lower than Saturday for January pork, 7½ to 10c lower for January lard and 7½ clower for January ribs.

For two weeks Johnny Poe, the University of two weeks Johnny Poe, the University of Virginia coacher, has been very ill, leaving the team to struggle along as best it could, and the training table was given up. Talking this fact, and the general belief that Princeton would snow the Virginia boys under by a score calculated to reach anywhere from 30 to 60 to 9, imagine the general surprise when, after forty minutes of the most desperate struggling, the Tigers had failed to roll up a larger score than 12. The grounds were simply perfect, being covered with a beautiful growth of grass and a thick sod, which rendered less dangerous this most reckless of games. The Convict Carter Still Supposes to be the Leader-The Man Turner Not Connected With the Crime-A Slight Cine-A Suspect Arrested in Baltimore - Supposed Character of the Robbers.

[Washington Post Oct. 1] The theory of the authorities of Stafford ounty that the leader of the Aquia Creek train robbers was an ex-convict named George Carter was strengthened yesterday sight. Carter was seen in Weadon Brothers' hardware and sporting goods store looking at some revolvers. The man who saw him did not remain to see whether Carter made o'clock Richmond train reached there Saturday night three shabbily dressed men carrying bundles alighted, and, going into an outbuilding, made an entire change of clothing, leaving behind them the suits they had taken off. This suspicious occurrence was reported at police headquarters about midnight, but the police were unable to trace the three man beyond where they trace the three men beyond where they were last seen by the depot employes.

The drunken man, George Turner, who claimed that he was one of the robbers, and who was locked up at the First predict po-lice station, turned out to be a robber in his imagination only. As stated in yesterday's Post, the police had very little faith in his assertions, but they concluded to hold him until he was sober enough to be questioned by the Adams Express people, and interviewed by Messenger Crutchfield.

At 11 o'clock yesterday the prisoner was visited by the messenger and by a Pinkerton man. Turner had claimed that he wanted to expose the game because the transfer. to expose the gang because he had been cheated out of his share of the booty. furner did not claim that he was leader of The only member of the gang Crutchfield can identify is the man who entered the express car and rifled the safe. Had Turner een this man it can hardly be supposed that he would have been beaten out of his share of the booty. But still when Crutchfield reached the station, the prisoner was to-day turned upon the Sterling exchanges. carefully examined. After a long look, came into the car was not quite so heavy, nor so tall, and did not have a voice like

It is understood that the task of running down the robbers has been given into the hands of the Philadelphia branch of the Adams Express company, and that Pinkerton men are on the trail. A number of de-tectives reached Aquia Creek early yesterday morning, and started out for a complete search of the locality. Several New York Pinkerton men are also on the scene, and will work in conjunction with the Philadelphia detectives. J. O. A. Herring, general manager of the Adams Express company, visited Aquia Creek yesterday afternoon and had a long talk with the officers. Messenger Crutchfield, who was in Washington all day yesterday, gave the Pinkerton men a description of the robber who entered the express car. Crutchfield had a hard time keeping out of the way of the newspaper reporters. He is a Virginian, long and thin, and with quiet ways about him. He is 35 years old and has been in the employ of the Adams Express Company for a number of years. It is under-stood that Crutchfield has described the bandit who entered the car as a man about five feet nine inches tall, weighing about 170 pounds. He had a red handkerchief tied over his face from the eyes down, with the ends tucked in his vest. All of the other robbers had handkerchiefs over their entire faces, with holes cut for eyes and mouth. The robber had a slouch hat pulled down over his head so that the messenger could not see his hair. The man's hands were small and his clothing rough, but was not that of the tramp or cheap crook. His voice was deep, but he spoke rapidly and distinctly. He did not seem to be the leader of the gang or to pay any attention to anything except the taking of the money out of the safe. He had a revolver in one hand and oc-casionally be shifted it to the other. When he wanted to cut the mail pouch he drew a knife from the trousers' pocket, slipping the revolver for a moment into his coat pocket, with the handle sticking out. Crutchfield acknowledges that both he and the assistant messenger were so badly fright-ened that they could not have made much of an attack upon the bandit if at any time he had left himself unguarded. Besides, the door which had been shattered with dynamite was standing wide open, and a robber with a Winchester, was standing there for the evident purpose of protecting the inside worker.

The man who did the talking on the out side had a sharp voice, and was a trifle above medium height, although he was not particularly heavy. The meager descriptions of him fit the descriptions of George Carter, the escaped Sing Sing convict, who began his career of crime in Stafford county, and who was raised but a mile from the scene of Friday night's robbery. The minute description of Carter and his picture, published in yesterday's Post, were taken from circulars sent out some time ago by the New York authorities, who were very anxious to capture him. These circulars were sent all over Virginia, as the New York police were of the opinion that he would hide in that State until he had been forgotten in New York. It is believed by some of the detectives that Carter and the man who entered the car were the only professional criminals in the gang. The fact that two of the other men cruched down against the trucks of the express car, and at one time were actually under the car, as told in the story of Engineer Gallagher, in yesterday's Post, and the further fact that another of the men ran when Conductor Birdsong stepped out on the platform of one of the passenger cars and pretended that a Winchester was to be handed to him, show that these men were not experienced men in the business. They were short of courage. The other man, or two men, on the opposite bank had nothing to do except fire off their guns for the pur-pose of intimidating the passengers, and were probably crooks of a low order. The two leaders are the two men who boarded the Gor train, probably at the stop before approach ing the bridge, crawled over the took the engineer and fireman off, and in fact did all the business. The other bandits were hidden on the bank, ran out after the train had come to a standstill and simply helped to intimidate those on board. With a desperate man like Carter, ac quainted with the country and able to manage an engine, and a man conversant with the express business, as the other man seems to have been, it is not a matter of great surprise after all that the Aquia Creek obbery was such a success. robbery was such a success.

The robbery was one of the largest on record. Seldom have train robbers made away with more than $50,000 or $75,000, and a $100,000 hold-up has always been considered extraordinary. There is little doubt, however, that the Aquia Creek bandits secured at least $150,000. The manifests of the company show that $182,000 is missing, but some of this is believed to be in bonds and papers which cannot readily be negotiated by the thieves. tiated by the thieves.

A suspicious character, against whom there is said to be considerable circumstantial evidence, was arrested in Baltimore late yesterday afternoon by detectives of that city. Telegrams in regard to him were sent to Quantico, and the Adams express officials who were there thought the arrest important enough to request that the prisoner be brought to Washington. He will arrive this morning, and Messenger Grutchfield will undertake to identify him. Crutchfield was at Quantico yesterday afternoon, but returned to Washington late last night to be ready to see the latest suspect,

Two Railway Syndicates Trying to Gain Control of the Cincinnati

Southern Road. CINCINNATI, Oct. 15 .- At 10 o'clock this morning the principals in the fight for final control of the Cincinnati Southern road began to arrive at the general office of that company. They represented two great railroad systems, both anxious to secure control of the property. The first interest is the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton syndicate. The other is the recently organized Southern Railway company, of which Sam'l Spencer is president, and of which Drexel, Morgan & Co. were the chief organizers and promoters. Receiver Felton, of the Southern road, called the meeting to order a few minutes after 10 c'clock. The first but the southern road, called the meeting to order a few minutes after 10 c'clock. minutes after 10 o'clock. The first business considered was the reports of the president and Receiver Samuel M. Felton. It shows when it became known that Carter was in Alexandria last week. He is well known in that city, Policeman William E. Grady being among those who could identify him on sight. Carter was seen in Weadon Brothers'

Six out of nine of the directors elected are in the Cincianati, Hamilton and Dayton syndicate, that secures control of the Queen and Crescent route as soon as it is out of the and Crescent route as soon as it is out of the hands of a receiver. All the Cincinnati Southern's interests voted with the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton's interest which had a majority without the protested vote. The opposition your only another clew to the robbers. When the 10:40 The first vote cast was by Dr. Laureterbach, the New York attorney who Laueterbach, the New York attorney who is Baron Erlanger's representative and who offered the proxy for the 10,000 shares of stock held by the Alabama Great Southera Railroad Company.

To-day's election very plainly developed the fact that notwithstanding the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton syndicate have made some sort of a deal with Baron Erlanger for the Cincinnati extension bonds, the Baron still controls the Alabama Great Southern and also the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific, through his holding of the Texas Pacine, through his nothing of the 10,000 shares of mortgaged Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific stock and the stock of the Alabama Great Southern company, limited, of England, which company owns all except nine or ten shares of the stock of the Alabama Great Southern Railway company of this country. The Baron, when he sold out the controlling interest in the Alabama Great Southern and the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific never let go of his voting power in those companies, but tied both Brice and Thomas up as tight as a burglar proof safe. He accepted $6,000,000 Cincinnati extension bonds in payment with a proviso to the effect "that if the bonds turned out all right you get the stock of the Alabama Great Southern and the Cincinnati New Orleans and Texas Pacine, but if they don't I will keep them and vote them for you." The annual meeting of the Alabama Great Southern stockholders at Birmingham and the annual meeting of the Cincinnati New Orleans and Texas Pacific stockholders are merely preliminary skirmishes to the real battle for possession of the Alabama Great Southern and the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific, which will take place when the majority of stock of the Alabama Great Southern Railroad company, limited, of England, is sold at foreclosure to satisfy the claims of holders of Cincinnati extension bonds. The new board of directors will or-ganize by electing officers later. If the Southern railway bids in the property at the forclosure sale, or the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Daton people bid it in, the price obtained will be such that the holders of the Cincinnati extension bonds will drop a ben-

The Sun's Cotton Review. New York, Oct. 15 .- The Sun's cotton review says: Cotton advanced 2 to 3 points, but lost this and declined 7 to 8 points, closing quiet. The sales were 140,900 bales. Liverpool declined 1-32d on the spot, with spot sales of 15,000 bales. Futures opened 2 points lower, recovered this and advanced point, lost this and I point besides, and then rallied and closed steady at a net decline for the day of 1 point. In Manchester yarns were weak, cloths quiet. Spot cotton was 1-16 lower. Sales were 1,534 bales for spinning; delivered on contract, 100. Port receipts to-day were 80,289 bales, against 69, 834 this day last week and 50,718 last year; thus far this week, 126,983, against 107,793 thus far last week. Bombay crop advices, dated October 4th, are generally favoral le, though less rain is desired. New Orleans receipts to morrow were estimated at 35,000 to 36,000 bales against 28,415 last year. To-day's features: Very tew operators had the courage to buy for long account. Most of the buying is to cover shorts. To-day the receipts at the ports and the interior towns were very large, and the ports are expected to get this week about 350,000 bales. Frost was reported, but it was not general, nor is it believed that much damage was done. It was mainly in Tennessee, though frost was also reported in South Car-olina and Alabama. Liverpool advices were disappointing. Local and Southern opera-tors sold, and it is also understood that Europe sold to some extent. The tone of the market was discouraging and most operators were looking for still lower prices.

The Corbett-Fitzsimmons Fight. NEW YORK, Oct. 15 .- Capt, Glori, the manager of Bob Fitzsimmons, posted $1,500 today, making the first installment of Fitzsimmons' stake complete. Fitzsimmons' original $1,000, which he posted with the Herald, was turned over to Mr. Philip H. Dwyer, the stakeholder, last Thursday. The next deposit of $2,500 is due on December 1. Although Capt. Glori posted the money promptly he absolutely refused to sign the articles of agreement so long as the clause in the Bolic Capt. in regard to the Police Gazette championship elt was allowed to remain. Fitzsimmons, like Sullivan, has declared he has no use for the "dog collar," and he won't fight for it. This is final.

Capt. Glori drew up new articles of agree ment and signed them, and a copy will be sent to Corbett. In the new articles which Glori signed no reference is made to the belt in dispute, and the stipulations in regard to the selection of a referee and the size of the gloves have been modified to read as fol-
