RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 16.

The big decline in the price of cotton is a hard blow at the penitentiary, which now depends upon its farms for the support Reports of officers of its convicts and the pay of employes, guards, etc. Superintendent Leazar said today that the decline meant a loss of $30,000; a hard blow to face. The crops on the big farms on the Roanoke are as good as he could have hoped for. There are 2,500 acres in cotton, and the crop will be at least 1,800 bales, perhaps 2,000. Of this 1,300 are already picked. Mr. Leazar says the corn crop will be 100,000 bushels. This crop will not be put on the market until spring. There are now 1,000 convicts on these farms. Nine hundred acres in wheat is being sown. There are 350 acres in oats and Mr. Leazar declares he never saw a finer crop. So luxuriant is the growth that the 125 head of cattle and 100 sheep have > to his work as superintendent. He has had a great problem to solve and numberless difficulties to face. He has been forced to draw the $72,500 annual appropriation for 1893-4. He will pay all debts with the crop and so come out even at least. The Senatorial yote was canvassed to day This brings up the matter of the Legisla-ture. It is noticeable that Republican State Chairman Holton claims that there are thirty-five fusion members of the Senate and seventy in the House. He now puts the majority on the State ticket at 30,000— Chairman Butler's figurers. The annual meeting of the United King's Daughters of Raleigh was held last evening. There are 17 circles here, with 350 members. The reports made showed a good condition of affairs. Miss Emma McVea retired as president and the King's Daughters pre-sented her with a handsome desk. She gave a reception and collation in their honor The Odd Fellows last evening occupied for the first time the spacious new hall specially and is very handsomely furnished. The carpet, made to order cost $400 The seats are quarter-sawed oak opera chairs, Thanksgiving day the Odd Fellows will give a reeption and oyster supper, in complimen o all members of their order in the city. There was another romantic marriage at rominent man of Shelby, was married to Miss Willie Simmons, the young lady who was poisoned a few days ago by eating ice cream. She was unable to leave her bed. Next week the Department of Agriculture will issue a bulletin giving a list of fertilizer analyses up to date. It will also contain an article by commissioner Robinson on the curing of pork. The fiscal year of the Agricultural Department begins December 1st.

Two convicts from Johnston county arrived at the penitentiary to-day. It is said that in Johnston county the name of Mr. E. W. Pou, Democratic nominee for solicitor, was on all sorts of tickets. His popularity there is great and the vote given him was irrespective of politics. He is also extremely popular in Wake. It ap-pears by the admission of the Republicans and Populists themselves, that the Demorats elect as solicitors, besides Mr. Pou, Walter E. Daniel in the Second district, O. H. Allen in the Sixth, J. D. Webb in the Eleventh and G. A. Jones in the Twelfth. The colored State fair ended to-day. The attendance yesterday, almost entirely of Raleigh and Wake county people, was arge. The new management is doing well and has reawakened interest in the fair nati.

At the first annual convention of the North Carolina Society of the Sons of the Revolu tion the officers were elected. Toese are Governor Cars, president; Dr. Kempa P. Battle of Chapel Hill, vice-president; Marshall De L. Haywood of Raleigh, secretary; D. H. Hill, registrar; H. B. Battle, treasurer; Rev. R. B. Drane, chaplain. Apxlous to Get Rid of Morganfield. CINCINNATI, Nov. 16.-Chief Deitsch is anxious to get Morganfield, the train robber, off his hands, and so are the hospital authorities. The quanity of morphine which had been given him by the doctors was cut down Tuesday and this caused him to become a changed man. He declares that for a long time he has used opium. While he was gettime he has used optim. While he was given ting opiates regularly every three hours he was a mild mannered man, but Tuesday night, when the stuff was refused him, he made his first break. He got out of bed and tried to stand on his broken leg, but was forced back. He grabbed a chair that was near and declared he would brain somebody. The chair was taken from him when he tried to pull the slats from his bed and use them to do some one injury.

A threat to sharele him had the desired foul language and curses can be heard all through the ward at almost any hour of the day. He calls the doctors name and begs for the "dope." He is only getting it once in the morning and once at night and he declars it is not enough to alleviate his plans. Dr. Walker says that the fellow will not be able to walk much short of six weeks but he believes he can be taken back to Virginia on crutches with safety. Such is the story that comes from parties who claim to know and have opportunities for learning such matter, but last night the officers of the hospital denied the story.

A DUAL ASSASSINATION. The Mayor of Lula, Miss., and Another

Citizen Shot Down By Two Brothers

LULA, Miss., Nov. 16 .- Jacob W. Harman, mayor of this town, and Henry Lawrence a leading jeweler here, were assassinated on the street at noon by John W. Boyd, overseer of the Van Eaton plantation, and his younger brother Bob.

A year ago Mayor Harman and the elder Boyd had a dispute and several shots were fired, since which time bad blood has existed between them. Yesterday afternoon Mayor Harman met John W. Boyd on the street, drew his pistol and beat him over the head with it. To-day the Boyd brothers came into town armed with rifles. At noon, as Harman and Lawrence walked up the street to dinner the Boyd brothers confronted them and opened fire. Harman drew his revolver and fired a couple of shots ineffectually. Both he and Lawrence were killed on the spot. The elder Boyd escaped on horseback, the younger on foot. They sent word that they would surrender to the sheriff, but to no one else. The two men killed were 35 years old. The elder Boyd is 25 and the younger 18 years of age.

A FEARFUL TRAGEDY.

A Citizen of Elmira Shoots His Wife and Her Sister, Then Himself. ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 16 .- M. V. Straight, who conducts a flour and feed store, and his wife have not lived together for the past few weeks, on account of domestic difficulties. This morning Mr. Straight sent a note been turned upen it. There are on the farms 235 ntules and 25 horses Mr. Leazar to his wife, asking her forgiveness and requesting her to take him back again. She failed to reply. This angered the husband and he purchased a revolver of five chambers, although he already had one of like pattern. This afternoon he saw his wife and her sister, Mrs. Mary Whitford, in the business part of the city and dogged their movements until they were within 100 feet of their home, when he ran up behind them to within ten feet and emptied the contents of one revolver at them both. He then deberately drew forth his other weapon and red again at Mrs. Whitford. After firing the last shot he remarked: "I guess I've fixed both of you." and sitting down on a horse block emptied the other four chamers into his body near the heart Meanwhile a crowd gathered in the vicinity of the tragedy, but no one dared go near him. Straight realized that they were afraid of him and shouted that he would not hurt anyone as he had killed those he was after. Neighbors then removed all parties to the house. Mrs. Straight was shot three times in the shot twice, one ball piercing the arm and odging in the posterior side of thorax, the other shattering the spinal column near its The murderer was removed to the Arnot Ogden hospital and retained conciousness for several hours He graphically described the murder to the district (attorney. He is now unconscious and death is but a quesion of a few hours. The parties are all well known, respectable citizens of Elmira and the tragedy has created great excitement.

bun's Lotton Review. NEW YORK, Nov. 16 .- The Sun's cotton reriew says: Cotton declined 5 to 7 points, recovered this and then declined 4 to points, cresing steady, with sales of 141,000 bales. Liverpool declined 31 to 4 points for future delivery and 1-32d on the spot. Sales were in buyers' favor, cloths quiet, New Orleans declined 7 points and then recovered most of it, but later on stood 4 points lower than vesterday. An Accident to the Cruiser Cincin NEW YORK, Nov. 16,--The United States cruiser Cincinnati, which left the Brooklyn navy yard at 6:30 o'clock this morning, returned this afternoon, having met with an accident on her way to New London. When the vessel was passing Execution rock in Long Island sound, she struck a sunken obect, which broke some of her plates forward amidships on the port side, near the poiler. The water began to pour into the air chamber and all the bulkheads were closed. Although the accident was not a serious one, Capt. Glass deemed it wise to return to the navy yard.

At the time the yessel struck she was ploughing through forty eight feet of water, and there are no rocks charted there. It is surmised that the object struck was a sunken coal barge. She will be placed in dry dock and examined. When she struck the shock was very heavy, and the crew flew about in a lively manner. All hands were piped to quarters and responded admirably, standng fast at their stations until the nature and extent of the mishap could be learned.

Fitzsimmons Under Arrest. Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 17.-Fitzsimmons and Con Riordan, his sparring partner, were boxing at Jacob's Opera house in this city to-night. Fitzsimmons caught Riordan with a blow on the point of the jaw and he was knocked out. The blow was a light one, but Riordan had been drinking heavily and did not recover consciousness, despite the offerto of two physicians, who gave him hypoder mic injections and applied an electric bat-tery. Riordan breathed as if in pain and the only evidence of life about him was a twitching of the muscles when the battery was applied. Fitzsimmons gave orders to spare no expense to save the man's Fitzsimmons himself was knocked down by Joe Dunfee, the local pugilist who killed Donovan in a fight at Maple Bay about a year ago. Fitzsimmons was placed under arrest at midnight. Riordan at that time was still unconscious.

A Negro Flend Caught. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 16 .- Charley Fogter, a negro, was arrested in this city yesterday on suspicion of being the man who committed criminal assault on Mrs. Tom Payne near Bessemer Tuesday night and afterwards attempted to take her life. Yesterday he was taken by Deputy Sheriffs Cole and McKinney to the scene of the crime and was identified instantly by the woman and her young brother-in-law. The mob which gathered at once caught the negro from the officers and attempted to lynch him. The officers, by dint of persuasion, prevailed on the men to let the law take its ourse. Mrs. Payne then seized a shot gun and attempted to shoot her assailant, but was prevented by the sheriff. The husband and father of the woman also attempted to shoot him but were prevented. By hard work and coo, brayy the negro was brought to this city and placed in jail. The penalty

Ex-President McCosh Dead. PRINCETON, N. J.. Nov. 19.—President Patton announced to the students this morning in Marguand chapel that ex-President McCosh was rapidly sinking and in all probability would not last long and might meet death to-day. President Patton said that he was suffering from no disease particularly, but was gradually sinking under the weight of years. The attending physicians report the ex-president failing rapidly.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 16 -Dr. McCosh ied at 10 o'clock to-night. LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Pall Mall Gazette states, as it claims, upon authority that the marriage of Czar Nicholas and Princess Alix will take place on November 30th.

MYERS CONVICTED

His Father Sitting Beside Him More Affected Than the Defendant-The Closing Argument of Mr. Moyers-A Most Eloquent Plea for the Prisoner-The Hypothesis of Defence as to

Brown Allen. ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 16 .- William J. Myers, charged with the murder of Forest L. Crowley, was found guilty this afternoon. There was no recommendation to mercy. Judge Clark concluded his charge at 3 o'clock this afternoon. At 4:20 o'clock the jurors filed into the court room, and a minute later their verdict was read.

Scarcely any one left the room while the ury was out. Five hundred spectators were crowded into the court. They felt that they would not have long to wait. Many women were in the crowd. When the verdict was announced many of them sobbed. They sympathized with the 18-year-old murderer. Myers is a fine-looking fellow. He was a nember of the city's crack military company, the Gate City Guards, and in his uniform presented a dashing figure.

The prisoner took the verdict without apparent emotion. His father, who sat beside nim, held the boy by one hand. The elder Myers quivered at though shaken by a chill when the clerk of the court read: jury, find the defendant guilty. The son looked into his father's face and then his eyes seemed to be looking into space. He did not utter a word. His lips did not tremble. He seemed to be prepared

Every lawyer who had preceded Mr. Moyers made a strong, telling speech. The Reput oing out to Westwood park? It was not Myers, but Forest Crowley. Old man Crowey said so himself on the stand. Did Myers ntend to butcher old man Crowley too? And yet these men want this young man hanged. Was there anything more natural han for Myers to carry Crowley out there? ie wanted to swap the mules, and that was he place Brown Allen had told Myers to bring Crowley, He is hunting for a secret place to kill this man and takes him out to Vestwood park-a park divided into lots, with a keeper. What poorer place could here have been for such a deed? Mr. Moyers took up the question of tracks and recalled the evidence as to the tracks. Mr. Seaborn Crowley had said that one rack led from the back of the buggy and he other from the front of the buggy. "How, I ask you, could one of the tracks, two men got out of the buggy, lead from he front of the buggy and the other from Mr. Moyers said that the mud on Myers' pants was below the knee.

"And Solicitor Hill holds up the clothes with all the dramatic tervor of Mark Auony holding up the bloody garments of Casar and cried: Behold the mud is on

Myers' clothes.' How is it that there is no blood on Myers' clothes?" Mr. Moyers sent out for the pistol in the ase and there was a pause pending its ar-"They tell you that with that pistol this ooy shot Forest Crowley. It was in the power of the State to have a post mortem examination. You could have found the oall in the dead man's face or head, and you did not do it. You could have fitted the ball to the pistel. If it did not fit, who could say that the man committed the murder? They said that they did not want to mutilate the face of the dead man. Or were they afraid that the ball might not fit and that this man might be acquitted? Is t possible this State would refuse to muti ate a dead man's face for the sake of the risk of hanging a live one-an innocent "And what are you giving us about this 'Brown Allen' sign? They tell us that this murderer hurried away and poised himself n the doorway of a store, squinted around telephone pole and invented the name of name 'Brown Allen' as well as any one. here may be no 'Brown Allen,' but as sure as I stand before you, that man was a personality, that 'Brown Allen' is the man that killed Forest Crowley.

"There was never a case without a woman it. A messenger came to the Sultan of Furkey and said: Sir, an officer has just fallen out of the barracks window and broken his neck.' "Find the woman in the ease."

"There is no woman in the case." "'Find the woman in the case' insisted the Sultan. "The messenger went and returned after while and said: 'You are right,'sir, a eautiful woman was just passing along the street and he fell out of the window and broke his neck.' So I believe in this case. The law is that if any other reasonable hypothesis can be built, explaining the urder, you must turn the defendant loose. Mr. Moyers built the hypothesis that personal enemy had used Myers as a cat's paw and had revenged himself upon Forest Crowley. 'I say to you, outside of detec-tives, you look back into the past history of Forest Crowley's life for a mortal enemy and you will find 'Brown Allen.' " Mr. Moyers peroration was one of the nost effective ever heard in a court room in 'Last night when I went home I thought of the great responsibility which rests upon me in this case, and arose, and standing by a window, looked out upon the landscape, ast fading in the dusk of the evening. As looked, I saw a faint glimmer in the East. I saw a star, bright, lustrous, beautiful; such a star as led the wise men from the East to the lowly manger; such a star as shone above His head in the hour of gony, and as I looked I heard the rustling of a white robe and near my side I heard a iny yoice say: 'God bless mama and papa and everybody in the world. Make me a good girl and pless Willie Myers. May that great God look over you and guide you in the great responsibility which rests upon dry goods, and improvement is noted at

When the jurors withdrew Myers was taken into a private room, where he awaited the result. When it was all over the sheriff took him away to the jail. A great crowd thronged the streets about the court house so that it was difficult to march the prisoner through it.

Canvassing the Vote.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 16 .- The State board of canyassers met to day to tabulate the votes of the recent election. Robert Moorman, (Rep.) gave notice of a contest from Congressman Latimer's district. Murray the negro Congressman, will contest Col William Elliott's election before the board. L. D. Belton, and Tom Johnston, Republican candidates, will contest before Congress the right of Congressmen-elect Wilson and Stokes to seats in that body. Moorman and Murray will likely do the same if the board decides against them. The board will render a decision in a few days, but the Democrats will get the certificates.
