Decrease in Number of Marriages-The Sanctification Doctrine Still Subject of Pulpit Discussion-Fatal Mistake of a Young Man - Republican and Populist Organs-Official Vote for Treasurer

MESSENGER BUREAU. RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 22. In December, probably about the 10th the joint committee of the Legislature will meet here to make the annual examination of the books and vouchers of the Auditor and the Treasurer of the State. The following were to-day appointed no-licenses issued in this State. This shows a falling off as compared with 1892, when there were 13,150 issued. State Geologist Holmes is now at Chapel Hill making up the tables of his annual report. He and his excellent corps of assistants have done much excellent work. There are no intimations yet as to what the new Legislature will do, or proposes to do, with the geological survey, though during the campaign some of the fusion papers at-

The "sanctification" doctrine, preached by Rev. Dr. Carradine, of St. Louis, is that of "instant sanctification," not gradual. This is where the trouble comes in. The pastor of a church of another denomina-tion said to-day that he would, like two other pastors here, preach a sermon against the doctrine, but that he would "wait until the fog lifted" before doing so. He added that he knew from personal observation in other States that a wave of infidelity fol this "instant sanctification" Arrangements are being made for union

These are all desirable people. Some who want to come the correspondent does not recommend and he has advised them to remain. A colony of good people from New England will also ne. A gentleman in Connecticut is ineresting himself in this matter. Nebraskans ought to come South. The drought this year nearly ruined many of Mrs. H. H. Chandler, who is here as a settler, says that people there are actually shooting their cattle to keep the latter from starving to death. She was astonished at the contrast between North Carolina as she saw it last summer, with its green fields, and Nebraska parched like a desert. The contrast was awful. Yet the Nebraska papers suppress much of this and they will not publish he names of people who leave that bleak State to come South. At the Department of Agriculture it is earned that letters from various parts of the State give good news of the winter-sown small grain crops. A big acreage is sown. More attention is being paid to clover and the grasses. Not long ago a son of Mr. Deb. Johnston, of Auburn, this county, went to Texas. A letter from him says that last week he shot and killed his room mate. The latter was out late at night and on his return treed to enter a door. Johnston asked who was at the door and getting no answer went out and saw the man trying to enter a window,* and then shot him. Johnston was not ar-

It is said to-day that Mr. Marion Butler will bring the plant of his newspaper, the Cancusian, here, and that this will be the name of the new daily organ, which it seems is to be Populist in politics. The Republicans are to have a daily organ at Greensboro or Winston, it seems. It has been many years since Raleigh has had a successful Republican paper. Of course the the Republican and the Populist organs will pull together, just as their parties do. The atter are "separate yet united."
The fusionist who is treasurer-elect of Wake makes slow progress in securing a oond. It is said he will secure it through an indemnity company, which has an agent here. In fact it appears to be the purpose to give such bonds in many cases. The official vote for State treasurer iven for seventy-two counties, and is 103, 35 for Tate, 115,641 for Worth. The average for Tate in each of the counties is 1,438 and for Worth 1,606. If this is kept up in the remaining twenty-four counties Tate's vote will be 139,000 and Worth's 154,000, a total of 293,000. It may be smaller, as the larger counties appear to be included in the seventy-two.

The Gubernatorial Election in Tennessee Still Unsettled.

NASHVILEE, Tenn., Nov. 22.-Up to this time, it is not officially known whether Peter Turney, (Dem.), or H. Clay Evans, (Rep.), has been elected Governor of Tennessee. According to footings made at party headquarters and in newspaper offices, the unofficial returns show Evans to have carried the State by something like 2,000. It has been understood that the returns from every county in the State have been in the hands of Secretary of State Morgan for several days. There was a consultation among Morgan. Attorney General Pickler and other officials yesterday, at which it was lecided that the returns should not be made public until the poll books had been sent in from every county. This delay in announcing the returns and the recent announcement of Judge Corry, that the election of Evans would never be conceded until elecion frauds charged against the Republicans had been thoroughly investigated, has excited the Republicans.

Chairman Saunders, of the Republican State Executive committee, who yesterday made a second demand upon Secretary of State Morgan for a copy of the returns of the recent election, to-day received a reply from Mr. Morgan, again declining to comply with the demand.

Mr. Henry McGorrick, a prominent Democratic politician of Tennessee, has declared that Turney, (Dem.), is elected Governor, and the withholding of returns from pubicity by the board of inspection causes much anxiety on the part of both Democrats and Republicans. It is believed the face of the returns in the possession of the Secretary of State show a plurality for COMMERCIAL NEWS. Stocks and Bonds in New York-The Grain and Provision Markets of Chicago. CHICAGO, Nov. 22 -With bull news that ordinarily should have raised prices of wheat considerably higher, there was a decline today. The Russian Minister of Agriculture yesterday approximated a smaller yield for that country than last year by 64,000,000 bushels, but the information was not received until after the markets had closed, an advance on the curb resulting from the communication, however. This gain was still in evidence at the opening to-day, further confidence, being imparted by the Cincinnati

Price Current's summary that the invisible supply of this country on November 1st, was 56,000,000 bushels less than on the corresponding date a year ago, and that the to-tal stocks were less by 47,000,000 bushels than in 1893. All of the encouragement coming from these items disappeared when the closing Liverpool cables reported a decline of 1d were received. The Continental markets were likewise, without exception, lower. As on yesterday, the December li quidation was the feature of the trade. gainst which the demand was impotent. Wheat feeding, according to the Cincinnati Price Current, continues, but shows no tendency to enlarge. Cash wheat was ic. lower. The temporary strength in corn was soon dissolved when wheat turned weak. There is a belief current that with the expiration of November and the filling of those contracts there will be a dropping off in the arrivals. Sales of cash corn were generally

Oats changed but little to-day, the feeling showing strength and weakness in unison with the wheat and corn markets. Cash oats held steady. Provisions were, as usual, looking to the stock yards for their motive. The receipts of hogs did not fully realize expectations in that direction and good lots were quoted higher. The entire list of product were benefitted by these conditions during the early portion of the session, prices, however, eventually succumbing to the declining grain markets. All of the appreciation was lost before the close, January pork and January lard each showing a decline of 7½c over yesterday and January ribs closing under that day's final figure. NEW YORK, Nov. 22 .- Naturally, after yesterday's developments the stock market opened excited and feverish. For a time there was a struggle for control in Burlington and Quincy, but the bears were unable to force the stock below last night's closing. Failing at this, the traders started in to cover, and a general advance of 1 to 7 per cent. followed, the Grangers, Sugar and Manhattan being most conspicuous in this rise. Following this, there was a heavy selling movement in Northwestern and Sugar. Northwestern was depressed to 97? from 98$. The decline was the result of the prevailing impression that the directors at the coming meeting will reduce the dividend rate. While nothing official is known it was argued that the company must have suffered with the other Granger roads and that if the rnings of the St. Paul are any criterion th Northwestern has not earned its full dividend. The traders are claiming that the directors will not encroach on the surplus and that the stockholders will get what the road earned. This, they say, will be about 2 per cent. A cut in the price of refined sugar was used to hammer Sugar certificates and on heavy trading the price broke from advance, receded to 103½, but closed unchanged for the day. Chicago Gas was weaker than for some time, and declined 1½ per cent. to 72%. Close observers of the market thought they discovered selling of long stocks. Further liquidations carried Cordage, common, down to 81, the preferred to 141 and the guaranteed to 271. These are the lowest figures since the reorganization. Pullman palace broke from 157½ to 152, on fears of adverse legislation by certain Western States this winter. Toward the close, the market improved on statements by leading bankers that the new loan would be taken care of. It was also stated that the big New York banks will furnish their cusmers with gold necessary for the new loan, which it is hoped will put an end to the withdrawals from the treasury. Prices moved up 1 to 11 per cent, from the lowest point of the day, Burlington, Jursey Central. Rock Island, St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville, Chicago Gas, Missouri Pacific, preferred, Southern railroad, preferred, and

Union Pacific leading. The market closed steady. The strength of Sterling exchange continues, and is causing more uneasiness than the exaggerated talk about a gold premium. Net changes show gains of 1 to 11 per cent. for the usually active stocks. Su gar lost 23. Pullman 51 and Northwestern per cent. Cordage common closed 4 and the preferred | lower. The recent selling of the guaranteed stock was due to a belief that the divided payments, which were to begin January 1st next, will be indefinitely postponed on account of the poor business of the company. bonds were weak and lower. sales of listed stocks aggregated 148,000 shares, unlisted 88,000. It was reported late in the day that after a protracted conference a syndicate was made up this afternoon to take one half of the $50,000,000 Government loan. Inquiry. COLUMBUS, Ohio, November 22 .- A large number of Washington Court House citizens were on hand this morning when the Coit court of inquiry opened. The witnesses examined this morning were C. E. Page, a dentist; G. W. Caldwell, one of the sheriff's deputies, and Lieuts. Goldney and Justus, who were on duty at Washing-ton Court House at the time of the shooting. Page was on the street at the time of the firing and heard the officers order the streets to be cleared and warn the people that they would fire if an attempt was made to break down the doors. It was his epinion that the crowd was determined to hang Dolby, and would have done so had the militi not been present. There were citizens who did not join in the movement, but they nade no attempt to quell the excitement He would not say they were intimidated. He saw the crowd use the baitering ram on the doors and heard the "all together" very distinctly. The firing followed immediately He did not see the police force try to do anything that night.

Duputy Sheriff Caldwell decribed the rush upon the prisoner as he was taking him from the sail to the court house in the af-ternoon. He himself was knocked down and when he got up a soldier mistaking him for one of the rioters, ran a bayonet against his breast with such force as to penetrate the fiesh. Only the work of the soldiers and the presence of mind of his assistant saved the prisoner from the mob then. Lieut. Goldney saw pistols drawn in the crowd and heard members of it cry out not to be afraid of the soldiers, as they dare not fire except on a special order from the Gov-

Capt, John J. Read has been selected to command the cruiser Olympia when she is commissioned, which is expected to be in January next. Urgent orders have been is sued from the Navy Department to prepare the ship for service as early as practicable. The weakening of the Pacific squadron by sending the Charleston and the Yorktow to China has left but three ships in active service along the entire west coast of this continent, the Philadelphia, the Monterey and the Bennington. The torpedo boat Ericsson has failed on her third official trial trip. Acting Secretary McAdoo this morning received from Commodore Selfridge, chairman of the trial board, the following telegram: "Broke starboard air pump. Running at time twenty three knots.' Naval officers think that this settles fact that the Ericsson is badly handled and that she cannot be expected to succeed until her crew is changed. The speed the vessel must make is twenty-four knots and her break down at twenty-three knots speed ions that something is radically wrong on the little boat. Naval engineers claim that the vessel has demonstrated her ability to make twenty-four knots under proper mangement and assert that if a regular naval crew should be substituted for the Mississippi iver men now in charge the Ericsson wi make an acceptible record. It is likely that the Navy Department will refuse to permit any further trials under the present management. Half a dozen ships, including the Sincinnati and the Dolphin, have been kept at considerable expense for the past two weeks attending the trials. It is thought that the trial board will return to Washington for consultation with Secretary Her

The estimates of the Secretary of War for 1895-96 on account of fortifications amount to $7,000,000, the sum asked for several years past. For the current year the appropriations were $2,427,000. The sub-committee on pensions will meet again at 12 o'clock, when Commissioner Lochren will appear before them. His estimate for next year for the amount necessary for the payment of pensions is $140-000,000, $20,000,000 less than the estimate for the current year. than the commissioner asked. The appointment of Congressman Amos Cummings as a sub-way commissioner of New York city, and his consequent retire-ment from the House of Representatives will make a radical change in one of the most important committees of the House. Ever since the retirement of Secretary Herbert from the House, Mr. Cummings has been at the head of the Committee on Naval Affairs, and as such has necessarily been influential in directing legislation with regard to the construction of the navy. He has been one of the most intelligent and enthusiastic advocates of the policy of construction pursued by Secretaries Chandler, Whitney and Tracey, and a friend of everything calculated to improve the efficiency of the navy or the comfort of the Representative Geissenhainer, of New Jersey, is the second member on the ommittee, and will doubtless be advanced to the chairmanship by Speaker Crisp upon the retirement of Mr. Cummings.

Sun's Cotton Review. New York, Nov. 22.-The Sun's cotton review says: Cotton declined 6 to 8 points, recovered this in most cases and advanced 1 point, then lost this and dropped 7 to 9 points, and closed barely steady, with sales of 250,200 bales. New Orleans was at one ime 2 points up, later 5 to 6 points down. Spot cotton here was quiet and unchanged. with sales of 79 bales for spinning. Port re ceipts thus far this week were 278,547 bales against 304,967 thus far last week. Liverpool advanced 1-16d on the spot, with sales of 12,000 bales; futures advanced 3 points and closed quiet and steady at a net advance for the day of 2 points In Manchester yarns were firmer, cloths in moderate demand. Port receipts to-day were 41,308 bales, against 4,145 this day last week and 39,478 last year. New Orleans receipts to-morrow were estimated at 13,000 to 15,000 bales, against 20,691 last Thursday and 10,761 same day last year. The signal service predicted cooler weather in most parts of the cotton belt. A New Orleans operator had much to do with a rally which occurred at one time to-day. His purchases were on so large a scale that they attracted general attention. After this buying for short account had subsided, After this however, prices declined, owing to local Southern, and Liverpool selling, in spite of decreased receipts and higher Southern

FOREIGN BANKERS.

They Will Take a Large Block of the Bonds-A Dozen Banks Holding Most of the Gold-Speculation as to How Much Gold They Will Let Out.

New York, Nov. 22.-A number of foreign bankers held a conference with the presidents of the leading Trust companies this afternoon in the United States Trust company's office. There were represented the following houses: Speyer & Co., Kuhen, Loeb & Co., Drexel, Morgan & Co., Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co., Lazard Freeres; Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., I. & S. Wormser and J. & W. Seligman. Arrangements were perfected for taking a block of bonds, but whether the bids would be for the whole amount or not, Mr. John A. Stewart, president of the United States Trust company, declined to say. There is no syndicate formed in the technical sense, but general understanding as to the price at which bids would be put in. Arrangements were also perfected for securing the gold. Notwithstanding the mystery with which prospective bidders are enveloping their inentions, it is understood that the National panks will put in their bids on a 3 per cent. basis, while the combination of Trust com-panies and foreign bankers will bid slightly under 3 per cent.

There has been no formal agreement between the banks regarding the method of furnishing the gold, but this is not necessary at the present time, as the terms of the subscription only require payments in in-s'allments. A dozen banks hold the major portion of the gold in New York city and it s expected that the banks will part with 40 per cent. of their gold holdings. It is ex-tremely unlikely that the banks will come together to determine what shall be done regarding the gold, until Monday next. The bids will all be in then, and the banks holding the bulk of the gold will be able to determine fully what they will be called upon to do. As it is expected that the issue will be over subscribed, each subscriber will not know what amount of gold he will need until the treasury allotment is made. The New York banks will then know how much gold will be required by their depositors and can act intelligently.

The presence of a representative from each of the foreign houses which conduct the gold shipping business also leads to the belief that if the New York banks should fail to do their full duty, the gold will be secured abroad. When the foreign houses know what amount of bonds is awarded them, they can begin drawing their bills of exchange upon London, and as ample time is allowed for making the full payments to he Government, if any large blocks of bonds are taken by them, their bills will force down the foreign exchange market and permit gold to be imported more cheaply than the present condition of the foreign exchange market would seem to warrant. The local treasury officials, who are watching the bankers very closely, have reduced their estimates of issue and are not sanguine that over $30,-000,000 gold will be furnished by the New York banks. It is believed, however, that some gold which was hoarded during the panic by timid capitalists will be tempted from the private hoards by the bond issue. It is estimated by New York bankers that the subscriptions will not aggregate less than $75,000,000 and will reach over $100,000,000 if the bankers in other tites are experiencing the pressure of inquiries that are pouring into New York city.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The only withdrawal of gold to-day from the sub-treasury at New York was $50,000 by Chas. Hathaway & Co., making the total withdrawals since November 13th, $4,300,000. There is no longer any doubt that the bids for the new issue of bonds will far exceed the amount to be sold. Indeed, the indications are that the bids already received more than cover the $50,000,000 and that the large bids expected to-morrow from New York and other near by cities will raise the total to nearly $75,000,000.
