Enrolling Clerk Swinson was the centre of attraction this afternoon and caused a big sensation. The only bill enrolled today was one deposing him. He locked all the desks in his office at 10 o'clock and then locked the door and departed. J. M. Mewborne, Reynolds and eight clerks waited until nearly 5 o'clock, but Swinson did not appear. The lieutenant governor and the speaker went to see the attorney general, who advised them to have the door of the enrolling office forced open. They notified the keeper of the capitol and he had the door forced open. At 6 o'clock Swinson appeared. Lieuten-
