New York Stock Market. New York, April 2.-Stocks in the main were firmer today at intervals. The market was inclined to heaviness on sales by the chronic bears; but at the end of the sssion the usually active issues showed gains of 1/4 to 1% per cent, on the day. Delaware and Hudson, Jersey Central and Leather, preferred, were exceptions and closed with losses ranging from 1/4 to 3/4 per cent. The improvement in the market was due more to a desire on the part of recent sellers to accept profits than to any material change in the situation. Reports of the arrival of prominent American bankers and railway men in London, including J. P. Morgan and President Hill of the Great Northern appeared to disconcert the bear leaders. especially as there were rumors of important deals pending. It was said that Morgan would take up the New York Central refunding scheme at once, and that the meeting of the representatives of the Northrn Pacific, Great Northern—Deutsch bank interests were lating, although some for the purpose of bringing about a close working arrangement between the roads traversing the Pacific northwest. The Anthracite Coalers were benefitted by official statements that the Jersey Central will not pass its is looked for early next week, when the matter will be decided. Western Union was also influenced by dividend rumors. The stock early in the day broke to 80, but later recovered the greater part of the loss. Director Sage was quoted as saving that unless business improves considerably he will certainly favor a reduction in the dividend rate to a 4 per cent. basis. The Grangers, Northern Pacific, preferred,

The Market Still Waiting—The Market for ProductsVariable-Textile Manufactures Gaining in Business-Iron and Steel Business Effected by the Trans-Missouri De-

New York, April 2.-R. G. Dun & Co., will say tomorrow in their weekly review of trade: The markets are still waiting, some agging downward and others recovering. There is much disposition to use the decision of the supreme court against railroad combinations as an instrument for depressing stocks, and yet the buying has prevented a decline exceeding $1 per share and for trust stocks 20 cents per share. The reports of railroad earnings for the quarter have been somewhat encouraging, the aggregate having been on roads within the United States, only 3.2 per cent. smaller than last year, and the March returns have been rather more favorable than those for January or February. The vote of the house in favor of a new tariff bill has made no impression in business, since it has been expected since November that some measure of the same general character would become a law. If the bill stands, with its provision making new duties applicable April 1st, the chances are that foreign imports and treasury receipts may be for a time considerably

The market for products has been variable and uncertain. Wheat closes a cent lower than last week, and the May option has declined 2 cents. The movement of corn continues so large as to materially affect the demand for wheat. Current trade estimates regarding the wheat crop are a little more favorable, and are somewhat more likely to prove reliable, as the advance of the season makes the condition of growing wheat better known. Cotton has not changed in price, al though the floods in the southwest have done much harm.

The cotton and other textile manufactures are slowly gaining in business, though print cloths and most staple cottons remain unchanged in prices, and restrictions of output seem to have given some relief to the market. The buying of wool by mills is still a noteworthy feature, being far in excess of current consumption, but there is a much greater volume of transactions between dealers and at thre chief markets the sales for five weeks have been 63,725,200 pounds, against 25,377,676 in the same weeks of 1892, when the mills were well employed.

Prices are very strong both here and at London. The iron and steel industry has been staggered, so to speak, by the decision of the supreme court, affecting railroads, since it is apprehended that purchases not only of rails, but of cars, locomotives and bridge materials may be affected. The demand for rails is still considerable and one order is pend ing for 10,000 tons for Japan, but the reduction in Mesabi ore, with the want of agreement as yet among producers of hard ores, tends to encourage the belief in lower prices for finished products and so to hinder buying. The great struggle between the ore producing companies of Mesabi has not yet so far developed that anybody can feel confident as to the future cost of iron. Meantime, with pig accummuland coast. furnaces have stopped production, the price of Besse mer at Pittsburg is a share lower a $10.25, and grey forge at $9, but there are no quotable changes in prices of finished products, although the tone is rather weak. The new combination in cut nails only affects selling prices

It is also feared here that a blockade of Greece by the warships of the powers will hasten a conflict between the Turks and the Greeks on the frontier of Thes saly.

The Hunter people said the reason the opposition broke a quorum was that they feared some more members were coming to Hunter today. The real reason was that the gold demo crats were about to spring the name of Senator H. L. Martin and the Blackburn people were afraid of the risk at this juncture. There being no quorum, the joint session stood adjourned after the announcement of the vote. After the joint session, Senator Martin said that the movement to make him a candidate was wholly unauthor-

The Blackburn forces are beginning o believe there will be no election of United States senator at the extra session, and they will fight accordingly. There seems to be only two chances for an election; first that the gold democrats force the silver democrats to carry out their bluff to elect Brad-ley, and, second, that Senator Henry L. PUBLIC OPINION.

Mr. Payne, of New York, a steadfast tariffite, explains that a duty on hides would not benefit the farmers, because, owing to the cold climate of this country, nature protects the cattle' with thick hair and thin hides; which do not make sole leather. It is so extraordinary for a tariffite to admit that nature's laws deserve any deference that Mr. Payne must be credited with a new departure.-Philadelphia Record. A few tobacco manufacturers-suggestive expression-may undestand the ingredients of tobacco, but the luckless consumer of the manufactured article knows as little concerning what he is using as the female bovine knows of hlp pockets. In England it is known from official reports, that tobacco is adulterated with sugar, alum, lime flour, meal, rhubarb leaves, saltpeter fuller's earth, starch, malt coomings chromate of lead, peat, moss, molasses. burdock leaves, gum, lamp black, red dye, scraps of newspapers, cinnamon stick, cabbage leaves; and brown paper. .A few articles may have been overlooked in this enumeration to satisfy the most exacting taste. This array of flavors is so much more extensive than that of any soda water dispensary on earth that the concocter of flavors for soda water will have to look to his laurels or he will be so effectually distanced as to be out of the race. We have nothing official to guide us in the endeavor to find out what is used in America in adultrating but the broad proposition that no Eu ropean nation can hope to get ahead of us in any line of enterprise is amply sufficient to convince us that the English list is immensely inferior to those inseparable from the method of its construction. Outright concessions to friends-concessions wrung from the committee by inveterate importunity, compromises made in the desper-ation of hopeless confusion, decisions carelessly made in exhaustion and haste, or extorted from the committee by threats of opposition, in one or both houses-all these are there as thick as pebbles in pudding-stone. These are the things which frighten business men, which hold up commerce, which necessitate long wrangling on the floors of congress, costing the government millions, and business men hundreds of millions. Here we have an object lesson which ought to be costly enough to be impressive. The Americans are dull people indeed, if this be not the last political tariff bill. Congress in not fitted to such work. It belongs to a continuous, non-partisan commission always watching the workings of the law, always ready to listen to suggestion, or device, making gradual modifications in individual schedules, as trade develops or revenue needs demand, but never blowing up the whole structure with dynamite, as we now do every four years or less. If this lesson is not sufficiently enforced now. we venture the prediction that it will be before next October.-New York Dry Goods Economist.

Shall we never hear the last of the ascalities of the last legislature? Now comes Mr. E. P. Hauser, a majority populist from Lenoir county, who in eviewing his record in a communication to The Kinston Free Press, says "Several of the committees were packof the people.
