Upon the whole, the week has not peen favorable for farming operations, being too cold and wet throughout the central valleys and lake regious. Corn planting has continued, where not finished, in the southern states, nearly the whole crop having been planted in Oklahoma. In the central ing is progressing, and considerable has been done in Arkansas, Missouri, Virgina and the Carolinas. But little corn has yet been planted in Tennessee and none in Kentucky. Throughout the Ohio valley preparations for planting have been greatly retarded by excessive moisture.

Some further improvement in the condition of winter wheat is reported from Missouri, but the crop continues unpromising in that state. In Indiana a slight improvement is also reported, but much has been plowed up, and unfavorable reports are received from Wisconsin and southern Minnesota. In Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virgina, Virginia and Maryland the crop is growing finely and conditions have been favorable on the Ohio and in southern Michigan and Nebraska. But little spring wheat has yet been sown, and the seeding that has been done is principally confined to the southern portions of the spring wheat region. A little seeding has been done in Minnesota and South Dakota, but none has yet been done in North Dakota, where no snow now remains, but the soil is tog wet for seeding.

Oats seeding is about finished in Vir-ginia, Maryland and Missouri and some seeding has been done in Illinois and New York. The reports from the southern sections generally show the crop to be in satisfactory condition. In Oklahoma, however, some injury has resulted from low temperatures.

Last Year. A Matter of Buttons.

"Have you ever noticed," asked Snyder decided to recommend to congress an apthe calculating barber, according to the Chicago Record, "the reckless extrava-gance shown by tailors in fininshing a propriation as indemnity for the killing by a mob of lynchers of three Italian gance shown by tailors in fininshing a coat? Well, just take a look at your coat. On each sleeve you'll find three buttons which are absolutely unnecessary. Now, you may think that this is a trivial affair, but my figures prove the contrary. I cal-culate that in the United States ther are probably 25,000,000 such coats in existence. With six buttons on each coat this makes a total of 150 00 000 buttons simple citizens of Hahnville, La., August 8th last. The state department has struggled in vain for many months to escape the necessity of assuming responsibility for the killing of these men, and in the at-tempt it has been aided by the authorities of the state of Louisiana with copious reports to establish the assertion that the Italians were killed, not because they were Italians, but because they were sus-nected of having committed a murder s total of 150,00°,000 buttons simply wasted. You've probably never stopped to wasted. You've probably never stopped to consider the encrmous number this is. Well, placed one on top of another in a single pile, they would make a stack 295 miles in height. Allowing a value of 5 cents per dozen, by my figures the money 2 thus thrown away, if invested at 5 per cent., would yield an income at $31,250 per annum. Surprising, isn't it? No wonder people talk about hard times. But that's not all. According to my calculations the thread used in putting on the buttons, al-lowing two inches for each, would strentch once around the earth, with enough left over to reach from here to Carson City. pected of having committed a murder and also they had lost their Italian na tionality by exercising the rights of citi-zens in Louisiana. The passages between Secretary Olney and Baron Fava, the zens in Louisiana. The passages between Secretary Olney and Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador, on these points are regarded as excellent manifestations of the highest diplomatic skill in argument. When Secretary Olney retired he left the case as a legacy to the incoming adminis-tration. He had taken the ground that the killed were not Italian subjects, but the Italian ambassador, by direction of his government, firmly asserted its right to protect the men, and through the evi-dence collected and through the consul at New Orleans, has so far established the soundness of its contention that when over to reach from here to Carson City. At this rate, by my figures, it would take 100 persons, working ten hours a day, just three and one- half years to do the work.
