WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1897.

CONVENTION PERSONALS.

The Messenger was pleased to receive a call yesterday from the Rev. J. B. Taylor, D. D., of Salem, Va., who was the beloved pastor of the First Baptist church, Wilmington, from the fall of 1875 to July, 1883. He is attending the convention, and this is his first visit to Wilmington since he left. He is being most cordially greeted by his old friends. He is a guest of Captain John F. Divine, general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line.

The Rev. W. E. Hurst, of Manchester, Va., is here, attending the convention, and is the guest of Mr. T. W. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ferguson, of Wythe's Mill, Chester county, S. C., are here, taking in the convention. They are stopping with Mr. William Ulrich, on South Front street.

The Messenger had the pleasure yesterday of meeting the Rev. W. E. Robertson, of Baltimore, who is in attendance on the convention. He is representing The Commonwealth, the Baptist paper of Philadelphia.

We were glad to have a call yesterday from the Rev. W. C. McCall, pastor of the Baptist church at Orangeburg, S. C., and president of the Orangeburg collegiate institute.

Among The Messenger's welcome callers yesterday were the Rev. W. H. Strickland, D. D., pastor of Calvary Baptist church, Atlanta, representing The Atlanta Constitution, the Rev. T. P. Lide, of Barnwell, S. C., and the Rev. J. D. Huggins, of Williston, S. C., representing The Columbia State. The first two are guests of Captain G. W. Huggins.

The Messenger had a pleasant call yesterday from Editor E. E. Hilliard, of The Commonwealth, Scotland Neck, N. C., who is attending the convention.

The Rev. W. A. Simmons, of Missouri, is a delegate to the convention and is a guest of Mr. T. W. Wood.

We had the pleasure yesterday of meeting the Rev. J. S. Felix, of Asheville, N. C.

The Rev. R. E. Peele, pastor of Mt. Elam Baptist church, Darlington, S. C., former pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church, Wilmington, is attending the convention and shaking hands with old friends.

The Rev. Jule Lusk, of Hollins, Va., is attending the convention.

The Rev. Thomas Hume, D. D., the distinguished occupant of the chair of English at the University of North Carolina, is attending the convention and was a conspicuous figure yesterday at the college conference of the Southern Baptist convention. At the afternoon conference he delivered a very able address on "Bible Study in Colleges." He is a guest of Mr. C. W. Worth.

Messrs. R. H. Smith and John Carter, of Gainesville, Ga., are in the city attending the convention, and are the guests of Mr. E. J. Powers.

Dr. G. Manning Ellis, professor of anatomy in Chattanooga Medical college, and president of the Chattanooga Medical Society, is in the city in attendance on the convention. He is stopping with Mr. W. A. Willson, 408 Nun street.

Rev. T. H. Stout, of Thomaston, Ga., a prominent preacher in his state and a delegate to the convention, received a telegram yesterday afternoon calling him home to his wife, who was reported to be dying. Mr. Stout has the sympathy of the convention in his sorrow.

Rev. E. W. Marshall, pastor at Union Springs, Ala., is a delegate to the Young People's meeting. He was at one time professor of Greek in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is one of the brightest among the young men.

General Secretary and Mrs. John D. Jordan are stopping with Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Baldwin. They claim to have the best host and hostess in the city.

Ex-Governor Eagle heads the Arkansas delegation.

Congressman W. J. Stone, of Kentucky, is a prominent layman in the convention. He wore the gray and lost a leg under Morgan during the war.

Rev. J. T. Eaden, who represents the Christian Index, of Atlanta, Ga., is in attendance on the convention.

D. Lansing Burruss, who is pastor of the First church of Augusta, Ga., and one of the secretaries of the convention, is here discharging his duties.

Rev. R. D. Carroll, of Smyrna, is in attendance on the convention.

The Rev. J. M. Robertson, D. D., district Bible secretary of the Southern Baptist convention at Dallas, Tex., is a guest of Mr. James Sprunt.

Rev. S. J. Porter and wife, Mrs. George W. Brinson, and the Rev. J. M.

Alderman, of New Bern, are in attendance on the convention.

Mrs. H. B. Duffy, of New Bern, is attending the convention and is the guest of Mrs. McKoy on Orange and Front street.

Rev. George W. Griffin, of New Bern, is attending the convention.

Rev. F. W. Boatwright, of Richmond, who is president of the Richmond college, arrived last evening.

Dr. James Nelson, who is president of The Woman's College, Richmond, Va., is in attendance on the convention. The Doctor has under his supervision something over 200 students, and his college ranks with some of the leading ones of the south.

Mr. William D. Upshaw, of Atlanta, Ga., author of that widely known book "Earnest Willie," which has received so many high compliments, is attending the convention.

Among those attending the convention is Rev. Edmond Hez Swem, pastor of Second Baptist church, Washington, D. C.

Professor C. S. Estes, of Greenville, S. C., is a guest of Mrs. Pigford's No. 112 Mulberry street.

Reported for The Messenger.

North Carolina will, of course, be well represented. Among those who will be present, either as delegates or visitors, the following may be mentioned:

LAYMEN.

N. B. Broughton, of Raleigh, is one of the most prominent and popular laymen in the state. Member of the state board of missions, trustee of Wake Forest college, recording secretary of the Baptist State convention, originator of the Baptist Chautauqua, a clear and forcible writer and an effective speaker, his presence is felt in every assembly of which he is a member. He is a versatile man, an orator and active in many directions, the principal field of his energy and power is the Baptist Tabernacle, of which, from its organization twenty-three years ago, he has been the leading spirit.

John C. Scarborough has devoted his life to education, and no other man has held the office of superintendent of public instruction as long as he. Our school laws and our whole system of public schools bear the impress of his clear head, firm hand and lofty spirit.

N. Biggs, of Scotland Neck, came out of the confederate army with little save his uniform and his old musket. But he has been successful in business and is now the owner of a good estate. He is perhaps the most liberal giver among his brethren. His benefactions, within the last twenty years, reach the neighborhood of $10,000. He is chiefly interested in the work of state missions and in the Baptist orphanage.

Dennis Simmons is the wealthiest man and the most prominent figure in Williamston. Though past his three score years and ten he is a pillar in his church, and superintendent of the Sunday school. Having been left an orphan and poor, he sympathizes deeply with the institutions which are providing for the class whose troubles he knows so well. With, possibly one exception, he has been the most liberal contributor to the orphanage as Thomasville.

E. K. Proctor, Jr., is a leading lawyer of Lumberton. He is a trustee of Wake Forest college and is a leading spirit in the educational enterprises of his town.

Walter E. Daniel, of Weldon, lawyer and banker, is solicitor of his district. He is a native of Greenville, and is now a resident and successful lawyer of Asheville. He is president of the Western Baptist Convention of North Carolina, and superintendent of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church, Asheville. He is also a trustee of Wake Forest College.

E. F. Aydielt is one of the most prominent members of the bar in Elizabeth City. He has been moderator of the Chowan association, which has seventy churches and over 7,000 members.

N. L. Shaw, of Warrenton, merchant and business man, is moderator of the Tar River association, one of the largest Baptist bodies in the state.

W. Early, of Bertie county, merchant and farmer. He is not a speaker but on committees, and in all business matters he is a valuable member.

Professor F. P. Hobgood, of Oxford Female seminary, is a veteran in educational work, though still young in years, a ripe scholar and a graceful writer.

Jno. A. Oates, of Fayetteville, editor of The North Carolina Baptist, has made his journal power among the Baptist activities of the state.

J. W. Bailey, editor-in-chief of The Biblical Recorder, which is one of the oldest and most influential of Southern Baptist journals. He is the youngest editor among the Baptists of the south. He is also a successful man of affairs.

Livingston Johnson, editor of Charity and Children, organ of the Baptist orphanage, Thomasville, is a clear and vigorous writer; a successful editor also.

E. E. Hilliard, of Scotland Neck, has been mayor of his town and president of Vine Hill academy; but he is better known as editor of The Commonwealth. He is not only an attractive writer, but also a speaker of power and charm.

Jas. H. Lassiter, of Henderson, is one of the best known business men of his section. Though 81 years of age, he manages his large enterprises with as much alertness and skill as ever. He has long been prominent in the councils of his brethren.

T. M. Pitman, of Henderson, is an excellent lawyer and also a man of scholarly tastes and habits. He has made a specialty of books and documents bearing on the history of the state. He has one of the largest private collections now in existence.

Professor J. Y. Joyner, of the Normal and Industrial school, Greensboro, is widely known and greatly beloved.

Professor J. W. Gore, of the State University, takes high rank as a teacher of science. He is usually a silent member of deliberative bodies, but on occasions he speaks with rare charm and power.

THE PREACHERS.

H. A. Brown, D. D., has been pastor of the First church, Winston, for more than twenty years. In the matter of continuous service in one field he leads his brethren in the state. The church has grown under his ministry from a "feeble folk" to a great body. Everybody in Winston and throughout the surrounding country knows and loves Dr. Brown. He is a little over 50 years of age and is still in the fullness of his powers.

R. H. Marsh, D. D., is a striking figure anywhere. For several years he has been president of the Baptist State convention. A strong man every way, he is specially strong as a ruler of men. His home is in Oxford.

Dr. J. W. Carter, pastor of the old First church, Raleigh, is a native of West Virginia. He is what his appearance indicates, a boaner, whether in the pulpit or on the platform. Those who hear him once will want to hear him again and often.

Dr. Thos. E. Skinner, of Raleigh, is now on the retired list. Having filled a large measure of activity and usefulness in Tennessee and Georgia as well as his native state, he is illustrating the sweetness and light of a consecrated old age. The North Carolina Baptists should hold him in everlasting remembrance.

Dr. Sims, of the Tabernacle, Raleigh, came to that city from Texas. He brings with him the vigor and enthusiasm of the first of his life, occupying the Tabernacle into one of the greatest churches in the state. He is an able preacher, but his greatest strength is as a master of assemblies.

Dr. R. V. Vanhook, of Scotland Neck, is by common consent, one of the most delightful preachers and one of the choicest spirits in the denomination. An incident in boyhood deprived him of both hands; but he is an expert fisherman and a good shot in the hunting field.

Dr. Jno. Mitchell, known everywhere as the "beloved disciple," is devoting the strength of his closing years to the work of ministerial education. Few men were more widely acquainted among the Baptists of the state.

Dr. J. A. Mundy, of Reidsville, has filled pastorate at Warrenton and Wilson in this state and at Greenville, S. C. He is a native of Virginia. He takes high rank as pastor and preacher.

Dr. J. B. Richardson, of High Point, will hardly be heard from on the floor of the convention, though he is one of the strongest men in the body.

Dr. R. F. Patton, of Morganton, is a singularly bright and versatile man. Few men have done so many things, or done them all so well.

Charlotte will send a strong ministerial force. Dr. A. C. Baum comes from Baltimore as the successor of the late Dr. Pritchard in the Tryon Street church. He brought a good reputation, and, though new to the state, he is rapidly taking hold of the hearts of his brethren. Pruitt and Hankins are young men who are building up new churches in the city.

John E. White is the successor of the late Dr. C. Durham as missionary secretary of the Baptist state convention. It is not an easy place to fill and Dr. White is well qualified to do it. He is a native of Virginia, a man of high moral character and is infusing new life into every department of his work.

A. G. Thomas, of Fayetteville, stands in the front rank of the younger ministers in the state. He came to us from Forest, Va., of which city he is a native. A fearless and earnest man, a clear and vigorous preacher, an industrious pastor and a forcible writer, he makes his mark wherever he goes.

Dr. Thos. Hume, of the state university, is a native of North Carolina. He is a native of South Carolina. He is an excellent preacher, but he is peculiarly gifted as an organizer and manager of men.

Dr. W. H. Felix, of Asheville, will be sure to attract attention. He is pastor of perhaps the largest Baptist church in the state, and is greatly beloved by his people. The demands of his position leave him little time for outside work.

Dr. C. S. Blackwell, of Elizabeth City, is the leader of the young people's movement in the state and he is managing it with remarkable success.

Dr. C. B. Justice, of Rutherford, pastor of his own independent congregation of his own in Rutherford, Polk and McDowell counties.

C. L. Cashwell is slowly, but steadily and surely, building up a strong church in the growing town of Hickory. Mr. Webb, of Shelby, pioneer and church builder, does not speak much, but in hard and successful work on difficult fields he has few superiors.

L. Johnston, of Greensboro, is one of the best of our younger pastors among the Baptists. He brought the prestige of success with him to his present field and it has not forsaken him there.

W. B. Morton, of Roxboro, is a wise man with staying qualities. He was pastor eight or nine years at Weldon and, afterwards, almost as long at Louisburg before going to his present field.

C. W. Scarborough, of Murfreesboro, has charge of large country churches and is quietly filling up a large measure of usefulness.

Dr. W. R. Gwatney, of Wake Forest, as pastor of the college church is crowning a long and fruitful ministry. His name will be long and lovingly remembered in Hillsboro, Chapel Hill, Mocksville, Winston, Raleigh and Greensboro. The houses of worship in the four places last named are due to his wisdom and energy.

L. M. Curtis, of Aulander, is a studying, earnest, thoughtful man. He is one of the most laborious and successful country pastors among the North Carolina Baptists.

G. L. Finch, of Williamston, is a young man. He has already done great things and there are greater things yet to come from his tireless and well directed energy.

The Baptists of Edenton are not easy to please, but they are delighted with their young pastor, Watson.

C. Tyree, of the First church, Durham, is one of the best gifts of Virginia to her sister state. As pastor and preacher he stands in the foremost rank of the North Carolina ministry.

G. H. Church, of Statesville, is a man of many striking qualities. His pastorate in that place has been successful from the first.

The Goldsboro Baptists will proudly send their pastor, Jas. Long, to represent them in the convention.

Eight C. Moore, of Monroe, besides filling the demands of an exacting pastorate, finds time to write poetry and do a large amount of literary journalistic work. He is a young man with a future.

So many men will be more cordially greeted by his brethren than Josiah Elliott, of Hertford. His name does not often appear in the newspapers, but few men of any denomination in the state are doing a larger or better work.

W. C. Adams, of the State University, is achieving good success at Washington.

These men and others equally worthy the North Carolina Baptists will probably send to represent them in the great assembly in Wilmington.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure.

To Join the Greek Army.
Lincoln, Neb., May 6.—Governor Holcomb today acted favorably on the application of Dr. R. L. Giffen, surgeon general of Nebraska national guards, granting him indefinite leave of absence to enlist in the Greek army. Dr. Giffen some time since proffered his services to the Greek government and is said to have received a summons to embark at once.

Two Fatal Fires.
New York, May 6.—The interior of the large cold storage warehouse of the Merchants Refrigerating Company, occupying the upper floors of the five story brick and stone building Nos. 159 to 163 Chambers street, running to Reade street, was almost completely destroyed by fire tonight. The loss will probably amount to more than $500,000. The firemen who entered the basement of No. 161 Chambers street, where the fire first started, were overcome by smoke. Fireman John Reiffhardt missed his way in leaving the cellar and was finally taken out unconscious. He died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital.

Fire in a paint shop at 178 Essex street, on the first floor of a tenement house in a densely populated district gave the firemen much trouble tonight. After the flames had been extinguished the body of an unknown man was found almost burned beyond recognition.

More Deaths from the Bazaar Fire.
Paris, May 6.—Mlle de Chevilly and the Vicomtesse d'Avenel have succumbed to the injuries they received while escaping from the fire at the charity bazaar.

"DR. MILES, Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A widely known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 18, 1895, as follows: "Five years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become unstrung, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness with like never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nervous troubles should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a benefactor to thousands." A. C. LEIMAN, Editor and proprietor of The Laxative.

KIMBALL

Pianos are known for their brilliancy as well as their deep, melodious, full tone and the action is perfection, on which the most difficult runs can be executed. The keys are as pearly and their melody oft likened to rippling waters played upon by gentle zephyrs of spring. The Kimball Organs are also first class and sold of low and easy payments.

WELCOME! WELCOME!

Yes, thrice welcome, to our City by the Sea. Our citizens are expecting a very large crowd to attend the Southern Baptist Convention, and the other churches have kindly offered to lend a helping hand both in entertaining the delegates and offering their churches to their disposal. So, allow me to extend a welcome to as many as can come to these services. The occasion promises to be very fine, coming from the very best material the Southern states can furnish. And, while you are here, visit Carolina Beach and Ocean View and Southport, and perhaps the fort. Carry back with you a remembrance of this happy county of ours, the land of flowers and sunshine.

Perhaps your trunk may go astray and you might need some extra Linen, a New Hat or Sailor, perhaps a new and noble Suit of Clothes. Ladies' skirts, Underwear or percale Shirts, Collars and Cuffs, new Necktie or a pair of Suspenders, Hosiery, Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Umbrellas, Shoes, Slippers, Stationary, Trunks and Valises, if so, call and see us. We are carrying the largest stock of goods in the city—store covering 15,000 feet of floor room, three floors and all very handy to get to, on Front Street, opposite The Orton Hotel.

In new Millinery we have almost everything you can mention. A beautiful line of new Sailors, all prices. All the bargains that I have to offer in new Silks and Dress Goods; Lace Curtains and Window Shades, Percales, Shawls and Organdies, Laces and Embroidery, Slippers and Shoes, I have not room to tell about, but would like to show you when you are in the city. I truly hope you may all get pleasant homes and enjoy yourselves and spend a pleasant week with us and, if you or your friends should need anything in the Dry Goods line to use or to carry back home and see me and I promise, if possible, you will get waited on all right and buy more goods for less money than it has ever been your good fortune to do before.

You will find us at 112 North Front street opposite The Orton hotel.
