Unveiling of the Statue in Philadelphia. The Gift of the Society of the Cincinnati to the City-The Grand Parade-The Banquet at Night.

Philadelphia, May 15.-Here, in the city which first placed on his brow the laurel of achievement, the memory of George Washington was honored today in monumental bronze. All possible pomp marked the ceremonies. The cord which release the swaddling flags from the figures of the first ruler of the republic was drawn by its latest ruler. Surrounding him were men in whose veoins runs the blood of those first patriots who battled with Washington and with him made possible the scene enacted today. The union which they formed has grown to a mighty organization under the name of the Society of the Cincinnati.

Major William Wayne, president of the Cincinnati, who formally presented the monument to the city, traces his lineage straight to "Mad Anthony," and William W. Porter, the orator of the day, is a grandson of David Rittenhouse Porter, twice governor of Pennsylvania, and a great grandson of General Andrew Por-

Then came the unveiling by President McKinley and the salute of twenty-one guns by the artillery and by the foreign and American war vessels in the Delaware. This con-cluded, President McKinley spoke briefly The oration was then delivered by Mr. Porter. The formal presentation of the memorial by the society to the city was made by Major Wayne to Mayor Warwick, with short addresses by both, and then the mayor transferred it to the Fairmount park commission, which body exercises jurisdiction over the great pleasure ground

President McKinley and his distinguished companions reviewed the military parade. It was well on in the afternoon when the procession was over and the party were driven to their hotels to dress for the banquet of the Society of the

IN MEMORY OF WASHINGTON. CHARLOTTEIN HOLIDAY ATTIRE.

Gaily Bedecked for the Great Events of the Coming Week-Echoes of the Baptist Convention-Singing the Messenger's Praises - The Woman's Exposition a Grand Success-Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows-State Dental Association.

(Correspondence of The Messenger.)

Charlotte, N. C., May 15. The delegates and visitors from Charlotte, who attended the Baptist convention at Wilmington have all returned highly pleased with their visit to the seashore. They all pronounce the convention one of the most successful ever held, and the flattering terms in which they speak of the Wilmington people for their generous and open-handed hospitality makes the heart of an old Wilmingtonian throb with a deep feeling of grateful pleasure.

Dr. Barron, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Charlotte, last Sunday morning, made a special talk relative ter, who was on Washington's staff in to his visit to the convention, explaining to the congregation some of the important matters which came up for discussion during his stay. In the course of his remarks he paid a glowing tribute to the good people of Wilmington for the large-hearted manner in which they cared for the personal comfort of the delegates and visitors, and spoke feelingly of the broad-minded way in which all denominations united in placing the city at the disposal of the convention.

Dr. Barron, although he has only been in Charlotte a short time, is, probably, one of the most popular ministers in the city today, and has, doubtless, gathered around him more warm, personal friends of all denominations than any other minister has ever succeeded in doing in the same length of time. In the pulpit Dr. Barron is forceful, eloquent and impressive, and delivers his sermons with so much true feeling and genuine earnestness that he never fails to make a deep and lasting impression on his hearers. Outside of the pulpit he is genial, warm-hearted and pleasant, and in his every day life he greets the world with a smile, indicating a heart full of love for all humanity; in fact, his manner is such that all are instinctively drawn toward him, and the Baptists of Charlotte are, indeed, fortunate in having such a lovable

The grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of North Carolina held their annual meeting in Charlotte this week, and Charlotte has seldom entertained a finer looking or more representative body of men than the delegates which assembled to represent this noble order. The lodge met in business session on Tuesday morning and immediately began work which was pushed forward with such characteristic energy and dispatch that all matters had been attended to and the Greece Blames Turkey for the Fighting | lodge adjourned on Wednesday evening, nearly all of the delegates leaving for their respective homes on Thursday morning. The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. J. A. Bell, one of Charlotte's brightest young lawyers in which he covered himself with glory as an orator, and won the hearts of the assembled delegates and friends with his well chosen words of welcome and

The Women's exposition of the Carolinas threw its doors open to the public on Tuesday morning of this week, and the attendance has been all that could be desired, and it looks as if the enterprise would be an unbounded success. No expense or pains has been spared to make it one of the most successful expositions ever held in the Carolinas, and, in fact, it would seem that the management has been almost too lavish in the expenditure of money in order to make a complete and up-todate exhibition, when the low price of admission, 25 cents, is taken in consideration. However, the building is thronged daly, the attendance last night being 1.200, and, as far as can now be foreseen, it is certain to be a most successful affair in every partic-

The opening address was delivered by Mrs. Robert Cotten, that gifted, brilliant and distinguished lady of North Carolina, and handsomely did she acquit herself of the task. A visitor coming into Charlote at the present time might be led to suppose he was in a northern town on the 4th of July. All of the hotels and promi nent places are being gaily decorated with handsome bunting, the work being in charge of a professional decorator from Richmond. The city already presents a gala-day appearance, and when the decorations are completed it will be beautiful in the extreme. This is being done in honor of the celebrations to be held on the 20th and 21st in commemeration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. On those dates the bicycle and other races will be held, and Charlotte will, probably, entertain the largest number of visitors in her history. The national meet on the 21st will be of peculiar interest, and it is hoped that Wilmington will be duly represented by a large number of wheelmen and their friends. The North Carolina Dental Society met in Charlotte yesterday, transacted their business, adjourned last night, and most of the members returned to their homes this morning. The meeting was very interesting and harmonious, and there is no doubt but that great good is done the profession of dentistry by the exchange of ideas and the new and unique methods introduced by the various members. The courtesies of the city were extended the visiting dentists yesterday afternoon. Dr. C. A. Bland invited them to make a tour of the city, and then be the guests of the Manufacturers' Club. which was done. They were all highly pleased with the appearance of the city, which never looked loveller than at the present time, in spring attire. praise showered on the members of the

Munyon Tells What Not To Do. MORNING - JOY

Take No Medicine Unless You Are Sick.

Munyon decries dosing and doping. Why should the glorious springtime be the signal for a deluge of physic, and the golden harvest be associated with the excessive drinking of rum and whiskey disguised as bit-ters? Medicine should only be given to the sick, and should always be administered with gentleness and discretion. Medicine should be to Nature only a delicate rebuke of error and a kind encouragement of the physical forces for good. The hard work of recovery is done by Nature itself. The human body is more delicate than the finest mechanism, more sensitive than the tenderest plant. To shatter the liver with mercury, to madden the nerves with morphine and chloral, and to flay and burn the stomach with every poison black-listed with skull and cross-bones, is torture more demonic than the Inquisition. This is a world of compensations.

For every valley there is a corresponding mountain, for every darkness there is a corresponding light, and for every disease there is a corresponding cure. Not all such cures have yet been found, but Munyon has discovered fifty-seven of them. Each one of Munyon's cures is a specific for some particular disease, and for nothing else. Each one of club for the elegant way in which the visitors were entertained. The Messenger, during the Baptist convention, covered itself with glory. The issue of a daily paper carrying from eight to twelve pages of original matter was truly a new departure in North Carolina journalism and the praise which have been so lavishly bestowed on them for their push and enteprise displayed in this particular. The editions carrying the cuts of the Wilmington churches and other points of interest in the city was one of the finest pieces of newspaper work ever done in this state, and the Wilmington people may congratulate themselves on having in their city a paper which has demonstrated its ability to ably grasp all opporunities, and to rise up fully capable of coping with any occasion which may present itself.

A Fast-Flying Trein.

A Washington man has invented a fast flying train and track, both of unique construction, which The New York Herald describes. The track, it says, is only twenty-four inches wide between the rails. The new road will require a rail having the ordinary width across the top, but it will be nine and one-half inches deep, or high. They are laid two feet apart and tied, or bolted, together by heavy steel braces, and it is expected that unusual depth of rail will give a solidity in construction never before attained On the outside of each main rail, and six inches from it, rise heavy uprights, two feet in height, supporting on their upper ends angle iron gurders, forming a flat, continuous auxiliary railing, upon which cushion any toppling tendencies of the cars. Motive power for the road is to be electricity. The cars and train of the inventor's creation are unique like his roadway. The body of each car is to be nearly cylindri cal, having only the flattened area made by the floor. The inside height, or head room, will be about nine feet, in place of the usual twelve feet, thusreducing to the lowest limits the resistance of air pressure against the outer surface. The width will be the same as adopted by the wider guage roads. The forward ends of the cars will be approximately coneshaped, giving to the train the appearance of a series of huge naval torpedoes coupled. in a row. The sharp nose of the forward car is provided with curved offsets or pilot boxes, from which the coming engineer will nervously scan the dizzy, whirling scenery ahead. The meat of the invention is to be found in the trucks. Wheels five feet high, carrying on each axle a specially designed 100 horse-power electric motor, are considered the proper thing to so high that they pass up through the floor over a foot, and the seats are arranged inside the car so as to be lo-
