Constantinople, May 18 .- There was a sudden and unexpected change in the political situation shortly before noon today. Russia quietly showed her hand, thereby forcing Germany and Turkey out of the game, to all intents

Last night and early mis morning, Turkey, supported by Germany, was practically defying Russia, France, Austria, Great Britain and Italy, insisting upon the annexation of Thessaly, in addition to a huge war indemnity and seemingly was determined to march upon Athens.

London, May 18 .- Speaking tonight at the Junior Constitutional Club, Lord Salisbury touched briefly on the comolications in southeastern Europe. The premier said he regretted that political easons precluded him from saying nuch on the subject of foreign affairs. The armistice which had been declared was due to pressure exerted by the six powers, especially Russia. It was a very important step, giving time for reflection and negotiation, but it did not seriously diminish the difficulties which had to be faced. Neither Turkey nor Greece ought to be under an illusion as to the real state of feeling in the United Kingdom. His lordship referred to the sympathies of England for Greece as founded upon classic association, liberalism in politics and community of religious conviction, as well as upon other influences; but such considerations as these, he said, could not be suffered to guide the policies of nations, for their policy was to maintain peace by the strict observance of international engagements.

SENATOR MASON

MAKES AN URGENT APPEAL FOR THE CUBANS.

He Insists on Our Government Putting Stop to the Spanish Barbarous Warfare in the Island-He Declares Vehemently for Cuban Freedom-Senatur Hoar Replies in a Sarcastic Strain-Senator Burrows to Speak Today-More Tariff Bill Amendments.

SENATE. Washington, May 18 .- Senator Stew art, of Nevada, gave notice of an amendment which he would offer to the tariff bill. It provides that there shall be, at all times, a reserve fund in the treasury of $50,000,000

During the day a number of bills were passed, among them one appropriating $25,000 to Richmond college, Richmond, Va., for war losses. The conference report on the Indian appropriation bill was presented and agreed to. The presiding officer named Mr. Pasco, of Florida, as one of the board of visitors to West Point, vice Senator

Walthall declined. Promptly at 2 o'clock the presiding officer laid the Morgan Cuban resolution before the senate and Senator

The senator began with sarcastic reference to the "polite delays" of the in delaying action day after day. Day after day the American people had awaited that action, had expected that at last the barbarities of the Spaniard would be checked, until at last it seemed as though the voice of the American people was to remain silent while the "sale of girls, the murder of children and the barbarities which the Spaniard calls war" proceeds in Cuba. The senator declared it was time to put aside the diplomatic subterfuge "language was to be used to conceal thought." It was time to act; to carry out the platform of the republican party and to speak here and now in behalf of Cuba. He referred to "that splendid gentleman" in the presidential chair and to the president's Cuban mesin proof of the serious conditions prevailing in Cuba. In sarcastic tones he said that with this statement that 800 Americans were suffering, we passed a resolution in substance saying: "Please, kind Mr. Spaniard, let us bring home our Americans and protect them under our flag." And yet there is no war in

"If 800 American citizens are being driven like swine," exclaimed Senator Mason, "compelling us to send from our shore to protect them, in the name of God if it is not war, what is it?" Did the senate propose to give notice that Coxey's army had moved to the island of Cuba and 800 members of that army are tramps. Would the senate delay while 800 Americans are suffering because "the brute" who commands the Spanish army drives them into towns? The senator's remarks were punctuated with applause but up to this time there was no vociferous demonstration.

Snator Mason turned his attention to the remarks favorable to England made by Senator Wellington, of Maryland, yesterday. "Yes we owe her (England) a good deal," declared Senator Mason, "but we settled a good part of it at Bunker Hill." The senator read newspaper extracts erjected Senator Wellington, "that the senate of the United States is to have as a basis for a resolution of belligershowing the condition of affairs in

Senator Mason replied that the senate must act on its best information; murders his boy and conceals the fact, the people must rely on the American correspondent to get at the facts. The senator paid a glowing tribute to those correspondents, some of whom had risked and given up their lives to present the facts to the American people, He referred to the death of Correspondent Crosby, who fell on the field during an engagement.

"And yet," suggested Senator Galinger ironically," there is no war in Proceeding, Senator Mason said: When you get at the deep undertone of the conscience of the Christian peofreedom in Cuba. Let the Spaniard go back to his own land and let us have no slaves upon our continent. You can call 'fingo' as long as you like. You may define 'jingo' as long as you please. Patrick Henry was a 'jingoist' according to the definition of the gentlemen who are trying to keep the insurgents in Cuba. Every man who had rather fight than to buy peace at the dishonor f his wife or his child has been called 'jingoist' from the days of early republics until now. I am for the liberty, for the independence of Cuba on better and broader ground. I propose better environment not for trade r commerce, not for the extension of territory-and this is the difference between the ordinary English lawmaker and ourselves.

At another point Senator Mason exclaimed: "Mr. President, if we did not have a ship in the world, and every gun was melted into a plow share; if every bayonet was buried, if every ship we ever had was sunk into the middle five gentlemen in foreign costumes rep- of the sea, there is no nation in the world, much less Spain, that would ever dare strike our colors or invade Am-

Senator Mason's closing words were as follows: "Mr. President, no one fears war, but if to keep our promise with Cuba and protect her means war, butchery of women and children means institute, and Miss Macfarland, the est daughters of brave patriots means an insult to Spain and war, in the name of God let it come and come quickly, for I tell you whether we speak or not the civilization of the veterinary surgeon for treatment ex- James Sprunt Institute, on next Tues- Nazarene is upon us; whether you sleep bound hand and foot by the rules of order, or whether you shall speak like brave American men, the march of the vail and the island of Cuba under the providence of God shall be free." to the speech which had preceded as 'exuberant oratory" and said sarcastically that-notwithstanding it, the power of international law would prevail. The only effect of recognition would be to give Spain the right to search our ships at sea and to take away from American citizens in Cuba all hope of recompense for injury done them. He alluded sarcastically to Senator Mason's "innocent and youthful ardor." He expressed surprise that "all this great brass band of talk about utrages on women and children praciced at our doors" should be followed by "this squeaking morsel of a resoluion." The senate, he said, should ask the president to use his good offices with Spain to secure peace and the independence of Cuba, and that was what the republican platform proposed He would have the facts found as a court found them before entering judgment and would then say to Spain We have found such and such facts on which we propose to act, and if you don't stop that war we"ll stop it," and he would not stand in the senate and brag and sputter. Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, said hat while he shared in the sympathy expressed for Greece and other afflicted countries, yet it was not for the United States to step forward and see that justice prevailed the world over. He deplored the lightness with which war was discussed. So far as he was concerned, he feared war, particularly it view of our defenseless coast and inadequate armament. We should make ourselves fit for war before talking so manfully of a resort to arms. Senator Burrows, of Michigan, then secured the floor for a speech, but as was 4:15 o'clock p. m. he yielded for an executive session, saying he would o on at 2 o'clock tomorrow. At 4:40 p. m. the senate adjourned.
