SIX BURGLARIES. Mr. T. W. Wood's Safe Cracked and Robbed in Daylight on Sunday—Five Other E Places of Business Broken Into—No Clue to the Robbers-Believed to be Boys.

On Saturday night between 10: o'clock and Sunday morning some one enterd the millinery store of Mrs. E. M. Strock in the second story of the brick building on Second street between Market and Dock streets, and robbed the money box of $3 in cash and a note for $60 given to Mrs. Strock by her brother-in-law, Mr. Labon Peterson. Mrs. Strock says she closed the store at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, leaving the cash and note in a small box which she had placed in a drawer. Before leaving she fastened the windows and doors, but on Sunday morning she found a window open on the Dock street side, and a ladder leaning against the side of the building. The window sash was broken, and it is believed that the burglar reached the window and got in by means of the ladder. The door leading from the store into the hall was found locked but a side door had been forcd open. The cash box, which had been broken open, was found underneath the window and near it 20 cents in change was picked up. The police were notified, but there is no clue to the robber ed the barber shop of Churchill Moore on Front street between Market and Dock streets. He went down to the shop Sunday about 9:30 o'clock and found one of the back windows open. He, however, did not miss antyhing. He thinks it was a small boy that com-

On Saturday night a burglar also paid a visit to the store of Adam Brown, colored, in Front street market. The safe was tampered with but without success. The thief took some change from the money drawer, and a few cigars from the show case: It is believed that the thief was a boy.

drawers. The thief stole Mr. Plummer's money and $2 of Mr. Wood's change, but left in the floor a couple of tin boxes containing about $3 in coppers and silver change. A chissel and a bunch of keys were also found in the floor. It is said entrance was effected through one of the back windows. A dusty old table outside, just under the window, bore a very small track, but boy could not have broken open the iron drawers of the safe. The thief made his exit through the back door

It was subsequently discovered that someone had entered the real estate office of Mr. W. M. Cumming next door to Mr. Wood, having gotten in at one of the rear windows. The drawers was missed. The safe was locked was found out that the keys left in Mr. Wood's store had been taken from Mr. Cumming's office.

Messrs. C. W. Yates & Co.'s book store was also entered between 12 m. and 5 p. m. on Sunday. The burglar climbed on a shed at the rear of the store, took a glass from the skylight of the shed and by this means got inside of the shed. He then prized open one of the rear windows, breaking an oak bar that held it, and got into the store. Two money drawers were smashed but they contained no money. It is not known whether any goods were stolen or not. This is the third raid on Messrs. Yates & Co., in the past

The police worked on these cases yesterday but at last accounts had not got on trail of the burglar.
